Presbyterians Hear Addresses at Synod Session

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Thursday's sessions of the Presbyterian synod of Nebraska opened with devotional services, led by Rev. F. A. Miller of Lincoln. Rev. Julius Schwab of the First German church of Omaha was elected stated clerk. The first half hour of the evening session was devoted to a musical program by the local choir. Rev. R. C. Hughes, D. D., of Madison, Wis., made a brief address on Christian work in universities. The address of the evening was by Rev. M. E. Fergusson of Philadelphia. His subject, "Teaching the Bible," was handled in a forceful and inspiring manner. Friday's devotions were conducted by Rev. R. C. Bailey of Falls City. Reports from committees on foreign missions and young people's work were presented by Rev. F. G. Knauss of Nelson and Rev. H. Gaushey of Lincoln, calling forth a spirited debate, in which many took part. A pleasant feature of the day was an auto ride. Twenty-five autos carried the guests out to the state farm, the Cody ranch and about the city. In the evening J. B. Wootan of Omaha spoke forcefully to a large audience on "The Men and Religion Movement." The address of Dr. R. E. Speer on foreign missions was one of the most anticipated events of the session and it fully met all expectations. Mr. Speer is one of the best known workers along foreign missionary lines. He has had long and varied experience, having visited most of the world-wide mission fields. Dr. E. H. Jenks of Omaha is to speak on church federation Saturday evening. The Sunday afternoon address will be by W. J. Bryan.

MISSOURI PACIFIC TAKES CASE TO SUPREME COURT

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The Missouri Pacific railroad has appealed to the supreme court from a judgment for $9,999 given by a jury in Douglas county in favor of Mrs. Johanna M. Anderson, administratrix of the estate of her deceased husband, Carl Anderson. It was alleged in the petition that Anderson, foreman of a section gang, was killed by being run over by an engine at the Missouri Pacific roundhouse track in Omaha while he was engaged in helping clear a track of a wreck. He was run over December 20, 1909, and died the following day. The defense of the railroad company was that Anderson was intoxicated and tried to walk over a track in front of an engine, that he had been discharged a short time before the accident and was therefore a trespasser on the company's track.

A few years ago he and his first wife separated and he later married a young woman named Bryson, whose home is at Crab Orchard. Recently he left his home here, telling his wife that he was going to look for work. As she failed to hear from him, she swore out a complaint against him, charging him with wife desertion. Sheriff Schlek arrived in Beatrice yesterday with his man. The funeral services for the late John Scheve, who died suddenly at Salt Lake City, Utah, last Sunday while en route to the Pacific coast for his holiday, were held yesterday afternoon from the German Lutheran church northwest of the city, and were largely attended. Nebraska WATERHOUSE BEGINS FIGHT

Notifies Fremont Tobacco Dealers Not to Give Cigarettes Away. NO EVASION OF THE LAW Quackenbush Law Cited, and According to it No Evasion Will Be Permissible, Under Penalty of Prosecution. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—That tobacco dealers cannot leave cigarette papers on their back shelves and allow them to be taken by young lads, or that they cannot throw them out at the back of their stores and allow them to be taken in that manner, is the opinion of Superintendent A. H. Waterhouse of Fremont, who has already started a crusade looking toward the enforcement of the Quackenbush bill passed at the last session of the state legislature. The matter is being taken up with some vigor throughout the state by various school superintendents in accordance with a recommendation made by State Superintendent Crabtree, who recently issued a letter calling attention to the provisions of the new law. In his letter to Fremont tobacco dealers, Superintendent Waterhouse says in part: "Either condition by which boys receive cigarette papers is apparently in violation of section 1 of the law, for in either case the composition of cigarettes known as cigarette paper. Sooner or later there will have to be some complaint filed against some minor offender for the illegal use of tobacco, and this communication is mailed to you in the hope that no reputable dealer will be involved, should the minor elect to furnish the evidence indicated in section 3 rather than pay the fine imposed in section 2." TECUMSEH BUSINESS MEN WILL DISCARD ONE 'PHONE

TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—There is something of a disturbance on the telephone circles in Tecumseh. For some little time there has been a feeling on the part of the business men and other citizens that it is not necessary to have two systems in operation here, necessitating the business men, at least, to pay for two telephones each month. It has been understood here that the Bell and the independent companies of the state have an understanding that as soon as the case now pending in the supreme court is settled, testing the lawfulness of a merger, that the territory in the south Platte country in Nebraska is to go to the Independents, while that territory north of the Platte is to go to the Bell company. With this in mind certain business men have this week circulated a petition here pledging the signers to throw out their Bell phones the first of November. A number have signed the petition and it is still being circulated. This action has stirred the Bell people to activity and one or two of the men well up in office rank have been here in an endeavor to head off the movement. These Bell men claim there is no such understanding as to territory between the two companies. They will admit that a merger will follow just as soon as practicable after the opinion of the court is handed down, in case the law will permit of the move. The men circling the petition for pardon that that even now both systems are owned by one company and they do not propose to continue paying two rentals. It is said a similar movement has recently been pulled off in Wymore.

CLEMENCY IS REFUSED TO BOYD COUNTY MAN

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The Advisory Board of Pardons has by a majority voted refused to recommend clemency to Harm Djerksen of Boyd county, who is serving a term of six years in the state penitentiary for criminal relations with his stepdaughter. The prisoner alleged in his application for pardon that he was railroaded into the state institution by his second wife and her daughter, whom he alleges swore falsely against him. His attorneys are also said by the prisoner to have neglected his case, rendering little or no return for the proceeds of a farm which he donated to them for his defense. The supreme court never reviewed the judgment against him as the transcript and bill of exceptions were filed after the time limit for such had expired. On the Board of Pardons, John O. Yelzer of Omaha recommended clemency, but Dr. Butler of Superior and E. G. Maggi recommended that no clemency be extended to the inmate of the penitentiary. Governor Aldrich will act on the matter. W. B. Price will represent Djerksen at the final hearing before the state executive.

Hyde Says Marshal Offered to Fix Jury

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—"There's a fellow on that jury that can be bought. Leave it to me and I'll fix it." In the foregoing words, according to an affidavit made by Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, Harry Hoffman, a deputy county marshal, sought a bribe from the physician May 6, 1910, during his first trial for the alleged murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope. The affidavit was introduced in the criminal court here today during a hearing on the application for pardon that the official handing out to the men to take charge of the jury at the physician's second trial. Dr. Hyde said that the attempt to solicit a bribe from him was made while he was being taken from the criminal court room to his cell in the county jail.

CAPTAIN DANIEL ELDREDGE DIES AT BOSTON HOME

A telegram from J. Warren Bailey of Boston to T. J. Fitzmorris announces the death of Captain Daniel Eldredge in that city Friday at the age of 70. Mr. Eldredge had a number of acquaintances in Omaha, especially among savings and loan association men. He was a visitor in the Trans-Mississippi exposition and a delegate to the United States League Convention which held its sessions in Omaha in 1893. His activities in this line extended through forty years and to his talent and energies the co-operative banks of Massachusetts owe much of their development and prosperity. At the organization of the United States League of Local Buildings and Loan Associations in Chicago in 1893 he was chosen vice president and the following year became the second president of that organization, and has been a regular attendant at its annual meetings. Captain Eldredge won his military title in the civil war, having served five years, from August 2, 1862, to July, 1866, in the Third New Hampshire Infantry.

