Trying New Machine, LONDON, Sept. 17 .- Lieutenant B. A. ammell of the British aviation school at Farnborough, was killed today while making a flight at Henden. Cammell was an experienced aviator and competed in the British aviation circuit race reently for the Daily Mail priss, but today he was making his first flight in a new machine. He completed the first circuit without mishap, and it is supposed that the accident was due to his taking a turn too quickly. The machine turned over and fell ninety feet. Cammell died of his injuries before reaching the hospital.
