ATHLETICS HIT MATHEWSON

Giants Lose to Philadelphia for Third Successive Time.

FOUR TO TWO IS FINAL SCORE

Victors Come from Behind, Outbattling National Leaguers and Doing Superior Work on Bases and in the Field.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Hitting the great Mathewson to all corners of the field, the Athletics defeated the Giants at Shibe park this afternoon for the third successive time by the score of 4 to 2. The American league champions now need but a single game to again give them the world's base ball honors for the second year in succession.

The victors not only outbatted the champions of the National league, but outfielded them and showed more alertness on the bases. It was a finely played game, sensational in spots and gave the home crowd plenty of opportunity to cheer.

New York getting the jump in the first inning, the Athletics came from behind, passed them in a fierce onslaught in the fourth inning and were never again headed. Nearly 25,000 persons witnessed the contest.

Mathewson Retires.

Mathewson, the mainstay of the Giants, was fairly crushed under the fusillade of hits and at the end of the seventh inning he retired in favor of Wiltes. The latter pitched but one inning against the heavy-hitting Philadelphia team and escaped with one two-base hit out of four men up. Ten hits for a total of sixteen bases were made off Mathewson in six innings. In the seventh inning he gave his only base on balls to Baker.

Bender, the Athletics' sterling pitcher, who he did not equal the wonderful game he twirled against New York on the opening day of the series, was never in trouble except in the first inning. New York got but seven hits off him, only two of them coming in one inning. He struck out four men and gave two bases on balls.

In the opening round the top of the New York batting list jumped on the Chippewa in a manner that made the timid ones fear that all was lost. The great Indian settled down, however, after New York had scored two runs on a single by Devore, a triple by Doyle and a sacrifice fly by Snodgrass and had New York at his mercy practically all the way.

Barry Star Batter.

Barry, the brilliant short stop of the Athletics, was the star man at the bat. In four trips to the plate he ripped out a single and two doubles, but none of his hits figured in the scoring. The sensational Baker came to time with a pair of two-base hits out of three times up and Murphy broke loose for the first time in the series and laced out two doubles that set the crowd wild with cheering.

Captain Davis, substituting for the injured McInnes, also was in the thick of the battle, pounding out a two-base hit in the big fourth inning when the Athletics passed New York by scoring three runs. It was in this inning that the greatest exhibition of hitting yet seen in the present world's series was given.

The only men on the Philadelphia team that did not get into the hit column were Oldring, Thomas and Bender.

For New York Devore, Doyle and Fletcher showed best at the plate. Devore got two singles in four times up. Doyle smashed a triple in three times at bat and Fletcher had a pretty pair of singles, but only Devore's hit and Doyle's three-base drive figured in New York's scoring.

Details of Game.

New York started out like a winner in the first inning. Devore reached first on an infield tap and came all the way home on Doyle's triple to right center. The New York second baseman probably would have gotten only a single on his hit had not Oldring slipped in the soft turf of the outfield, the ball eluding him long enough to permit Doyle to pull up at third. Snodgrass brought Doyle home with a long sacrifice fly to Lord. This was the end of New York's scoring.

The two-run lead looked big to the Athletics partisans, but the fighting Athletics kept peering away at Mathewson. There were chances to score in the second and third innings, but it was not until the fourth that the American leaguers showed their real batting strength. Baker, who struck out the first time up, caught one of Mathewson's outside curves and drove it to left center for two bases, much to the delight of the crowd.

Murphy smashed a two-bagger to left, sending Baker across the plate and Davis brought the spectators to their feet by driving a double to right field, sending home Baker with the tying run. Davis moved up to third on Barry's out and came home on Thomas' sacrifice fly to Murphy.

Collins Scores on Baker's Hit.

In the fifth inning Collins singled to right field and came all the way home on Baker's two-base hit to right center. It was a great exhibition of running and his headwork, coupled with his fleetness, won him a round of cheers. This gave the Athletics their fourth and final run. In the four games so far played, neither Murray of New York nor Thomas of Philadelphia has made a hit.

The crowd filled Shibe park, but it did not quite come up to the attendance of the first day. The figures given out by the National commission showed a total of 24,355 paid admissions, or a total of 25,128 for the series.

The home players having the advantage of two victories to one for New York had the greatest confidence that they would take the next game, and the Athletics were heartily cheered when they made their appearance. Baker, of course, was Baker had a throw that was a little wide charged against him, and Fletcher fumbled a grounder in his hurry to scoop it up and shoot it to Merkle.

No attempt was made by either team to steal bases.

Cornhuskers Showing Up Well in Practice—Manager Eager and Coach Stiehm Differ Over Minnesota Officials.

