PRISON MEETING NEAR CLOSE

Officers Elected and Baltimore is Chosen for 1912 Congress.

TUBERCULOSIS IS DISCUSSED

Segregation of Infected Prisoners and Class of Food that Should Be Provided Receives Much Attention.

Frederick C. Pettigrove of Boston, Mass., was elected president of the American Prison association, which closed its sessions yesterday.

Joseph P. Byers of Newark, N. J., was re-elected general secretary; H. H. Shriver, Columbus, O., was chosen financial secretary, and Frederick H. Mills of New York City treasurer. The following were made vice presidents: Rev. Samuel G. Smith, St. Paul, Minn.; Governor A. W. Gilchrist, Tallahassee, Fla.; General Demetrio Castillo, Havana, Cuba; Dr. Daniel Phelan, Kingston, Ont.; Robert Russell, Washington, D. C.; Baltimore was chosen as the 1912 convention city. Judge Lee Estelle of Omaha and Rev. A. W. Clark of Omaha are members of the new board of directors and Mr. Clark is first assistant secretary of the association. Judge Estelle was made a member of the committee on prevention and probation; J. A. Piper of Lincoln, Neb., a member of the new special committee to investigate jails, lockups and police stations, and Judge Roscoe Pound of Cambridge, Mass., a former Nebraska, was made a member of the committee on criminal law reform.

Tuberculosis in Prison.
In a paper on "Results of a Recent Inquiry on the Subject of Tuberculosis in Prisons" Rev. Thomas W. Houston, chaplain of the Kansas state penitentiary, said New York, Virginia and Texas have camps or farms for tubercular prisoners, while the federal prisons and a great many of the state prisons give tubercular convicts special medical attention and diet and keep them segregated from the rest of the prisoners. Tuberculosis is most prevalent in prisons where no heavy work is done.

Tubercular prisoners, in his opinion, should be provided with special food, which costs approximately twice as much as the food of the prisoner not infected. This statement as to food led to a discussion as to the kind of food needed and the general opinion was expressed that plenty of milk, eggs and fresh vegetables are necessary. Warden Codding of Kansas told of fifty cows and 1,000 laying hens at the Kansas penitentiary. Mr. Erskine of Massachusetts said that at the tubercular prison camp in his state a farm is maintained from which the patients daily get eggs, milk and fresh vegetables, the diet for each man costing the state about what the prisoner would be able to provide for himself if he were at work outside the prison at $15 a week.

Too Much Pork Served.
Mrs. Carns of Lincoln complained that too much pork and not enough beef is fed the inmates of the Nebraska penitentiary and Dr. Bullock of Lincoln expressed the same view. Mrs. Carns said the prisoners are so tired of pork that they push it away when served to them. She intends, she said, to call the matter to the attention of the proper state authorities. Several of the wardens declared that beef was better than pork especially for tubercular prisoners.

Opinion varied as to whether or not a tubercular prisoner should be made to work. Some said it was beneficial and others detrimental. Warden Saunders of Iowa thought tuberculosis was about as much "in the head" as in the body and that if the prisoner were made to keep his mind on work, instead of being allowed to brood on their disease, they would get well. Mr. Erskine of Massachusetts advised the wardens to let the prison physician decide how much work each man should do.

Abandon Contract Labor.
William H. Venn of Detroit, parole officer for Michigan, urged the abandonment of the contract labor system and outlined the compensation plan operated in the Detroit house of correction, which he said had met with general commendation.

"Michigan may well be proud of one of its penal institutions, which is not only self-sustaining," Mr. Venn said, "but which has in vogue a co-operative plan of payment to all prisoners confined within its walls for periods of thirty days or over. This is the Detroit house of correction, which occupies a unique position among not only the prisons of Michigan, but of America as well, if not of the world.

"July 6, 1911, the Detroit house of correction passed its fiftieth milestone. During the last thirty-two years over $1,000,000 in profits were turned over to the city of Detroit, the families of the prisoners and to the prisoners themselves."

Speaking on "How Far Should a Governing Board Govern?" Guy H. Humphreys, president of the board of control of the Indiana Boys' school, said the board should engage a capable superintendent and allow him absolute control of management and discipline, the board's province being merely to outline the financial policy and satisfy itself that the superintendent gets good results.

REFORM METHODS IN PRISON

Griffith J. Griffith of California Reads Interesting Paper.

Griffith J. Griffith of Los Angeles, secretary-treasurer of the Prison Reform league, spoke on "What the Prison Reform League Wants to Do and See Done." He had an interesting paper and was accorded close attention while reading it. In part he said: "Perhaps the question as to what we of the Prison Reform league have in view will be answered best by stating at the outset what we are not seeking. We are not attempting to boost any party 'ism,' creed or private interest. We are not endeavoring to inculcate the public with any new philosophy. On the contrary, we conceive ourselves to be severely practical people, who have noted a series of appalling facts and wish to know how they agree with certain principles by which society professes to be guided. We mark the startling difference between theory and fact; we try to bring that difference to the notice of those whom we can reach. All thinking men and women acknowledge, as it appears to us, that punishment can be justified only by the necessity of protecting society and diminishing as far as possible the tendency toward barbarism.

"We submit that every judge who passes what is called an 'exemplary' sentence in the hope of checking crime; every warden or jailer who excuses brutality toward prisoners with the plea that they have been sent to jail for punishment; every police officer who convinces it to be his role to terrify malefactors by the display or exercise of force, is making the same false argument as that by which the upholders of things as they are seek to justify capital punishment. All these classes, paid by society to protect it against crime, are in our view victims of an utterly erroneous philosophy and intensify the very evil they are hired to cure.

"We say that it never pays society to wrong the individual. We say the state wrongs him inexpressibly when it professes to seek his reform and debases him; that murder cannot be abolished or diminished in volume by the state turning murderer; that when the state compels a man to toil for it without remuneration it is itself a thief, and that such is not the way to discourage theft; that if the poor, isolated, and therefore helpless, individual has duties toward the all-powerful state, infinitely greater are the duties of that almost omnipotent organization toward the individual. We say that side of the question has been overlooked, and we call attention to it in the very sharpest terms at our command."

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W.
