

Stunning New Coats for Your

Monday Selection

There has been such a steady and constantly increasing demand for coats from Benson & Thorne's that we have commenced each new week with practically a new stock.

The reasons for this increasing popularity are readily apparent to careful buyers.

Good service, which is obtained in double measure in the new reversible coats, has brought back the purchasers of former seasons, together with their friends, eager to procure coats of the style and quality which characterize our garments.

The prices are so moderately proportioned to the quality that cost is invariably a minor factor in a purchase here.

These cardinal features, together with a variety so large that even your most exacting requirements can be easily met, make this the one place to select your winter wrap.

Junior and small women's sizes.

The prices—$17.50, $19.75, $22.50, $25.00 and $29.75.

whether it left Hankow this morning or yesterday. The steamer referred to as leaving the scene, may have been the Red Cross steamer which attempted to aid the imperiled mission at Hankow, or a vessel which carried a messenger to some point where wireless or telegraph communication with distant points was possible. Occasionally news dispatches are mutilated by censors.

NEW GOVERNMENT EFFECTIVE

Revolutionary Control of Shanghai is Almost Perfect.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4.—The new revolutionary government which is apparently impersonal, nevertheless, effectively controlled the situation in Shanghai, and on the Yang-Tze delta today.

Since morning the rebel cause has been strengthened by the arming of all those who applied for rifles and ammunition. The rebels obtained not only the arsenal but the powder factory, gunboats, and an enormous supply of new and first-class Mauser rifles. Fully 10,000 rifles were given indiscriminately to applicants this evening.

The forts at Wu-Sung went over to the rebels without resistance, and the other-upter forts hoisted the white flag as if through a previous understanding with the rebel commander.

The revolutionists can hardly be said to have "seized" Shanghai. Wu-Sung, and the other up-river forts. It was simply a change of control in which practically everyone acquiesced. About ten persons were killed and twenty others injured, but most of the casualties were accidental, due to the explosion of dynamite used to open the gates of the cities, which had been practically closed.

The arsenal at Shanghai has a capacity for a great output, and is now completely manned and is being operated. It can manufacture 50,000 cartridges daily. The powder factory, which is the largest in China, is well stocked. Admiral Hain's squadron has depended entirely on this arsenal and powder factory for supplies.

Foreigners Not Disturbed.

Up to 6 o'clock tonight there had not been a single case of disturbance within the foreign settlement. Many foreigners visited the arsenal, everywhere they were treated with the utmost courtesy. The foreign troops which had been guarding the railway station of the Nanking-Shanghai railway continued on duty there today on the order of the British consul. This action continues to cause not only comment as being contrary to the policy of foreign neutrality, but apprehension lest the rebels interpret Manchus. The bonds of the railway company are owned in England and this appears to be the only reason for British interference.

There is not the slightest reason for anticipating trouble in Shanghai and the neighborhood so far as foreigners are concerned.

Rear Admiral Murdoch, commander of the American Asiatic fleet, landed 200 marines today and marched them through the main streets of the settlement.

The main street of the settlement, Nanking road, is now a mass of revolutionary flags. Nearly every store displays the rebel colors. All Mandarins have found refuge in the foreign concessions.

The American cruiser Albany has gone to Wu-Sung.

Up to the present the revolutionists have shown no disposition to interfere with the telegraph or cable lines.

HYMENEAL

Scroggins-McDermut.

A pretty autumn wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents in Bellevue when Miss Genevieve McDermut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McDermut, and John H. Scroggins of Fort Crook, were married by Rev. Stephen Phelps, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. C. L. Plank of Elgin, Neb., sister of the bride, played the wedding march while Miss Vail McDermut and Richard Clark, were the attendants of the bride and groom. The bride wore a white Panama tissue dress with white satin and pearl trimmings. Following the ring ceremony, a wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Scroggins will make their home in Bellevue.

Crabtree-Taylor.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—J. Allen Crabtree and Miss Edith May Taylor were married by County Judge James Livingston at his office in Tecumseh, Thursday afternoon. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Crabtree, living southwest of the city, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, whose home is south of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Crabtree will go to house-keeping on a farm near Elk Creek.

DEATH RECORD.

Mrs. Julia Murphy.

CRESTON, Ia., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Mrs. Julia Murphy, an old resident of this city, passed away at the family home yesterday from the result of a lung trouble. She had been in poor health for some time. She had lived here for over forty years. Her husband died a few months ago, just a few weeks before they would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Mrs. Murphy was the mother of twelve children, eight of whom survive her.

Mrs. Perry Lewis.