LINCOLN, Oct. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Actual preparations for the Missouri game started today in the Cornhusker camp with a hard scrimmage at the state farm. The practice was marred by though Stiehm was credited with no criticism of the Gopher methods and of the umpiring. It is known he was not pleased with the work. The choice of the officials, although heavily made by the coach, vested with Manager Eager at Minneapolis. And when statements were made charging the officials with favoritism Eager thought it a reflection on him. Consequently he issued a statement that the rough work is all foolishness and Nebraska was fairly frothed by the Gophers. The relations between the coach and the manager may become somewhat strained.

Michigan Men Try Out Yells for the Cornhusker Game

All the alumni associations in Omaha and all the organizations of collegiate alumni are invited by the University club to hold weekly luncheon meetings at the club rooms. The club extends its hospitality to all college men, whether members of the club or not, for meetings as often as once a month, to be held at noon. This was announced at the club rooms Tuesday, when the alumni of the University of Michigan held the first of the winter meetings. The Wolverines will meet during the winter the second Tuesday of each month. At the Tuesday meeting arrangements were made for the crowd that will go from Omaha to Lincoln for the Michigan-Nebraska game November 15. The Michigan men were allotted only ninety-nine seats for the Omaha association, but expect to take at least twice that many people to Lincoln to see the Ann Arbor men play.

THE CHARGE OF rough play in the Minnesota game is precipitating a nice scrap

The double play which beat the Giants in the third world's series game, the one which gave to the Athletics the lead in the battle for the base ball championship. On the right is J. Franklin Baker, Jinx No. 1, who made his second home run of the series in game number three, thereby putting the American leaguers on easy street. This home run came in the ninth inning, at a time when looked as if Mathewson had his game won. On the left is John Coombs, Jinx No. 2, the Athletics' pitcher, who held the Giants to three hits in eleven innings. Coombs worked even better than Bender or Plank in their preceding efforts.

base, but was thrown out by Thomas on an attempt to make third on a short passed ball. Mathewson received a base on ball and was left on first when Devore filed to Lord. The Athletics added their fourth run in their total in the fifth. With Lord and Oldring disposed of on grounders, Collins slugged a single to right and came home on a great sprint when Baker drove his second double to center on the first ball pitched. Murphy struck out.

Doyle received a pass in the sixth for New York and Snodgrass struck out. Murray sent a foul fly to Baker and Barry, fooling Doyle by pretending to scoop a grounder, the latter stood on second long enough for Baker to get the ball to Davis for a double play.

In Philadelphia's sixth after Davis grounded out on a line play by Herzog, Barry hit for two bases to center, which Snodgrass partly misjudged. He moved to third on Thomas' grounder, but was left there when Bender was thrown out by Herzog.

Merkle in the seventh struck out. Herzog filed to Oldring and Fletcher sent his second single to the outfield. Meyers was an easy out. Collins to Davis. This inning saw Mathewson in the box for the last time.

Lord was safe on Fletcher's fumble, and he advanced to second on Oldring's sacrifice and to third on a similar play by Collins. Mathewson here pitched four bad balls to the dangerous Baker and the inning ended when Murphy grounded out, easily to Merkle.

Recker batted for Mathewson in the eighth and went out. Collins to Davis. Bender singled to left and was forced at second by Doyle. Snodgrass reached first on a wide throw by Baker and was left there as Murray fouled out to Thomas.

Willies went in to pitch for New York and struck out Davis, the first man up. Barry hit the left handed for two bases and Davis to right. On these hits Baker and Murphy scored. Davis moved up to third on Barry's out. Herzog to Merkle and came home with the third run on Thomas' sacrifice fly to Murray. Bender ended the inning by lapping one to Fletcher.

In the fifth Fletcher went out on a brilliant running pickup and threw by Baker. Meyers hit to right for two lines to Davis. Both teams left for New York tonight. unfortunate injury to Racely, the star halfback of this season's new men. Racely had his eyelid badly cut in a collision with Warner while the varsity was running through the signals.

The quarterback and halfback came together with terrific force and a long gash was cut just above Racely's eye. Dacely was forced to retire from the practice and while it is not thought his injury is serious, it will be a day or two before he is able to return to scrimmage.

Hornberger was also out of the lineup and it is possible he will not return again this season. His grandmother, who has been opposed to his playing, is in a critical condition, the result of a compound fracture of the arm and her recovery is hampered by Hornberger's continuance in the game. For the time being, at least, he will have to withdraw and in order to meet the shift, Stiehm had a new lineup Tuesday.

Ellott was placed at center, Swanson and Pearson guards, and Shonka and Harmon tackles. Anderson is also being tried at guard and if Hornberger is kept out a fine game in echelon for the vacant position will probably lie between these two men.

Despite the fact that the Missouri game is but five days off there is very little worry in the Cornhusker camp. Advice from Missouri indicate the Tigers have an excellent line, which should trouble the Cornhuskers seriously. The varsity had little difficulty in scoring against the freshmen Tuesday evening. Owen Frank, Warner and Ernie Frank making several long runs. In fact the freshmen could not stop this trio of backs, and the varsity scored repeatedly. Given the ball on the five-yard line the freshmen finally managed to score after several fruitless efforts.
