JUNKIE PUT IN THE CLEAR

Former Secretary of State Paid Taxes in Gosper County.

SETTLES POINT LONG AT ISSUE

Appeal of Wilhelm Fleg Against a Life Sentence for Killing His Sister Engages Attention of Supreme Court.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Local city and county treasurers have received from the county treasurer of Gosper county an affidavit to the effect that the personal property of George C. Junkin, former secretary of state, had been assessed in that county and that the taxes thereon had been paid. It was further set forth in the letter that the property included a piano, sewing machine, time pieces and household goods.

The question of the assessment of the personal property of state officials during their term and while they are residents of this city is an old one with county and city officials here and one which has never been satisfactorily fought out. Findings of household goods and other personal property were subject for taxation generally brought forth vigorous assertions from state officials that these items had been given to the assessors in their home counties.

In the past state officials have exhibited form receipts to show that they paid their taxes in their home counties, but these never divulged upon what specific items of property said taxes were paid. According to Deputy County Treasurer McCormick farm implements, stock or other chattels might have been paid for in the home counties of the state officials, while the personal property went entirely free in both places. The rule in vogue which requires that affidavits specifying upon what class of property the taxes are assessed should be first returned in the communication received today from Gosper county and which exempts George C. Junkin from paying personal property taxes in this county for the years he resided here as secretary of state.

Fleg Fighting for Freedom.

Whether or not the evidence brought out at the district court trial of Wilhelm Fleg of Dixon county for the murder of his sister, Louise, June 26, 1906, justified his conviction and the life imprisonment sentence which he received was the question argued before the state supreme court today. The state was represented by Assistant Attorney General Edgerton and County Attorney Kingsbury of Dixon county, while the side of the defense was taken by ex-Congressman J. J. McCarthy of Potosi and F. S. Berry of Wayne.

The Fleg case is one of the most important and hardest fought murder cases in Nebraska criminal annals. The circumstances surrounding the killing of the Fleg girl, the unusual confession made by the man who says claim to being the only eye witness of the tragedy, following the early statements that he knew nothing about the matter, the wealth of the defendant's family, the desperate fight made to save him from prison, all combine to make it a most spectacular court fight.

The purchase of an automobile by the defendant figures strongly in the case and if the theory of the state is correct the car is responsible for the murder of the girl. The Fleges, who are Germans, and who naturally possess the frugal habits of the Teutons, were much surprised when Wilhelm came home in a motor car and especially the sister Louise opposed, what she considered, a waste of money. Subsequent nagging on this account and the coldness engendered between the two is said to have resulted in many quarrels, and according to the testimony of Albert Eichenkamp, a hired man, culminated in the killing of the girl by Fleg, following one tiff more severe than the rest.

The state's case is based largely on the testimony of the Eichenkamp, who swore that before Fleg left the farm on the day of June 26, 1906, the two quarreled and that he saw the two come out of the house, the girl with her back to him. Afterward, when he was told by Fleg to get out of the way and run to the barn, he heard two shots and he saw Louise on her knees, with Wilhelm standing over her, a revolver in his hands.

Waldo Defends Sugar Trust.

C. A. Walden, a prominent merchant, who noted press dispatches carried yesterday under a New York date line, relating to the price of sugar and asserting that it is $3.75 per hundred f. o. b. New York, says that the price was $4.80 per hundred January 1 and that yesterday's quotation was $3.80. The intimation that the market is manipulated, Mr. Walden asserts, is unfair to the refining interests, whom he declares, make a very small speculative profit.

Lincoln Statue Ready to Cast.

The clay model of the statue of Abraham Lincoln, which is to be placed on the state house grounds, is practically completed, according to word which comes to this city from Daniel Chester French, the sculptor, who has charge of the work, and will soon go to the bronze foundry.

F. M. Hall, of the committee which has the matter in charge, said today that sufficient funds have been obtained for the completion of the statue and its background and base, with the exception of $18,000. Of this amount the city of Lincoln has been asked for $2,000 and the rest is to be planned to raise by subscription. A rebate of $2,000 has been arranged for which the sculptor, providing he is allowed to produce one more statue from the same model. The committee, an account of the lack of funds, are considering taking advantage of the offer.