NEW THOUGHT IN ACTION

Cheery Salutation Fired at Headquarters by a New York Priestess. "Every morning," said the stout priestess of advanced new thought to the placid matron who had come to have her head-ache cured, "every morning I want you to say, 'Good morning, my soul.' Clasp your hands under your neck and stretch yourself out to your toes. If you rise from bed without having said, 'Good morning, my soul,' go back to bed and say, 'Good morning, my soul,' before you rise. Then I want you to rise and form your circle." The stout priestess extended both her arms horizontally and slowly right-about faced, to indicate the circle. "I want you to form your circle," she went on, "and say, 'All this belongs to me; or, as one of my pupils used to say, 'This is my real estate; keep off the grass.' This, dear lady, gives you power. "And what you need is a strong oriental perfume, like azure or incarnata. Anyone who does not like your perfume does not like you. Put some on your waist and handkerchief. The perfume will strengthen you and attract people to you. Take out your handkerchief at the butcher's or the baker's and the clerks will immediately leave all others and attend to you." "This and ever so much more did Adele Marie Rique, counselor and speaker of Advanced New Thought, the Circle of Universal Soul-Freedom, impart to Isabella Goodwin in Mme. Rique's apartment at 125 West Seventy-second street, New York, where Isabella Goodwin paid her $2, forgot that her head had ever ached and wrote down all she had heard in an affidavit for the New York County Medical society, which employs her as a detective. Mme. Rique was arrested and held in the West Side court for examination, charged with practicing medicine without a license. Isabella Goodwin first called at the West Seventy-second street apartment on August 2. She thought well of New Thought, she confided to Mme. Rique, and wished to learn more about it. She felt a pain at the base of the brain and was depressed. As a matter of fact, she had a headache. "I know that, my dear little woman," flashed back the New Thinker, according to Mrs. Rique's affidavit. "I felt your condition the moment you entered the room. You do not sit properly. Your vibrations are all wrong and that is what causes those headaches. You should not lean the way you do when you sit. If a clock is not set properly, its vibrations are wrong causing it to stop. The same is true of the body. Do you know where your soul is?" Mrs. Goodwin said she didn't and learned it was in her chest. It seemed that there were two magnetic currents, "one connecting with the dome, or head, which is the workshop, also with the ether, the other connecting with the base of the brain and the top of the spine." Mme. Rique would treat the dear little woman for headache. They sat in chairs facing each other. Said the priestess: "Take my hands and go into a silence with me. The way you go into a silence is entirely to relax and close your eyes and think only of your chest. Your breath is sort of smothered. Draw a long breath." Mrs. Goodwin breathed. No, that was not the way. Mme. Rique opened her mouth and inhaled and exhaled, then explained: "You let your dead self pass out when you do that." "I see a beautiful picture of your soul," the New Thought woman said. "I want to repeat what comes to me." (Defendant then repeated some words which seemed to depend to be a quotation which deponent does not remember.) "I see an angel standing behind you and from this time on you will travel a new road. September, October, and November will bring improved conditions. Say with me, 'God and myself, myself and God, God and myself.'"

Dr. Hyde Attempts to Attack Attorney for State in Court

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—While United States Senator James A. Reed today was making an argument for the state in the hearing of Dr. Hyde, charged with the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, the physician, uttering a threat, sprang toward the senator. Mrs. Hyde pulled Hyde back into his seat and the hearing proceeded. Senator Reed, who is acting as special attorney for the Swope family in the prosecution of Hyde, was finishing an argument in an attempt to impeach Hyde's affidavit of yesterday, in which he charged that a deputy marshal had approached him with an offer to "fix" a member of the jury at the first trial. The deputy had filed a counter affidavit denying the allegation. "Whose word is the court to take?" demanded Senator Reed, dramatically. "This man, Hyde, whose history you all know, and this woman (meaning Mrs. Hyde, who sat beside her husband), who—" Mr. Reed was standing with his back to Hyde and did not see the latter's movement toward him. Apparently, however, he saw the look of alarm on Judge Porterfield's face. Reed turned about just in time to see Hyde being pulled into his seat. So quickly did the incident take place that many in the court room failed to see it. Today's hearing, which was adjourned at noon, until tomorrow, was enlivened by clashes of Attorney Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Hyde, shaking his finger under the faces of Prosecuting Attorney Conkling and Assistant Prosecutor Page, declaring he "regarded the prosecutor personally with the greatest possible contempt." "The prosecutors are trying Walsh in the case of Hyde," said Walsh. Mr. Walsh made this remark in reply to constant reference to the lost grand jury notes of the first trial, which were found in the possession of Hyde attorneys. Mr. Walsh announced in court that an attorney and two physicians were in Chicago today attempting to secure permission from Dr. Walter A. Haines and Dr. Henktoen to examine the slides on which they made microscopic examinations of the viscera of Swope. A motion was filed today requesting the state to produce in court the glass alleged at the last trial by Dr. Vaughn of Michigan university to contain strychnine taken from Swope's liver, so that the state chemist might examine it.
