LAYMEN INSIST ON SPEECHES
 Delegates to Nebraska Conference Cannot Forego Pleasure. MAKE THEIR GENERAL DELEGATES

Nebraska Will Send to Minneapolis Four Members of Laity—Ministers Are Not Yet Selected.
 (From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Whether members of a church convention should enjoy the privilege of making speeches in the endorsement of favorite candidates for delegates to a national conference provided considerable discussion at the initial session of the lay electoral conference of the Methodist church, which convened at University Place today.

The contention that it smacked too much of political methods; that it bordered too closely upon ring tactics and that it was contrary to the avowed rule for the conduct of religious assemblies failed to impress itself upon the majority of the delegates and the motion to dispense with such speeches was defeated. The successful faction contended that for purely informational purposes nominating speeches are invaluable and a distinct aid in the selection of men for any representative office.

Following the adjustment of this matter the election of the four laymen to attend the general conference at Minneapolis next May was made: George E. Tobey, Lincoln; George E. Spurlock, York; R. B. Windham, Plattsmouth, and Chancellor C. A. Fulmer of Wesleyan university.

The general conference is the highest legislative body of the Methodist Episcopal church and its deliberations, with those of the ministerial conference, which also has four delegates from this state, are supreme. These bodies meet once every four years.

Continuance of Sunday Laws.
 A resolution urging all members of the lay electoral conference to work for the continuance of the present Sunday laws in this state was adopted without discussion. At the morning session a resolutions committee, to which will be submitted other resolutions and memorials to come up at subsequent sessions of the gathering, was named.

The election of delegates to the general ministerial conference, which is also to be held in Minneapolis next May, featured the sessions of the ministerial conference during the morning portion of the day. Unlike the methods pursued in the lay conference, the clergy of the church makes no nominations, selecting its delegates instead by secret balloting.

During the morning Mrs. Allie McLaughlin, superintendent of the Methodist hospital at Omaha, reported on the condition of that institution. She said that it was the most successful in the present time worth $22,000, with no debts. Of the number treated in the hospital 22 per cent of the cases are gratuitous. The institution has no endowment, but, according to the superintendent, has been loyally supported by the Methodists of the entire state.

LEXINGTON, Neb., Sept. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—The west Nebraska conference today unanimously elected Rev. B. F. Galtier, the host of the conference, for first reserve delegate and Rev. R. H. Thompson of Broken Bow for second reserve delegate to the general conference at Minneapolis.

Nebraska
Lincoln Welcomes Sizer with Band
 Big Reception Tendered President of Postmasters' Association on Return Home.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Edward R. Sizer, postmaster of this city and elected president of the National Association of First Class Postmasters at Omaha yesterday, arrived in Lincoln today and was given a monster reception by local friends and postal employees. The party was met at the station by 300 members of the local force headed by the employees' band.

A parade was formed and the newly elected president of the postmasters' association was escorted to the federal building, where informal speeches and a reception occupied more than an hour.

The delivery of the official address of welcome by H. M. Bushnell, who was postmaster at La Follette banquet last evening, bore testimony to the nonpolitical character of the gathering, but its effect was somewhat counteracted by the declaration of former Senator E. J. Burkett that postmasters always had and always ought to be mixed up in politics.

Ralph Johnson presided at the reception and the list of speakers included former Postmaster H. M. Bushnell, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General P. V. De Graff, Superintendent of Rural Delivery E. G. Thomson, E. J. Burkett, Custodian H. C. M. Burgess, Postmaster L. J. Ecker of South Omaha and Postmaster C. O. Blair.

Former Postmaster H. M. Bushnell furnished the foundation for what had the appearance of a point debate when he suggested a hope that the time might come postmasters would be appointed not for political reasons but because of efficiency in the management of the office. Such ability, he declared, had been shown by Mr. Sizer.

State Board Rejects Bids for Buildings
 Figures Submitted for New Structures at Lincoln Hospital Are Too High.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The State Board of Public Lands and Buildings today rejected six bids which were offered on the construction of the two new buildings to be erected at the Lincoln hospital for the insane. Rejection came because of the fact that the bids exceeded the amount appropriated by the last legislature for the pair of new buildings. The sum of $50,000 was set out for each of the structures, while the bids opened today ranged from $53,000 to $74,000.