HOLDREGE, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—This afternoon from Ufbaan church near here occurred the funeral of Mrs. Perry Lewis of this county. Mrs. Lewis was committed to the asylum at Hastings a second time on Monday of this week, and Tuesday night very unexpectedly passed away. The causes of her death were given as acute meningitis and heart failure. It being insisted that she in no way aided in ending her life. She was 55 years old and leaves a family consisting of her husband and several children.

Safe at Arthur Blown Open.

IDA GROVE, Ia., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Yeggs blew the safe in the People's store at Arthur, Ida county, and took $50 in cash, notes and drafts. They covered the safe with blankets to deaden the explosion and no one in town saw or heard them. In fact, when the proprietor opened the store in the morning, he was the first to discover anything wrong. It is thought to have been the work of a gang of yeggs working out of Sioux City, and to be the same men who have turned a dozen similar jobs in northwest Iowa the last month. They made blows at Ute, Dow, Storm Lake and many other points. They left no clue at Arthur.

Boy Dies of Eating Match Heads.

FAYETTE, Ia., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Phosphorus poisoning is pronounced the cause of the death of Ralph Bills, the 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bills. The child was taken very ill and a physician summoned. At first it was thought to be an attack of indigestion, but it was soon manifest that the child was poisoned. Search revealed that he had eaten the heads off several matches.

Testimony for Judge Estelle from Attorney T. J. Mahoney

The following statement has been made by T. J. Mahoney in fairness to Judge Estelle.

"I am not in sympathy with certain things that have been said against Judge Estelle by some of the gentlemen with whom I had the pleasure of co-operating during the activities of the civic federation. I have known Judge Estelle intimately for more than twenty-five years, and I can recall no act of his in public or private, which would justify the charge that he has any leaning toward gamblers or other law-breakers. Neither do I think it fair to say that he is allied with the interests. The largest judgment, and I think also the second largest, ever entered in our district court against a corporation on account of an injury to an individual was entered by Judge Estelle.

"There have undoubtedly been instances in which Judge Estelle's rulings have sustained the contentions of corporations, and even of criminals; but he has shown no unwillingness to rule against them. Each party to an action has some rights that the court should protect. John Marshall, the patron saint of the American judiciary, made a very unpopular ruling when he saved the life of Aaron Burr, whom the whole country believed to be a traitor. Roger B. Taney called down upon himself the execration of many good people by his opinion in the Dred Scott case. Yet the judgment of history is that these great jurists respected the limitations upon their authority, and simply pronounced the law as it was instead of undertaking to make law. A judge who is fit for the place is not a free agent. He must declare the law as he believes it to be, not as he would wish it.

"I am not familiar with the details of the Erdman trial. I contributed to a fund for Erdman's defense because I believed there was a combination bent on securing his conviction whether guilty or innocent. Therefore I wanted to see him properly defended. It was not the judge, but the jury that had to pass on the truthfulness of the evidence. I have no clearly defined conviction now as to whether Erdman was guilty or innocent. Some of the witnesses against him were doubtless persons of not very high character, but their credibility was for the jury to decide, and not the judge. In some of the prosecutions conducted by the Civic Federation we were compelled to offer witnesses whose records were not above reproach, but whom we believed to know a certain relevant fact. I see no impossibility in a perfectly fair judge being convinced of Erdman's guilt, and if he was guilty, certainly the penalty was none too severe.

"I consider Judge Estelle capable and upright, intellectually and morally, and I believe it my duty to say so when I see him the object of an attack which appears to me to be the result of mistaken zeal."

SYRACUSE TIES MICHIGAN

Forward Pass in Final Quarter Makes Touchdown Possible.

PROBST HERO FOR THE VISITORS

Right Tackle Takes Ball from Fogs and by Means of Spectacular Run Makes Michigan's Two-Yard Line.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 4.—Outplayed for three quarters of the game and outwitted by many pounds, the Syracuse university football eleven, in the final quarter of today's struggle with Michigan, uncorked a forward pass that ultimately resulted in a touchdown and enabled the easterners to tie the Michigan, 6 to 6, after apparently being hopelessly outclassed and beaten. Right Tackle Probst is the hero of the unexpected tie which Syracuse regards as a victory. Grabbing the ball from Fogs on Syracuse's forty-five-yard line, he dashed along the south end of the gridiron, dodged one man, straight armed another and never stopped until Picard and Wells brought him to earth on Michigan's two-yard line. Fogs immediately plunged through tackle for a touchdown. Day quickly kicked goal.

Michigan's only touchdown came in the first quarter on a line buck by Thompson. Dogie kicked goal.

Popcorn Harvest is Big.

