

Miss School Teacher

Your Best Dressed Pupils Are Clothed Here.

Hundreds of them from all over Nebraska—you have no doubt often admired some particularly clever little garment with the Benson & Thorne label.

Wouldn't you like to secure wearing apparel for yourself, so distinctively styled as to draw favorable attention no matter where you go?

Then, too, we specialize in sizes for small women and you who find it difficult to obtain wearing apparel in the smaller towns will find here a store adapted to your every requirement.

We particularly mention a beautiful showing of suits at moderate prices. Embracing every favored material and in every color which authoritative fashions demand.

Small women's sizes, 32 to 38. Prices, $22.50, $25, $29.75 up to $50. Junior sizes, 15 and 17—many small women are fitted in these sizes. Prices, $15, $19.75, $22.50 and up.

The Polo and Reversible Coats, which we were first to show in Omaha, come in many handsome mixtures and color combinations.

The Reversible two-tone coats may be worn either side out, thus effecting a double service.

Other coats of broadcloth, mannish mixtures, velvets, chin-chillas, chevrons in rich colors and pleasing styles.

Junior and small women's sizes. Prices $15, $17.50, $19.75, $22.50, $25 up to $60.

Every accessory to the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman is here in abundance—the new man-tailored shirts, waists, skirts, footwear, hose, dainty neckwear and a beautiful line of furs, sets and coats. A visit to this popular store will be of mutual pleasure.

Property of Late J. S. Polk of Des Moines Thus Distributed.

FIVE ENVELOPES IN A HAT

Each One Worth Half Million Dollars and Containing List of Property that is to Go to Holder.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 7.—Five envelopes worth a half million dollars each, were drawn out of a hat here today in the settlement of the estate of the late J. S. Polk. The drawing took place at the home of one of the testator's sons, and five heirs, in their turns, reached into the hat and claimed the envelopes, which contained the lists of real estate and other securities.

J. S. Polk was the pioneer street railway man in Des Moines. He came here in the early days and grew up, financially and otherwise, with the city from the time it was a village.

When he died recently he left a will which provided that his property should be divided into five equal parts, the beneficiaries to be his widow, Harry S. and John Polk, sons, and Mrs. George B. Hippee and Mrs. A. G. Malah, daughters.

The drawing was suggested by Executor George B. Hippee in order that there might be no complaints afterwards. The deeds to the property are being made out in accordance with the arrangement.

New Line May Be Go.

Information received by the Commercial club here today leads to the opinion that it may be possible to secure the building of the interurban railway from Council Bluffs to Des Moines by the company, which is partly backed by former Governor Shaw, in connection with the recent purchase of the Atlantic road. Two separate organizations and surveys are ready for any company prepared to build the line.

Boy With Gun and Mask Jailed at Boone

BOONE, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Albert Johnson, a young man 19 years old, of Jewell Junction, was picked up here early yesterday morning by Northwest Iowa officers, charged with carrying a gun. When searched the officers found a black mask, such as bandits wear, in one of his pockets. The lad had been in the room at Boone for a time for robbing a Northwestern car, but got out on good behavior. He was sent to the county jail for one month, on failure to pay the fine of $100. It developed during the day that Johnson had passed a worthless check on a business man of this city in order to get money to go to Omaha with. Johnson admitted to the officers that he had done this and the county attorney will investigate this matter during the imprisonment.

MARSHALLTOWN GIRL CAPTURES PEEPING TOM

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—"Stood up" by an unnamed young woman who made the "bluff" that she was armed and stood "pat" on it, a local "Jack the Peeper" fell into the clutches of the police and this morning paid a fine of $100 and costs in the police court. Last night when Miss Tillie Baxter, who, with her sister, Ha, occupies a residence in the west part of the city, heard a noise outside the house she investigated through the window and saw a man peeping through it. Going to the door, she came suddenly upon him as he stood just outside the threshold. Threatening to shoot him if he moved she held him up while her sister hurried the police patrol to their aid. When arrested he was found the man was Gust Hockerson, a teamster living in the same block. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

NELS TROSSETT BURNED TO DEATH AT DUNCOMBE, IA.

WEBSTER CITY, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The Nels Trossett home in Duncombe burned to the ground last night, and in its embers was found the charred body of Mr. Trossett, a prominent citizen of the town. Mrs. Trossett was away and Mr. Trossett spent the evening at some alone smoking. Late in the evening the house was discovered to be on fire and the department was called out. Firemen searched as much of the house as could be entered, but were unable, on account of flames, to get into an inside bedroom. Entrance was chopped in from the outside and here the body of Trossett was found. It is supposed that the fire was accidentally set by Trossett's smoking.

CHECK FOUND IN COAL CAR RETURNED TO OWNER

CRESTON, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The check found by Switchman Charles Hitchcock for $100, in a coal car in the Creston yards recently has been returned to the man who drew it, through the efforts of one of the local banks. They interviewed the Montana bank, on which the check was drawn and received the information that the W. M. Boes, who drew the check, might be found in Cedar Springs, Ga., and the check was forwarded to him. As yet it is a mystery how the check drawn by Mr. Boes in Georgia on a billings, Mont., bank, happened to be found in a coal car in Creston, Ia.

CAPTAIN STRECKFUS IENIES STEAMBOAT STORY

DAVENPORT, Ia., Nov. 7.—Denial of published reports that the through steamboat route on the Mississippi river was no longer in prospect because of the abandonment of the lower river territory by the Streckfus steamship company, was made today by Captain John Streckfus, president of the company.

