NATION'S CHIEF ENTERS IOWA

President Appears at Early Hour in Council Bluffs.

WELCOMED BY LARGE CROWD

No Country Can Be Great Unless It is Well Fed, He Declares, in Speaking of Iowa as an Agricultural State.

President Taft at Council Bluffs Thursday morning told the first Iowa audience to greet him on his present tour for the reason of his being there. He failed to resist successfully a plea to speak at the Kansas State fair at Topeka, he said, and this was his undoing. Then it was insisted that he must break ground with a golden spade for the Panama exposition at San Francisco, and the die was cast.

Arrangements for Mr. Taft's reception.
Governor B. F. Carroll and sixteen members of the governor's staff, who accompany the president through Iowa, joined the chief executive's party at Council Bluffs, two Pullmans being added to the train for their accommodation. So great was the crowd's interest in Mr. Taft that Governor Carroll and his staff stood unmolested on the platform waiting with the rest, till the president was ready.

"Taft will be welcomed in Iowa as he was in Kansas, Iowa is for him. I was glad to hear that his reception in Kansas surpassed even the expectations of his friends."
Before the president made his appearance on the coach platform Governor Carroll and the members of his staff and representative men of Council Bluffs were received and greeted by him. After Mr. Taft had finished his talk Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Coppel and Mr. and Mrs. W.
L. Douglas were introduced to him. Mrs.
Coppel and Mrs. Douglas are cousins of Secretary Hillis.

TO SETTLE ALL OLD CLAIMS

City and County Are Trying to Get Together on Differences.

EACH HAS A LIST OF CLAIMS

Balance Seems, on the Face of the Statements, to Be Largely in Favor of the County—
To Be Adjusted.

An attempt is being made by the city of Omaha and the county of Douglas to get together on the mass of claims that have been accumulating since 1900. As the matter stands at the present time, the city has upon its books the sum of $48-748.99 charged against the county, while in turn, the county insists that the city owes it $3,556.78.

Wheat Again Hits

Dollar Mark Here

The news that wheat went above $1 a bushel on the Omaha market this week has caused farmers to "loosen up" and heavy arrivals are expected soon, according to local dealers. The run is pretty good as it is.

STUDENTS TO REHEARSE
FOR THE COMING OF TAFT

High school students will drill Friday morning in preparation for the visit of President Taft on Monday. They will learn where they are to stand while listening to the president's address and how they are to march to get there.

MAKES FACE LOOK
YEARS YOUNGER

In the beauty column of the Washington Star we find the following written by that eminent authority, Mae Murry:
"Women who have been doting their faces with powder and vainly striving to attain beautiful complexions, will get the desired results by using instead of face powder, a good spumax lotion.
Such a lotion can be made at small cost, by dissolving 4 ounces of spumax in 1/2-pint hot water, then add 2 teaspoon-fuls glycerine. Or to make the lotion dry more quickly when applied to the skin, 1/2-pint witch hazel can be used instead of water.

promotion, as Mr. Rice will have a wider field for his work and will have several states under his supervision. He will leave here Saturday with his family.

Local Shopmen Have
No Word of a Strike

Dr. Muir, secretary of the local federation of local shopmen, stated late Thursday afternoon that he had heard nothing relative to any strike order, aside from what he had seen in the newspapers.
He added that in the event an order to strike should be received, no action could be taken by the railroad shopmen within twenty-four hours after its receipt.

The first thing that would be done by the shopmen, according to Dr. Muir, would be the calling of a special meeting.
If at that meeting it should be determined that there was sufficient cause for a strike, a vote would be taken and the vote should be in favor of striking, the hour would be set and at that time the men would quit work.

So far as the Union Pacific shops are concerned, Dr. Muir stated that the men have no grievance of their own and if they strike, it will be in compliance with an order coming from the head of the International. He could not say how many men would go out if the order should come, but felt safe in saying that it would be obeyed by about all of the 150 machinists.

Fourth Infantry
Officers Promoted

The trial by court martial of Lieutenant R. G. Rutherford blocked a large number of promotions in the United States army from lieutenant to captain, it being impossible to advance any of the officers in rank while this case was pending. Now that the Rutherford case has been disposed of at Madison barracks, the promotions have been announced, and a number of them affect the regimental officers of the Fourth infantry, stationed at Fort Crook.

Lieutenant G. W. Barber, Second Infantry, promoted to captain and assigned to fourth; Second Lieutenant John Bubb promoted to first lieutenant; Second Lieutenant W. S. Weeks, promoted to first lieutenant; Second Lieutenant A.
W. Lane, promoted to first lieutenant; Second Lieutenant F. W. Manley, Third-teenth Infantry, promoted to first lieuten-ancy and assigned to fourth; Second Lieutenant, W. S. Fulton, promoted to first lieutenant.

SENIORS ARE PREPARING FOR WINTER ACTIVITIES

The senior class of the Omaha High school held its first meeting Wednesday afternoon, and elected officers for the coming year: President, Edwin Landale; vice president, Soulah Byrd; secretary, George Robinson; treasurer, Vergil Reister; sergeants-at-arms, Florence Lake and Douglas Burns. Prof. C. E. Reed, the new vice principal, Miss Sullivan and Miss Bridge were elected as class teachers. The election of Edwin Landale for the presidency was a complete surprise as he was considered a "dark horse" and did not enter the race until Wednesday morning.

