

The "Vassar" Was an immediate favorite at every eastern school. Omaha girls were quick to take it up as soon as we received the first shipment. It's a chic little felt which may be folded to the merest bundle, as shown in the illustration—just the thing to hang in a locker or stow away in a coat sleeve, always comes out as fresh and unwrinkled as new. Can be worn turned up in front and side, or lends itself readily to any shape which strikes your fancy. Comes in red, tan, grey, blue and black; a tassel and cord form a natty trimming and give a hint of the dividing line of crown and brim—

riors, who are said to have vowed to take his life. On August 12, Paul, the 17-year-old son of Commander Kurosch of the cruiser Admiral Makaroff, was murdered at Oger. On the eve of the assassination he received a letter saying that the Right fighting organization on the demand of the Heisingers fighting organization, wished to inform him that he had been sentenced to death, "to expiate the blood which your worthless father spilled in Heisingers."

Old Lover Has His Revenge on Grover KANSAS CITY, Sept. 18.—William Grover, a young farmer living ten miles southeast of this city, and his wife were attacked in their bed early today by a man said by Mrs. Grover to have been an old lover of hers, whom she killed with a knife thrust. The man escaped.

Two Killed During the Storm in Chicago CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Two persons were killed, twenty injured and a property damage estimated at $500,000 resulted early today from a storm which was a remarkable combination of lightning, thunder, wind, rain and hail. It swept through the city from the west and continued for several hours.

Narrow Escape for Mrs. Belva Lockwood WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Fire early today endangered the life of Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood, the suffragist leader, who was the first woman lawyer admitted to practice before the United States supreme court, and who twice was a candidate for the presidency of the United States. The blaze had made good headway when it was discovered by a roomer, who, dashing through a flame-swept corridor, awakened Mrs. Lockwood and eight other sleepers.

PLOTNER AND MRS. QUINN BOUND OVER AT MITCHELL MITCHELL, S. D., Sept. 18.—(Special Telegram)—Rather unexpectedly to the general public the preliminary examination of Luther Plotner and Mrs. Kate Quinn was held this afternoon. State Attorney Herbert put the case on this afternoon to avoid the large crowd anticipated that would be present when the examination was held and not to exceed seventy-five people were in the court room when Judge Drake opened the case.

Getting Ready to Make Sugar. SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special)—Work is being rushed at the sugar factory to get to grinding, if possible, by next Monday. With the harvest of about 50,000 tons of beets actually in sight the management is endeavoring to get started early. The run will probably be nearly four months. With a payroll of 2,000 a day and about $600,000 paid to feed growers for the crop, aside from the feeding of 80,000 sheep and several thousand cattle in this vicinity, business will be good here this winter.

TAFT CALLS ON COURT CRITICS TO MAKE GOOD (Continued from First Page.) the expressions used in it to define its object and what it was proposed therein to denounce as unlawful were not new, but they were quite broad and indistinctly to require judicial construction to settle their meaning. Congress was dealing with a subject matter in respect to which it may be assumed that the legislators themselves were not clear as to the exact limitations of the meaning of the words, and that they were passing. They knew there was an evil which they hoped to restrain by the enactment of this law; and they relied upon the courts in their construction of the law to hedge about its operation such restriction as would prevent the statute from being applied in its application to involve absurdity and the impracticable. The early decisions under the law can not be said to have been fortunate. The decision in what was known as the Sugar trust case—the Knight case—was really a retrograde step and one which seemed to limit much the operation of the statute. It encouraged the organization of combinations which the same court has since found violate the statute. The case could not be effectively presented to the court because the record had not been properly made up, and the question arising was whether the opinion in such a way as to give the impression that the operation of the law would be most restricted, because of the limits of federal jurisdiction. Indeed, some law officers of the government did hesitate to say that under this decision the law would be applied in the way aimed at through federal action. It has required twenty years of litigation to make the statute clear. But now it is clear.