ALEXANDER HUNTER ARRESTED AT CRAIG, MO.

GLENWOOD, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Alex Hunter, the alleged murderer of John Wagner, the hunter and fisher of East Platte, was brought in last evening by Deputy Sheriff Albert Edwards. The arrest was made at Craig, Mo., where Hunter was working for a farmer. He submitted to arrest without resistance and denies all knowledge of the killing. He is confined in the county jail here.

Solon Farmer Whose Barn Was Burned is Again Threatened

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—John L. Adams, the Solon farmer, whose barn was burned by incendiaries Saturday night and who for the last six months has received anonymous communications demanding thousands of dollars and who was shot at from ambush on one occasion as he was returning to his home late at night, this morning received another anonymous letter, the writer this time demanding $7,000. The writer admitted that he was the incendiary who set fire to Adams' barn Saturday night and warned the farmer that other attempts at his life would be made if he did not come across with the money.

Hogs Eat Pointer Dog and Chase Hunters

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The herd of hogs owned by Evan Williams, a farmer living just west of Iowa City, which last summer would have eaten his daughter, Anna, alive, had she not been timely rescued by farm hands, yesterday set upon a party of four hunters of Iowa City, chased their pointer dog beneath a pile of brushwood, and devoured him alive, the hunters themselves only escaping after an exciting chase across the bog. The hunting party included Fred Kriz, James Dolzeral, Tony Metzler and Phil Katzenmeyer.

Complaint Filed Over an Overcharge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The Peace Grain and Seed company of Beatrice, Neb., today filed a complaint with the Interstate Commerce commission against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, alleging an overcharge on a shipment of shelled corn from Burwell, Neb., to Norton, Kan. Upon this shipment Pearce paid 12 cents per hundred pounds and later was assessed and paid on the same shipment at the rate of 17 cents, the express charge being $1.02. The cause of all this little row is that the company neglected to supply its agents at Beatrice and Burwell with new schedules.

Beattie May Go to Cell in Penitentiary

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 7.—Unless the state supreme court of appeals grants a writ for Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., before tomorrow, the young man convicted of the murder of his wife will be removed from the Richmond city jail to the death cell at the state penitentiary. According to law a person condemned to execution must be lodged in the penitentiary fifteen days before the date set for his death. The court which has under advisement Beattie's petition for a writ of error will sit tomorrow, but may not give its decision. If it should not decide the appeal before the date set for the execution, that would act as a stay.

DEATH RECORD.

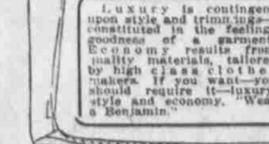

Daniel O. Jarvis. STURGIS, S. D., Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Daniel O. Jarvis, aged 82, died at the home of his son, John, near Tilford last night. He ate a hearty supper and retired as usual, and was dead in bed this morning when his son went to call him for breakfast. Old age was the cause of death.

Rock Island Shop Men Will Strike

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The spread of the railroad shopmen's strike to the Central of Georgia railway and the calling of a strike on the Rock Island are matters of only a few days, according to J. W. Kline, president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers, today.

MANCHUS STILL HOLDING PEKING

was present when the statement was made.

Dr. Wu said that while he was loath to see the Chinese government because of his former close connection with the Manchu government, he was now practically forced to aid the cause of China.

He announced that Chen T. Chuang, the governor of Soochow and formerly governor of Mukden, who was the first governor to come over to the reformers, had been elected governor of the entire province of Kiang Su.

Cheng Te Chuang, he said was a strong man and would be able to control the revolutionists and guarantee order and the safety of foreigners. Ninety per cent of the population he said was supporting the present status. Dr. Wu continued:

"Personally I favored a limited monarchy, retaining the emperor as a figurehead, with a strong Chinese cabinet and constitution, but the prevailing sentiment appears to favor a republic.

"In each province a governor will be selected, each city and town giving its allegiance to the new government. The whole people of China, north and south, are united against Manchu supremacy and the government at Peking, which is corrupt and prone to be oppressive.

"I admit there are tremendous difficulties before us, but we must win. We guarantee an adherence to foreign treaties, whether they were made fairly or unfairly. We will pay our obligations to foreign nations and open all the ports of China to foreign trade. This will be guaranteed an enormous advantage to all foreigners as well as to China.

"I believe the institution of a republic is feasible," he said.

"If the young emperor were allowed to remain on the throne a short time perhaps it would be better, but the selection of a new dynasty head and a new emperor would be certain to create jealousies and produce men of anarchy which would result in the shedding of much blood.

"The plans of the reforms have been considered for six years. We cannot hope to accomplish everything within a short time. Trade will be temporarily damaged and the people inconvenienced and frightened. We are determined to establish a stable government and hope to give China extra territorial rights and complete autonomy."

Both Dr. Wu Ting-fang and Wen Tsung Yao said there would be no reason for foreign interference, the suggestion of which they deprecated as dangerous and unpalatable to the people. They said the reformers wished recognition as belligerents wherever a responsible local government had been set up, as at Shanghai, Wu kang and elsewhere.

In conclusion they both declared the trend of the world was toward a republican form of government and that

Catarrh and Blood Disease—Doctors Failed to Cure

Miss Marie F. Dawkins, 1213 Lafayette St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with catarrh and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took two bottles of this medicine and was well and strong as ever. I feel like a different person and recommend Hood's to any one suffering from catarrh."