It is not known at present whether the class of 1912 will give a play as a means of raising money for commemoration to the school or not. Last year's class presented "Monsieur Beacaire" at the Brad-dles very successfully and set a good precedent for other classes to follow.

ELEINE HIGH SCHOOL
SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

The Elaine Society of the Omaha High school met Wednesday noon and elected officers for the coming year. The society will continue as formerly, meetings being held at the homes of the members semi-monthly. The Elaine is one of the few literary societies of the high school which have decided to continue since the double session arrangement has been put in practice.

The following officers were elected Wednesday: President, Minnie Johnson; vice-president, Katherine Woodworth; secretary, Doris London; treasurer, Muriel Burckmore; sergeants-at-arms, Helen Garvin and Mildred Collins.

People Must Be Well Fed.

Mr. Taft was introduced by Congressman W. R. Green of Council Bluffs. He said:

"This is not the first time I have visited Council Bluffs, but it is the first opportunity I have had to talk to an Iowa crowd on my present trip. Because Iowa is an agricultural state and because I regard the production of food for a nation as of foremost importance, I am especially glad to speak to you. No country can be great if it is not well fed."

Statistics, the president said, indicated the prime importance of increasing both acreage and productiveness per acre of the nation's farm lands.

Praise for General Grenville M. Dodge, whom he said was a figure of national influence, and for Walter I. Smith, of whom he said he took a great congressman and made a great judge of him, was received with warm applause by the "home folks."

Taft in Good Humor.

It was evident from his opening remarks that President Taft was in the best of humor and the crowd was soon with him. He explained that he sometimes had his doubts of senators and congressmen. Their sincere point, he said, was their anxiety to convince him that his presence in their states was absolutely necessary to the public welfare, but he was inclined to think anxiously to contribute to the success of an occasional state fair had much to do with the matter.

Returning to serious vein, the president said high tribute to Lincoln. The martyred statesman, he said, was the great example and the great source of comfort to all succeeding occupants of the executive mansion. In his hours of gloom, when he feels that his burdens are heavier than he can successfully uphold, Mr. Taft turns to Lincoln and the railsplitter's trials appear so much greater that his own seem insignificant.

mond, Colonel C. G. Saunders and Con-

Taft Will Talk to the Students at the High School Monday

President Taft will address the entire student body of the Omaha High school from the east steps of the high school building Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Principal McHugh is making preparations to arrange the students in a massed semi-circle about the front steps so that every one of the 1,500 will be able to hear the president's speech. The cadet regiment, in full dress uniform, will form a solid column about twenty deep the width of the front steps and the other students will form in a massed semi-circle about the cadets. The commissioned officers of the regiment will form a salutatory line along the front steps directly in front of President Taft. A preliminary drill to perfect this arrangement will be held on Friday morning.

"On next Monday morning the high school is to be honored by the presence of President Taft," said Principal Mc-Hugh. "This is the only place where he will stop and speak on Monday in Omaha. The occasion is one which will bring a great many visitors to the grounds of the high school and will be the first occasion this year when the school will appear as a whole. For the two reasons—the desire to uphold the reputation of the school and to do fitting honor to the man who represents our country—all the students should be anxious to make the best possible showing.
This will be the time when the students can exhibit the quality which has been so prominent this year—the power of self-government."

Closes All Doors
and Turns On Gas

Policeman C. P. Fimple went to his home, 922 North Twenty-ninth street, at 3 o'clock Thursday morning and found his wife dead. She had committed suicide by turning on every gas jet and the gas stove, after having securely locked the doors and closed all the windows. When found she was in her night attire and was reclining in a chair in the sitting room. Fimple says that he has not had trouble with his wife, but others make contrary statements. Several days ago, following a quarrel, it is said she threatened to kill their child, whereupon it was placed in the home of a friend by Fimple. Since then the woman is said to have been extremely despondent. Neighbors say that Mrs.
Fimple locked the doors and closed all the windows about 10 o'clock Wednesday night.

View Showing New Front of "Hiller" Store.

Strictly a "Home" store where ladies may trade and be "waited upon" by ladies.

The newer "Hiller" store will be conducted on the same precise, confidence compelling, and respectable lines as before; it will ever be a "strictly business" establishment; ladies may trade here as freely as gentlemen, knowing that their purchases may be made just as a dry goods purchase is made, lady clerks being in attendance to wait upon lady shoppers.
Goods will be delivered in plain and unmarked packages if desired. The management earnestly invites every Omaha to be in attendance at the opening on Saturday; the store you will see is easily the peer of any of its kind west of Chicago; handsomer, larger, possessed of more commercial conveniences. Come in and get a handsome souvenir at least; then tell your friends about the store you've seen. Remember, the store is new from tip to tip and easily merits recognition as "The West's Finest Family Liquor Establishment."

Each lady or gentleman attending the opening on Saturday will receive a handsome, very acceptable souvenir as a gift; something more valuable than has yet been given away at any "Opening." (Positively none given to children.)
