

ALDRICH RAPS EX-GOVERNOR

Executive Lines Up Mr. Shallenberger for Speeches in State.

SCORES HIM FOR APPOINTEES

Present Governor Tells What Democratic Friends of Bryan Are in Office at His Office.

HOLDREGE, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special Telegram.)—In the course of his speech at Holdrege Friday Governor Aldrich paid attention to some remarks that ex-Governor A. C. Shallenberger is making in his addresses throughout western Nebraska.

As reported, Governor Shallenberger is charging that Governor Aldrich is ungrateful to Mr. Bryan, that he is going about the state playing cheap politics and using his office and influence wrongfully. The speaker took up the charges and answered them in detail, among other things saying that Governor Shallenberger, if he were conversant with the facts or had any desire to tell the truth to his various audiences concerning Governor Aldrich's ingratitude to Mr. Bryan, would not have made one single assertion that appears in the state press.

As to these charges Governor Aldrich said the record of appointment of his office would show that many of Mr. Bryan's democratic friends hold prominent and important appointments under his administration and these appointments were made in recognition of the services that Bryan democrats in the campaign had rendered to the cause of good government, as well as the further fact that they are eminently qualified to fill the positions.

Democrat in Asylum. For instance, the speaker said that had Shallenberger been fair he would have said that at the present time Dr. Williams, a Bryan democrat, is the superintendent of the big Lincoln asylum, and as first physician to that institution he would find another Bryan democrat by the name of Dr. Peterson.

Had he wanted to have pursued the truth a little further he would have found that at the head of the pure food department he would find a Bryan democrat by the name of Jackson. And it might be worthy of comment in this connection that Commissioner Jackson was the nominee and candidate upon the last democratic ticket for superintendent of public instruction. And had the gentleman been zealous a little further in pursuit of truth he would have found that the secretary to the fire warden, Miss Mamie Muldoon, one of Governor Shallenberger's appointees, was still holding the same position and drawing the highest salary of any woman in the state house today, $1,500 a year.

Is This Ingratitude? The speaker then said: "May dear governor, if this is ingratitude make the most of it."

Continuing Governor Aldrich declared had his recent excellency still have had the strength and the courage and the fertility to have been hunting for truth a little further, he would have also found that the secretary to the commissioner of labor was placed in that position because it was brought to his attention that the appointment of this young woman would be especially pleasing to Mr. Bryan and the governor said: "I was informed that Mr. Bryan desired this by no less a person than Richard L. Metcalf of the Commoner. 'Again Mr. Shallenberger, if this be ingratitude, make the most of it.'"

"And when the gentleman talks about ingratitude and partisan politics," the

ERUPTION CAUSED TERRIBLE SUFFERING

Baby's Body Covered with Large Sores. Seemed to Itch and Burn. Finger Nails Fell Off Little or No Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In 6 Weeks Cured.

"When my baby boy was six months old, his body was completely covered with large sores that seemed to itch and burn, and cause terrible suffering. The eruption began in pimples which would open and run, making large sores. His hair came out and finger nails fell off, and the sores were over the entire body, causing little or no sleep for baby or myself. Great scars would come off when I removed his shirt.

"I tried a great many remedies, but nothing would help him, till a friend induced me to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment but a short time before I could see that he was improving, and in six weeks time he was entirely cured. He had suffered about six weeks before we tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment although we had tried several other things, and doctor fees. I think the Cuticura Remedies will do all that is claimed for them, and a great deal more." (Signed) Mrs. Noble Tubman, Dodson, Mead, Jan. 28, 1911.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp of infants, children, and adults. A single case of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient. Although sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book on the skin, will be sent free, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 15A, Boston.

The length of time it takes to break up a cold with "Seventy-seven" depends upon how soon the treatment begins— Taken early cuts the Cold short promptly— Taken during the prevalence of Colds, it preoccupies the system and prevents its invasion— Taken after the Cold has gotten seated, it is quite as effective but takes longer— It pays to keep "Seventy-seven" handy. In the Stage World

ATTRACTIONS IN OMAHA.

America: "The Wolf." Boyd: "The Campus." Gayety: "Burlington." Grand: "Burlington." Orpheum: "Yadaville." Sixteenth: "The Outsiders." Will be played at each of these theaters.

More than a press agent's yarn, it seems, prompted a recently circulated story that Henry Miller would give up acting to become a sort of glorified stage director and "producer" for Charles Frohman. That manager and the firm of Klaw & Erlanger joined in an offer to Miller whereby he should organize and direct a company of players to try out the new plays of the "bookers" providing, in the arrangement, it is added, he would be called upon to produce no play of which he, personally, did not approve. If a play, upon public hearing, proved successful, it was to be transferred to the mercies of another cast, while the original players busied themselves with another manuscript. The plan was hit upon as a solution of the stagnation brought about this season by Mr. Frohman's illness and consequent curtailment of his activity. Mr. Miller has been acting in Henry Sophus Sheldon's "The Havoc." He produced in San Francisco "The End of the Bridge," a play that took the Harvard prize offered by Prof. George Pierce Baker of that university. The play was written by a young woman of Radcliffe, a college for girls, and was acted for twelve weeks in Boston by a resident stock company. The San Francisco newspapers expressed disapproval of the play, which would appear to be a variant of "The Professor's Love Story."

