The indictment was returned a year ago.

Ministers Argue Whether to Teach Bible in Schools The question "Shall the Bible be introduced into the Public Schools," was fully discussed at the quarterly rally of the Tri-City Baraca union at the First Methodist Episcopal church last evening. The general opinion of the audience was that the Bible should be installed in the schools, but the voting on the question was held over for the meeting of the executive committee next month. Rev. Frank A. Chase, pastor of the First Baptist church of Council Bluffs, was on the affirmative side of the question. In his arguments he said, "The Bible is the work of God and should be taught to the people. It has done more good for the world in general than any other medium on earth. If the Bible had been in the school for the last few generations there would not be at the present day so much wickedness and crime in the world. During the last three generations the population has increased 35 per cent and crime 50 per cent. No person's education is complete unless he is learned in the word of God." Charles A. Alden, financial secretary of the University of Omaha, was second man in the debate and talked on conditions. "If this Baraca union would only practice using the Bible instead of trying to introduce it into the schools, it would be a far greater move than the one they are at the present time contemplating. The churches and Sunday schools were built and are for religious purposes. "In my estimation it would be better to get all your friends to register next Saturday than to get the Bible in the public schools." "The purposes of the public school," said Rev. Charles W. Savidge, who argued the negative side of the question, "are solely educational and not for religious advancement. If you set out to install the Bible in the schools you will be law-breakers as the law of the state forbids the introducing of religious instruction of any kind in the public schools of the state. The place to teach the bible is at home, not in the schools."

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Annexationists Open Headquarters and Start Campaign. RESOLUTION ABOUT OFFICIALS. Anti Meet After Council Meeting and Proceed to Get Cohorts in Line—Live Stock Men to Lincoln.

Things went with a vim at the meeting of the annexationists held last night at the offices of Murdoch & Hancock, where a large crowd of sympathizers filled the offices and overflowed into the adjoining hall. Plans for the campaign were mapped out and W. H. Daly, secretary of the committee, was elected campaign manager. Mr. Daly immediately announced that he had acquired a suite of rooms in the Hannon block where the headquarters of the annexationists will be henceforth. The sense of the meeting was that every man must see to it that all the voters register before the end of the week. This was laid down as the paramount duty of all the annexationists, who have left four days only between now and registration day. In a stinging resolution the committee threatened legal proceedings against the city council in the event that body utilizing public moneys for the furtherance of their campaign to defeat the annexation measure.

Pass Warning Resolution. The following is the resolution: Whereas, The city council of South Omaha, Neb., did on the 10th day of October, 1911, pass a resolution instructing the city attorney "to take any and all necessary legal action seeking to prevent the submission of the questions of annexation at the ensuing general election, and to file in behalf of the city a protest and challenge to the pretended petition filed for same. And whereas, said resolution in effect seeks to divert city moneys from their appropriate funds to be used for personal uses, and also seeks to prevent the citizens of the city from expressing their rights as such citizens at the coming election. Therefore, be it resolved by this organization of South Omaha voters, that we as electors and citizens of the city of South Omaha hereby protest and object to the expenditure of the people's money for any such purposes as contemplated by such resolution as the same is clearly illegal and contrary to law. And be it further resolved that the executive committee of this organization be and they are hereby instructed in case any of the city money be so expended—to at once commence the appropriate legal proceeding against any and all of the city officials participating in said expenditure. E. T. FARNSWORTH, Chairman. W. B. DALY, Secretary.

Anti Meet Held. Last night's council meeting was but the prelude to one of the strongest gatherings of the anti-annexationists that has been held since the beginning of the agitation for the merger of the two cities.

The council meeting itself was marked by a distinct lack of interest on the part of the aldermen and attendants generally. While the city clerk droned through the reading of the minutes and resolutions, little knots of city employees and "anti" men gathered in the halls and rooms adjoining the council chamber. Present in the building were former Senator "Doc" Tanner, the members of the Fire and Police board, E. R. Leigh and W. A. Schneider of the school board, together with Superintendent N. M. Graham, City Attorney H. C. Murphy and his assistant, Sam Winters, Chief of the Fire Department John McKale and all the members of the city council. Besides the city officials there were present many of the business men and contractors of the city.

Mayor Trainor announced that the meeting was called to talk things over. It was conceded that the fight for annexation will be a most bitter one. Every one of the anti's has come out with the determination to put forth all their political strength to muster a vote that will overwhelm the mergerists at the polls. Among those who have watched the movement it is generally conceded that the fight will be made in the west end of the city, on and about what is known as "Indian hill." The northern section of the city will doubtless go to the annexationists, and the southern part, with a small fraction of loss, will go the opposite way. In the west part there will be a hard fight. For some reason this district, which has heretofore been hand and glove with the administration, fails to respond to the call to arms issued by their old leaders.

That there is dissatisfaction prevalent in the west section is admitted by the anti's themselves, but few seem able to diagnose the exact cause of the trouble. The leaders, however, are not disconcerted and there will be an immense amount of missionary work done between now and November 7, when the question of consolidation will be determined for or against at the polls.

Notice to Our Customers. Beware of fraud liquor solicitors, representing themselves as your door to be selling for J. Klein, which is not true, as I have no solicitors at all. J. Klein, Family Liquor Dealer, 24th and N, South Omaha.

Council Pushes Business. After some hesitation the city fathers met last night to dispose of the press of business that had accumulated during two weeks. The order of the meeting was strictly routine work. The resignation of former Assistant City Attorney R. E. McNalley was read by the clerk and ordered filed by the council. The appointment of E. R. Leigh to succeed Mr. McNalley was also filed together with Leigh's bond. Leigh tendered his resignation as member of the Board of Appraisers.

A resolution calling upon the Omaha Water company to construct a water main on Thirty-ninth avenue from F to G street was introduced by Councilman Tom Peterson. The motion was carried unanimously.

Chairman Mat Peterson of the finance committee took charge of the recommendation of the city treasurer calling upon the council to provide for obligations maturing November 1 at the New York fiscal agency and amounting to $12,952.57.

Live Stock Men to Lincoln. Representatives of the live stock interests at the stock yards at South Omaha are anticipating with a great deal of pleasure a trip which they are to take to Lincoln Saturday, October 28, upon the invitation of Prof. Smith of the College of Agriculture.

The invitation has been accepted by the board of directors and the advertising and publicity committee have been instructed to get as large a crowd together as possible to make this trip. Arrangements have already been made for a section of the grandstand for the foot ball game in the afternoon. It is the desire of the committee that the trip this year be made even more successful than the last one. "Marriage" by H.G. Wells

The same Wells who used to write that Jules Verne kind of stories—who dropped them for something better—who then wrote "Tonobungay" and "Mr. Polly"—who is today the greatest novelist writing in English, has written a long story for THE AMERICAN.

It is called "Marriage," because it begins where most novels leave off. It will interest you, because it deals with the most common problem of married life, too much spending on too little cash.

It is in solving the problem that Wells reveals the imagination that produced "The War of the Worlds," but it is in drawing the character of Marjorie that he shows his greatness as a writer.