WHY MOST SHAMPOOS RUIN THE HAIR

We quote as follows from the Boston World, on "Care of the Hair," by Mac Martin: "The reason for the scant, unattractive tresses of most women lies in the persistent use of injurious shampoos. Few realize that soap shampoos do more harm than good. The deadly alkali in soap is too strong for the hair, causing it to break and become lifeless. Such shampoo can only result fatally to the hair. Dry powders also are bad, as they clog up the scalp pores and cause dandruff. A perfectly safe shampoo is made by dissolving a teaspoonful of sandalwood in a cup of hot water. This cleanses perfectly, dries quickly without straggling, and leaves the hair bright, fluffy and easy to do up. It is the surest preventive of baldness ever discovered."

SPANISH REBELS IN ARMS

Labor Movement Develops Into Revolutionary Conflict. RIOTING OCCURS IN PORTUGAL. Mob, Headed by Women with Pitches, Loots Churches and Puts to Rest the Local Military Forces.

MADRID, Sept. 20.—Spain is face to face with a crisis equal in gravity to that following the riots in Barcelona in 1909. The agitation and the power of the agitators on the masses have increased in proportion to the rigor of the repressive measures undertaken by the government. What at its origin was purely a labor movement now has developed into a revolutionary conflict, a commune actually having been proclaimed at two towns near Valencia. At these places the authorities were driven out of the districts.

Will Call General Strike.

The affiliated trades unions have decided to call a general strike tomorrow throughout the length and breadth of Spain, and the government, abandoning the tone of optimism heretofore maintained, today decided upon the drastic step of "suspending the constitutional guarantees" throughout the whole country. All meetings have been forbidden. The military authorities, it is further said officially, will not assume control except in extreme cases.

"The grave measure we have taken is absolutely imperative, not only for the defense of public institutions, but for society itself," said Premier Canalejas tonight. "The suspension of the constitutional guarantees has been decided upon by the government in the presence of a movement, unmistakably revolutionary and anarchic in character—a movement it may be assumed directed against all social order."

Government Knew of Plot.

The Spanish government has long been aware that some such movement was contemplated for the end of September, but was unwilling to take radical measures until its true character was apparent. The movement was supported by the socialists and possibly by the extreme republican party and was directed by a committee composed of Spaniards and foreigners, with headquarters at Barcelona.

Emissaries were sent out throughout the peninsula with instructions to foment general strikes in all the provinces, the object being to paralyze the life of the nation by stopping all public services. The government laid plans accordingly and is resolved on the re-establishment of order as rapidly as possible and at any cost. The authorities assert that the general labor union, which proclaimed a strike, represents only a limited number of workers.

Among the delegates who voted for this strike was the president of the railworkers, but as this union has been organized only recently, it is possible the movement will go so far as it concerns the railroads.

Rioting at Valencia.

Late despatches from Valencia say the agitation in that city was renewed tonight. A mob threw up a barricade and derailed a train car in one part of the city, while another mob tried to storm a convent. In the street fighting one workman was killed and several were wounded.

It is reported that the residents of Alcover, before the troops arrived, burned the public buildings, dynamited a bridge and cut the railroad.

All the policemen in Madrid have been armed with carbines. Premier Canalejas was called to the palace late tonight to report the situation to King Alfonso. On leaving the palace he said the news was most alarming, the situation was better except in the Valencia region.

Two Towns in Revolt.

VALENCIA, Spain, Sept. 20.—The inhabitants of the towns of Alcocer and Caragosa revolted today, drove out the authorities and proclaimed a commune. A strong body of troops was dispatched from here and occupied these towns, as well as the town of Calera, where yesterday a judge, engaged in the trial of rioters, was killed and several of his court officers were wounded. The city of Valencia was comparatively quiet today. A band of 1,000, many of whom are armed, is roaming over the country, fomenting disturbances.

The presidents of several unions have protested against the action of anarchists, sympathetic with their colleagues in Barcelona and had no revolutionary intentions.

Husband Insists Wife Must Marry Affinity

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Supplicating that his young wife, Louise White Lawrence Suddam, should first enter into an agreement to marry Frederick Noble, the plumber's son, with whom she recently ran away from her home in Blue Point, L. I., Walter Lispenard Suddam, Jr., offered today to free her by suing her for divorce. Suddam, his millionaire father and a lawyer called upon the young woman at the flat where she and Noble have been living, and made the stipulation as an alternative to never having a divorce suit begun. They demanded also that the agreement be signed by Noble.

Mrs. Suddam said she had no intention of going back to her husband and wanted a divorce immediately.

Young Suddam had hoped for a reconciliation, but finding it hopeless, began to consider the divorce situation. His one thought, he said, was that the future of his wife should be provided for.

The Suddams after several consultations today decided that if the couple was willing to enter the agreement that would be the easiest way to put an end to the unpleasant notoriety the episode has caused.