IDA GROVE, Ia., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The pop corn harvest in Ida county is bringing great results and the crop will be a big one. The popcorn is starting to move. Ten cars of popcorn were shipped out of Arthur the last week and twenty-five cars out of Ida Grove, most of it in shelled popcorn. The popcorn market of the world is controlled in Sac and Ida counties and at Odebolt, Arthur and Ida Grove there are immense elevators for handling the corn. Every year the big breakfast food companies send special agents here to contract for trainloads of the corn, as it is used largely in making breakfast food.

REPUBLICANS TO GIVE THE TICKET UNITED SUPPORT

progressive republicans are too wise to repeat their mistake.

"Logic never was Mr. Bryan's strong point. If the great majority of the republican party are progressive, as Mr. Bryan believes, why should they leave a party which they can control and attach themselves to a party which neither he nor they can control? There is a primary election in the spring. At that time the people themselves will select their party candidates. If the republican progressives are in the majority, they will select progressive candidates, and there are enough republicans in Nebraska to elect them. Why then should they dissipate their strength and wander away after strange gods?"

Should Prepare for 1912.

"It is urged, however, that the election of the present state ticket will be an endorsement of the president and his administration, and therefore progressive republicans should vote the democratic ticket and so rebuke Mr. Taft. If progressive republicans desert the state ticket this year, how will they elect their candidates next year in case they nominate them? Will the democrats help them? It will take all the republicans to elect the state ticket this year, and it will take all the republicans to carry the state for next year. If the ranks close up this year, there will be no faltering in the fight next year.

"As a matter of fact, the election of the republican state ticket this fall will be no indication of the outcome within the party next spring. By common consent, all elements of the party are united in support of the republican candidates in this election, with the understanding that next year's differences of opinion are to be settled next year, and the present state ticket is to be elected this year. Acting upon that understanding, the leaders of the progressive movement are doing splendid service, and they will have their full share of the credit for the splendid victory so near at hand.

"It has been said too that the republican state committee is a Taft committee, and that it will be organized for President Taft when this election is over. The committee will not be organized or used prior to the primaries for any candidate—neither for Taft nor La Follette. When the republicans by popular vote have selected their candidates, then the committee will organize and elect them. In the primary contest the files and records of the committee will be open and equally available to all republicans, and there will be no discrimination between them.

"The committee was selected in the last state convention by senatorial districts. It represents the whole republican party, and not a part of it. It knows no difference or distinction between republicans holding different views or preferences for United States senator or president. We are all republicans, and as such are moving forward to a great victory next year, and to a still greater victory next year. In these victories there will be glory enough for every element of the party. Let us not fetter away our strength and our opportunity."

HENRY C. BEATTIE, JR. ASKS FOR WRIT OF ERROR

RICHMOND, Va., No. 4.—Lawyers for Henry C. Beattie, Jr. under death sentence for the murder of his wife, filed with the supreme court of appeals today a petition for a writ of error. This constitutes an appeal from the judgment of the court at Chesterfield which sentenced Beattie to be electrocuted on November 24. Unless the court gives a decision before the day set for Beattie's execution, this move will act as a stay.

ATTENTION

Republican Voters in the School Election

If The Bee can conscientiously advise my election—can't you take its advice and vote in all Wards, on paper ballot for me?

Evening Bee, Thursday, Oct. 26th, says in part:

"Although a republican paper, The Bee agrees with you, senator, and seconds your motion for all decent people, whether republicans or democrats, to vote against Dr. Harry A. Foster and to mark their school board ballots for Charles T. Walker, the democratic nominee. We have convinced ourselves by inquiry that Mr. Walker is a reputable citizen, a property owner, with children in the public schools, and would make a good member of the board."

DON'T DIVIDE THE "DECENT" VOTE.
It is Dangerous To the School Board.
Walker or Foster—WHICH?

The best recommendation I have is the class of papers that urge my election—World-Herald, Bee, Danish Pioneer, Potrook, Posten, Osveta, Western Laborer, Etc.

C. T. WALKER

Private citizen and regular democratic nominee, without opposition, for member of Board of Education from Twelfth Ward.

I never before sought office. I have no political ambitions to promote. I will make no play for popularity, but will give the 12th ward the kind of representation it wants. I will work as manfully with other members in the cause of local betterment and will fearlessly oppose anything which is not. Official prestige could not benefit my business. I have no friends to reward, no political enemies to punish; an unpledged service. Competent employees of the school board doing their duty, have nothing to fear. I'll take more interest in the schools than in the school "jobs." You will not regret having elected me. I can say or promise no more.
