CHANGES HIS ADDRESS TO RETAIN HIS CHILDREN

to the home that he may retain custody of his 18-year-old daughter until she is 31. John Eldredge, formerly of Webster City. In., has changed his residence to Denison, Tex. Under the laws of all other states a girl attains her majority at 18, but in Texas the majority age for stris and boys is the same, 21.

Announcement of his change of address was made in Judge Day's court Monday by John O. Yeiser, Eldridge's attorney. Final hearing to determine whether custody of the four Eldredge children shall be given the husband or the wife was deferred for ten days or two weeks. Eldredge secured a divorce a year ago. The decree made no disposition of the children and Mrs. Eldredge took them. Eldredge recently secured an order giving him custody of the children, but they were placed in the Detention home pending a rehearing. John G. Kuhn, atturney for Mrs. Eldredge, will attack Judge Day's jurisdiction and will produce witnesses to testify that at the time the divorce decree was made and at the time the decree of custody was made none of the parties was a resident of Nebraska.
