Sentlemen:
You asked me to give you in writing a statement on my this year's potato rop and also the future crops off my land this year.

From 8½ acres I gathered 400 barrels yf potatoes and received $1.50 per barrel ret. After that I planted the field to corn and estimate the yield at 45 bushels to the acre. My crabgrams hay, cut after the corn, under 5 tons per acre.

Yours truly,

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—After the New York stock market became demoralized today, traders here began selling out wheat they had bought yesterday, Largely as a result the close was at a decline of ic to 1½c under last night. Corn showed a net loss of ½c to ½½½c, o cats were down a share to ½c and provision lower by 7½½10c to 35c.

Not all of the snrinkage in wheat values could be fairly charged to the financial situation. Almost from the start, the tone in the pit here was depressed. Liberal receipts in the northwest formed one reason. Another was that flour demand which had been temporarily stimulated by the bulge following the rejection of reciprocity had become flat again. In addition the United Kingdom wheat crop exhibited a decided gain over last year and there were estimates of a record-breaking acreage in Argentine. The market all day kept under last night's level and final sales were at nearly the lowest figures of the session. The range of the December option were 47%c and with the close comparatively steady by 1½c off at 97%c.

Corn lost support following the break in wheat. Fluctuations in December ran from 5½2664%. The close was weak at 65% a net loss of ½c%c. Cash grades were steady. No. 2 yellow finished at 185,4569c.

Good buying on the part of cash con-Features of the Trading and Closing

Good buying on the part of cash con-Good buying on the part of cash concerns and elevators prevented oats from displaying as much weakness as wheat or corn. Top and bottom prices reached for the December option were 47% and 47%c, with the close a shade off at 47%c. Provisions were weak in consequence of a decline in hog prices at the yards. At the end of trading pork had dropped 17%c to 17% 22c, lard 10c to 20c, and ribs 7% 20c to 25c.

CATTLE—Receipts of cattle were liberal this morning, bringing the total for the three days up to $2,572 head, being a gain of almost 7,000 head for the same three days last week, but, still, showing a falling off of almost 4,000 head as compared with the same period a year ago. The market as a whole was in very satisfactory condition, the record breaking run of Monday, together with the large receipts of Tuesday, being cleaned up in good shape, so that the market was in comparatively healthy condition for the opening this morning.

Desirable fat cattle were in good demand and buyers were out in the yards early in the morning. Unfortunately several trains were late in arriving at the yards, which delayed the trade to some extent. The feeling was generally steady on practically all kinds that could be called at all desirable.

Cows and heifers were also in good demand and the market strong. The country demand yesterday was very much better than usual and it is doubtful if there was a day in the history of the yards when the country bought any more feeders than it did yesterday.

HOGS—Packers pursued usual hearlsh tactics in the hog yards, buying the big end of a moderate supply at prices a due lower. Mosument has only a fair degree of action at the frush decline, but limited receipts made at possible to char the yards in very good season. At 1915 o'clock the entire supply had changed hands.

Offerings amounted to about ninety loads in all, weighty packing stuff being the general rule and bacon loads the exception. One price bought quite a large slice of the run and business between $3.2036.30 presented much the same appearance of yesterday's $6.30396.40 spread. Instead of $6.35 being the popular price, it was a $6.25 deal on ordinary packing grades.

Shippers took a little more interest in the trade than on most days lately and purchased in all, about ten loads of the better quality stock. This buy, together with the fact that it was divided between several operators, lends some assurance that prices may have reached hard bottom.

The best bacon animals on sale dropped to $6.40, the lowest top on record thus far this month.

the total for the week thus far up to 123,000 head. This marketing, while it does not seem unusual at this time of the year, comes as a general surprise to the trade as few operators expected the entire receipts this week to run very far over the 100,000 mark. Clearance yeaterday involved everything except 2,500 head of lambs so that the new offerings found a market in good shape for free action.

head of lambs so that the new offerings found a market in good shape for free action.

It, most respects the trade in all of its branches opened just about steady. Demand from usual buying quarters had a healthy tone and anything at all desirable in the way of killing stock moved scaleward without very long work-outs. Good lambs sold at and near $5.50, indicating a quotable top of $5.75, a figure that claimed credit for actual cop yesterday. Classes selling below $5.35 were more or less on the feeder order

Fat wethers, ewes, etc., drew plenty of inquiry wherever quality and finish existed and despite the fact that the market was usually described as steady, there was quite a little business that averaged well up to last Friday's levels, yesterday's weakness being ignored in many instances. The even money, $4.00, is still recognized limit for choice wethers and toppy ewes would doubtless land around $3.65. Yearling prices are rather uncertain, because of the light proportion of this class of stock. Like most markets recently trade depended upon the country demand for support. The bulk of offerings consisted of feeders, principally lambs, and quality on an average was nothing to brag about. Outlet for thin and in-between grades appeared ample, however, and firm prices were usually obtained with little selling effect. Common, wrinkly lambs acted slow around $4.25, but thrifty animals, uniform and weighty, were in active request at $5.25. Feeder ewes sold largely under the $3.00 mark. Packers' tab places two days' feeder purchase at $6.00 head. Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, under the $3.00 mark. Packers' tab places two days' feeder purchase at $5,000 head.
