Leo A. Hoffmann CANDIDATE FOR CORONER OF DOUGLAS CO.

I am a young man thirty years of age, and now for the first time seek public office at a regular election. I believe myself well qualified for the position of coroner, having had more than fifteen years' experience in my professional and several years' experience as assistant to the coroner. Believing in good government and purity in politics, I am not connected with any clique or ring, but stand absolutely for conditions that will guarantee to every voter an actual voice in the governmental affairs of our city and county. Being one of a large family, through experience I fully appreciate the feelings and conditions of the working man and guarantee to all a square deal. My reputation professionally and otherwise is open for inspection. We are living in a progressive community and I believe the coroner's office should be conducted in a manner that will place it on as high a plane as that enjoyed by the most up-to-date cities. If elected, will establish a public Coroner's office and a Coroner's morgue separate from my own business. This is a much needed improvement, and will lead to other progressive ideas in the Coroner's office.

Three Bodies Are Recovered in Ruins

AUBURN, Cal., Nov. 5.—Three bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of the Mountain Quarries company's bridge across the American river, the east span of which collapsed at 11 o'clock last night. Five workmen were injured, and as there were thirty men on the bridge at the time of the disaster it is believed that still more casualties will be discovered.

The victims of the accident were working under the superstructure building columns. The concrete pillars gave way on account of work having been rushed on the bridge to prepare it for the winter rains, the concrete not being firmly set. The men caught under the sinking arch were entombed. Those who escaped were at work above.

Ten men were working at the water's edge. The river is swollen and the force man expressed fear that the pillars would not withstand the strain. The swinging of a lantern carried by a workman above and throwing a shadow out across the torrent gave the men below the first warning of danger. They saw the superstructure sway for an instant and, as the supporting concrete pillars sagged and gave way, the great arch above came crashing down before a man could move.

Two of the workmen were swept into the river and out among the boulders and eddies of the rushing midstream. They fought their way across. The other eight were entombed in the debris. Some of the men were thrown into the river. Others fought their way to the river bank over the ruined span.