An enactment of the last legislature provides that all state buildings owned by the state be constructed within the appropriations made for them by that body.

DETAILS OF ARNOLD CASE
 Campbell Citizen Gives Explanation of Facts in Connection with Stepdughter's Death.

H. J. Arnold of Campbell has written The Bee in explanation of the incidents in connection with the death of Florence Fletcher at Lincoln. He encloses the following explanation of the case as published in the Campbell Citizen:

Half-Minute Store Talk
 One of our salesmen sold a suit to a man living 'way up in Minnesota—a great big busy fellow. After the man got home he decided that the pants and vest should be made a little larger and sent them back to us with a request to make the changes. We would never look right. Did we do as most stores would have done—made us a new suit? No, we would get through so cheaply? No, we wrote for him to send the coat and we would pick him out a suit that would measure up to his ideas. We just mention this to show our customers how carefully we guard our customers' interests. We often say among ourselves—we wonder how far we would go to satisfy a customer.

Have You Looked at Our Fall Furnishings?
 Have you examined our shirts, feasted your eyes on our neckties, seen our hats, our suits, our entire line? Until you can say 'yes,' you've something still to learn.

Shirts, $1.00 up

 Other things satisfactorily priced.

There is only one right hat for Autumn, it's a Soft Hat
 And we've enough variety in our stock to please the most exacting taste. Always priced below normal.

Suits $350 up
Berwick $3.00
Kingsons $2.50

OMAHA ROAD NONRESIDENT?
 Allegation Made in Application to Supreme Court of State.

QUESTION IN WAYNE DEPOT CASE
 Attorney Ayer Seeks to Have Appeal from State Railway Commission Order Taken to Federal Court.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Sept. 15.—(Special.)—For the ostensible purpose of defeating an order issued by the Nebraska State Railway commission, the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad today filed a motion in the state supreme court asking the removal of a suit from that tribunal to the circuit court of the United States.

The company's action comes with the avowed intention of resisting an order of the Railway commission requiring it to build a depot at Wayne, same to be constructed of some material other than wood.

Nonresidence Alleged.
 The motion shows that the company takes the position it is not a citizen of Nebraska, although the railroad has been doing business in the state many years.

 THE HOME OF QUALITY CLOTHES

You'll Notice
 that the men you single out as good dressers put on their new fall suits early in the season

These men know that by selecting early they are able to choose clothes of exceptional becomingness—because stocks are in the best possible condition for careful choosing.

Such men are not only careful in what they choose but they are careful about where they do their choosing.

They must feel assured that whatever they choose will be right in every particular. That's why about 90% of the really good dressers who come out early in their new clothes are today wearing our garments.

They get here better and more stylish clothes than even the best tailor can produce—and at half his price. They get a range of choice fully three times that offered by other stores. You had better get that suit right now—conditions are exactly right for your everlasting satisfaction.

The Fall Suits in Fancy Fabrics are more charming than for many seasons past. The colors are not so flashy and the models are more genteel. At the same time there is enough color variation to suit most any fellow with a liking for out-of-the-ordinary effects, and the models are nifty without any attempt at over ornamentation. To see them is to decide instantly to have one.

Do You Know Why Our True Blue Serges excel?
 We'll tell you briefly. They are the finest twilled fabrics ever produced to sell at like prices. They are woven double chain and warp which gives them a body that will stand up. They are dyed by a new process which makes the color unfadeable. They are made into perfect fitting garments by master tailors. With all these points of superiority—they cost even less than common serges. The only genuine are King-Swanson True Blues.

If the Business Men of this Town Only Knew
 That our suits are not produced to rival our competitors in the clothing field—but the custom tailor's product—how many of them would still adhere to the old, slow-going process of Business Suits to order? If they also knew that on our second floor is a magnificent wardrobe section devoted to suits for business and professional men—where every suit is priced at about half the tailor's price—wouldn't they be relieved? Better come in, Mr. Business man, and see what we can do for you.
