NOT DIFFICULT FOR MANY

Bee Booklovers' Contest Pictures Easy for Vast Majority.

REWARD LIBERAL FOR EVERYONE

Even Though None of Grand Prizes is Won, There is Much Compensation in Knowledge Gained by Work.

The pictures that have been published so far in the great Booklovers' contest of this paper have been comparatively easy. Not a person who possesses a Bee catalogue has had any trouble in solving them. By reading down the list of titles of The Bee booklet it is easy for any one to name the title of the books.

Of course, some people, who do not possess a catalogue, have experienced some trouble in getting the answers. But a little extra industry for those who do not have the catalogues, will bring to mind the titles of the books so far suggested by the pictures.

It is estimated that at least 5,000 people are now daily studying The Bee's Booklovers' contest puzzles. There never was a game that aroused so much interest in the territory covered by The Bee. The game is so highly entertaining that everybody, no matter whether well educated or not, can enjoy it and reap all the benefits.

Reward for Work.

The beauty of this great contest is that even though you do not pull down one of the prizes, yet you have been richly repaid for your time because you have gained a knowledge of the world's literature that you did not have before. If you take part in this contest you are entertained daily and receive a certain share of enjoyment that does not come to other readers of the daily paper.

Another attractive feature about The Bee's contest is that those who take part in it do not have to pay for the puzzles. There is no soliciting of subscriptions and no paying out of money. It is absolutely the cleanest kind of a newspaper game that you can enter.

Still another feature of this game is the one that permits you to enter any time, and yet be on equal footing with those who began with the opening day. None of the coupons in answer to the puzzles are to be sent in until the seventy-five pictures have been published, which date will be about the middle of June. If you have missed any of the coupons and pictures, The Bee business office will the latter part of this week, supply you with them upon request. The Bee also will sell you the catalogues for 25 cents or send them to you by mail for 30 cents.

An Ugly Gash should be covered with clean bandages saturated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Heals burns, wounds, sores, piles, etc. For sale by Boston Drug Co.

Peaceful Bovine Hates to Be Moved from Her Old Home

Considerable Commotion Follows an Effort to Lead Her Into a Moving Van.

There was great commotion in the neighborhood of Thirty-fourth and Thirty-third and Dodge streets, when the cow, which, according to sympathetic neighbors, has not been away from her barn for three years, was moved.

The cow is a dull colored, speckled bovine with melancholy eyes and hoofs which have grown from six to eight inches beyond those of ordinary cow's hoofs from lack of exercise in the open fields. Her mental state was so disturbed that it took a good part of the morning to get her from her barn to the big yellow moving wagon which carried her off.

The cow, which has been the subject of conversation in the neighborhood for some time, is the property of Walter S. Jardine, 102 South Thirty-third street.

DAMAGES ASKED FOR INJURY

Harold N. Blackman, formerly an employee in the repair department of the Western Electric company, started suit for $30,000 damages against the company in district court Friday, alleging that through its negligence and carelessness he lost the thumb and index finger of his left hand while operating a circular saw. The accident occurred January 2. Roy B. King, foreman in the repair department, who directed the boy to use the saw, is made a co-defendant. It is alleged the saw was not properly provided with shields to protect the operator. Mrs. Flora N. Blackman, mother of the boy, acts for him in bringing the action.

OSTEOPATHS WILL MEET HERE

Twelfth Annual Meeting of Nebraska Association Will Be Held at Millard Hotel.

The twelfth annual meeting of the Nebraska Osteopathic association will be held in Omaha on Friday and Saturday of next week. Besides the important papers to be read there will be an election of candidates for the state board. Dr. A. T. Hunt of this city is president and he will make the opening address.

Among the prominent visitors to be here will be Dr. L. Van H. Gardine, professor of nervous diseases at the American School of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo. The Millard hotel has been selected as headquarters for the osteopaths.

Pioneer Omaha Woman Celebrates 80th Birthday

Mrs. Clara Roeder was 80 years of age Friday and in celebration of the event her sons and daughters assembled from east and west for a family reunion.

Mrs. Roeder has lived here fifty-four years and has seen Omaha grow from a struggling little frontier village to a hustling mid-west city.

Mr. and Mrs. Roeder, both of whom were born in Germany, came to Omaha with their three children from Zanesville, O., in 1857. They set up housekeeping on fourteenth and Farnam streets in a little cottage, which has since been torn down to make way for the business houses. Later they moved to Twelfth and Harney streets, where Mr. Roeder started his drug store, which was one of the first in Omaha. Mr. Roeder died in 1873 and the family moved to their present home on Sherman avenue, where Mrs. Roeder now lives with her daughter, Miss Frances Roeder.

The children of Mrs. Roeder who are present at the reunion are: Mrs. Charles Bowinell of Pittsburgh (Pauline Roeder), Mrs. G. A. Kinkel of Buffalo, N. Y., (Margaret Roeder); Mrs. A. E. Morris of Buffalo (Clara Roeder); Mrs. Gustav Kolls of Grand Island (Matilda Roeder); Dr. Julius Roeder and Miss Frances Roeder of Omaha. Mrs. Roeder's sister and niece, Mrs. August Ehinger and Miss Clara Ehinger, of Fort Madison, Ia., are also here for the birthday reunion.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

No matter in what way an old sore or ulcer first commenced, whether from a wound, cut, or bruise, or from the ulceration of a wart, pimple or mole, or even if it came without apparent reason, the fact that it does not heal shows that bad blood is responsible for the place. While the circulation remains impure the nerves and tissues of the flesh around the place are constantly being fed with unhealthy matter and the fibres are thus prevented from knitting together and healing. Purify the blood and the place MUST heal, its cause having been removed. S.S.S. cures old sores and chronic ulcers because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It removes from the circulation every impurity, and so enriches the blood that it nourishes the tender, sensitive flesh, and causes a knitting together of all fibrous tissue and thus heals the place. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.