The genesis of the present theatrical season promises to be "The Red Rose," which will be seen at the Brandeis theater tomorrow night and extending over until after Wednesday night, with a popular matinee on Wednesday. The production is under the management of John C. Fisher, the noted producer of the famous "Floradora" and "The Silver Slipper," which is, in itself, a guarantee that the cast will be of unusual excellence, the production material, the costumes, of the richest material obtainable, and the performance as a whole will be of the highest order. A popular priced matinee will be given on Wednesday.

Miss Raymond, who is a member of a wealthy eastern family, was delightfully entertained at many of the most exclusive homes in England and France.

"But in spite of all my good times, I was glad to get back to America again," said the young singer, "for there is such a different feeling over here. When I was abroad I collected souvenirs from all places of interest. At home I have what I call my 'souvenir room.' My friends just love to visit it, for it contains so many curios. And then each object suggests a topic for conversation. My, how I can talk when I am in my 'souvenir room.'" governor said, "let me call his attention to the fact that when he was elected governor he displaced one of the most eminent specialists of the entire west who was at the head of the Hastings asylum for mere political reasons, and appointed a man in his stead who wasn't even a good horse doctor. This same Shallenberger appointee presented a bill to the state board for $25 in payment of a whisky bill, a lot of fine whiskeys and wines, which from the very nature of things could not have been properly used for medicine without question. They were used for hot toddies and other salubrious purposes that a sober superintendent would have no occasion to touch. The management of that institution by the Shallenberger physician is notorious."

Displaced Dr. Say. "Again," said the governor, "permit me to call the gentleman's attention to the fact that when he was elected governor he displaced one of the most eminent specialists of the entire west who was at the head of the Hastings asylum for mere political reasons, and appointed a man in his stead who wasn't even a good horse doctor. This same Shallenberger appointee presented a bill to the state board for $25 in payment of a whisky bill, a lot of fine whiskeys and wines, which from the very nature of things could not have been properly used for medicine without question. They were used for hot toddies and other salubrious purposes that a sober superintendent would have no occasion to touch. The management of that institution by the Shallenberger physician is notorious."

"Let me call," said the governor, "the eminent gentleman's attention to the situation at the Norfolk asylum, where for partisan politics he displaced another eminent specialist and in his stead put in an ordinary practitioner unfitted for the place. Internal dissension broke out in that institution also."

Money Saved to People. The speaker then went on to say that had he the time to devote to this subject he could show where the administration was saving to the people of this state hundreds of dollars a month by reason of the business management of these several institutions. He said, incidentally, that he might call Governor Shallenberger's attention to the fact that he had under arrest at the present time one of his appointees for embezzlement done at the Beatrice institution for the feeble minded.

"My controversy with Mr. Bryan has been open before the people of the state of Nebraska and has been political and not personal," declared Governor Aldrich. "Can the ex-governor say that his assaults upon Mr. Bryan during the last ten years have been equally open?" "It is not a question of ingratitude, it is a question of right. It is my right to differ from Mr. Bryan in the attitude that should be assumed and taken in these important matters and the ex-governor will do well to refresh his memory on some recent history."

Bell Company Files Suit in Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 4.—The Wisconsin Telephone company (Bell) brought action before the State Railroad commission today to prevent that body from enforcing the 1911 law requiring physical connection between telephone companies. It asks for dismissal of the petition of Frank Winter of LaCrosse for an order directing physical connection between the lines of the Wisconsin and LaCrosse telephone companies. The Bell company maintains the law is unconstitutional in that its enforcement would interrupt and interfere with interstate commerce. The hearing was set for November 23. This is regarded as a test case by independents of the country.

Lone Bandit Robs Bank of All Money in Sight and Runs

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Nov. 4.—A lone robber late today robbed the bank of Hedger, Mont., 100 miles south of here, of nearly $1,000 and escaped. Joseph Dahl, assistant cashier, was the only person in the bank when the bandit entered, and, covering the banker with a revolver, demanded all the money in sight. Dahl was a little slow in complying and the robber fired a shot over his head. Then Dahl hastily pushed the cash through the window.

With this the robber rushed from the building, mounted his horse and rode away. Citizens organized into posse and started in pursuit, but they found no trace of the robber, who is thought to have headed for the Big Snowy mountains.

Produce Show is Held in Florence

The Enterprise club of Florence opened its produce show Friday morning with over 200 entries. Three long tables were filled with apples and two with corn, while on another were potatoes and on another cabbage, pumpkins, turnips and peas. A table that attracted a great deal of attention was the one on which bread was exhibited.

There is a total prize list of $150 and prizes will be awarded Saturday. The exhibits are all grown in Florence and Union precincts and are eye-openers of what can be raised here in dry times.

William Loneragan, Frank Brown and August Froehman are the judges. The show ends tonight.

Lives in Log Cabin; Inherits Millions

PETERSBURG, Ind., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Elizabeth Stout, who with her husband lives in a log cabin and tends a ten-acre plot, today received notice that she is one of fifteen heirs to an estate worth $75,000, a fourth of which is in available cash. The notice follows the expiration of 100-year leases on property in Bloomington, Del., and Copenhagen, Denmark.

Telegrams Free to City Limits

The Western Union Telegraph company today abolishes its mile limit on free delivery for messages and hereafter messages will be delivered free of charge to any part of the city, some points being four or five miles from the office. The same arrangement goes into effect today in cities all over the United States.
