

Nebraska STANISCI'S CASE TO COURT Appeal Being Tried with Defendant Absent.

REPORT HE HAS FLOWN COUNTRY Man Sentenced to Penitentiary for Seven Years for Arson Will Forfeit $5,000 Bond Unless Returns.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Sentenced to the state penitentiary for seven years for the crime of arson, Theodore Stanisci's appeal was tried in the state supreme court today despite the absence of the appellant. The local man gave a bail bond in the sum of $5,000 when he was convicted in the district court of this county. Frank Edgerton, assistant attorney general, who is handling the case for the state, informed the supreme court by brief today that Stanisci is currently reported as having converted his property into money and to have made his escape from the United States.

The brief further asks that the judgment of the lower court be affirmed and that the bail be declared forfeited in case the appellant does not make his return to the jurisdiction of the supreme court.

Stanisci is charged with having procured Ray Wilcam to burn a house for him, the insurance thereon being divided in accordance with an agreement made between the two previous to the time the house in question was fired.

F. D. Reed, Pioneer Editor, is Dead at Home in Shelton

SHELTON, Neb., Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Frank D. Reed, editor and founder of the Shelton Clipper, died at his home here this evening at 5:15 o'clock. He was taken with an acute attack of appendicitis on Friday last, and though for a few hours his condition seemed critical, the attending physicians relieved him to such an extent it was thought an operation could be avoided. A second attack proved too great for his strength, and he steadily failed until death came.

Mr. Reed was a native of Ohio, where his aged mother still resides. He learned the printer's trade before coming west, and after working in Omaha established the Clipper something like twenty-five years ago. He was always active in the Nebraska Press association and was elected president four years ago. He leaves, besides a widow, five children: Mrs. E. L. Tempin of Omaha, Clifford, Wauneta, Geneva and Frank. Mr. Reed was about 64 years of age.

Witnesses in Lorimer Case May Be Arrested on Charge of Perjury

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Rumors that the senatorial investigating committee on the Lorimer election would charge certain of the witnesses with perjury on account of the contradictory statements that have been made from the witness chair have added interest to the hearing when it was resumed today.

It was thought some decisive action would be taken by the senators hearing the evidence. Just who was to be called as the first witness of the day was not announced.

C. E. Richardson of Muskegon, Okla., formerly of Mount Vernon, Ill., recalled as a witness today, was cross-examined regarding details of testimony which he gave yesterday. He insisted that former State Representative William C. Blair exhibited several $100 bills at a base ball game at Centralia, Ill., on July 30, 1909.

Sidney Yarbrough was again called to the stand. Attorney Harney of Mr. Lorimer's counsel, attacked Yarbrough's testimony in relation to a meeting between Lee O'Neil Browne and Charles A. White at the St. Nicholas hotel in Springfield May 25, 1909.

In the main Yarbrough related the same story that he told at the Lee O'Neil Browne trials and before the previous senatorial investigating committee. The witness said that Charles A. White said he was offered $2,000 to vote for Lorimer.

Socialism and Like Matters Ruled Out of McNamara Case

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—Socialists conflict between capital and labor, and like matters were pushed out of the McNamara murder case by Judge Walter Bordwell today, insofar as the court's position is concerned. Talesman George W. Morton, 75 years old went along with them, being excused by the court over the protest of the defense, who asserted that Morton's only disqualification was the reading of certain copies of the "Appeal to Reason," a socialist paper.

Morton was challenged by Assistant District Attorney G. Ray Horton on the ground that he was of "faulty mind," and being 75 years old he might not be able to endure the strain of a long trial and had shown garrulity.

Attorney Clarence S. Darrow said: "This man is challenged because he reads the Appeal to Reason. Because one man is not prejudiced against us we must get rid of him. The district attorney thinks he is not strongly enough biased against the defendant."

The defense today presented what it holds to be further evidence to show that Talesman George W. McKee, by his expressed opinion, is unfit to sit on the jury.

Federal Marshal Ordered to Seize Iron Workers' Books

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—When Judge A. S. Anderson of the United States district court was advised today that the federal grand jury had been denied access to certain books of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers he ordered the United States marshal to go to a trust company where the books were deposited and take possession of them.

The books were turned over to the marshal by the officers of the trust company when they were notified of Judge Anderson's order. The grand jury this afternoon proceeded with an examination of the books in the course of an investigation as to whether or not John J. McNamara, James H. McNamara, and Orville McNamara had violated a federal statute governing interstate transportation of explosives.

Smoking in Bed Is Nearly Fatal

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Martin Sine of Fairview, was badly burned as the result of going to bed with a lighted pipe. He evidently fell asleep before finishing his smoke, and the first he knew his bed clothing was ablaze and he was in imminent danger of being cremated. After a hard fight he succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not until he had been badly burned and the interior of his sleeping apartment had practically been ruined.

MAN'S ARM BADLY TORN BY GASOLINE MOTOR

MITCHELL, S. D., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Forest Bach was operating a small gasoline engine at Hurley, and caught his hand between the belt and the pulley, and in an instant his hand and arm were drawn in. He was alone when the accident happened and there was no way of releasing himself. The ligaments and muscles were torn out of place, and he was in danger of being fatally injured. The thought came to him to turn the engine over, and this he accomplished by reason of the engine being small enough. It stopped when it went over. Mr. Bach was on the wrong side of the engine to shut off the power.

JOHN SMITH, PATRIARCH OF MORMON CHURCH, IS DEAD

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 7.—John Smith, for thirty years the presiding patriarch of the Mormon church and nephew of its founder, and first president, Joseph Smith, is dead here after a three days' illness of pneumonia. He was 79 years old. He was born at Kirkland, Lake county, Ohio, in 1832, and when 25 years old came west with the hand cart party, passing through Keokuk, Ill., the scene of the attack which resulted in the death of his father and his uncle the preceding year.

Patriarch Smith was the sixth to be chosen to his office, the only hereditary one within the church.

NINE HUNDRED GARMENT WORKERS ARE DISCHARGED

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Nine hundred employees of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, discharged yesterday, after a dispute over working conditions, today began plans for arbitration of difficulties. The movement is an echo to the great garment strike of a year ago, when 35,000 laborers were involved.

Some of the more radical leaders profess to see signs of another strike as an interruption of the present season, when the shops are working at their capacity.

WANTS THE PLANT AT ONCE

Water Board Makes Application to Judge Munger for Possession.

HEARING IS SET FOR NOV. 18

Brief Sets Up Many Reasons Why Omaha Should Take Over the Water Plant as Soon as Possible.

John L. Webster, attorney for the Water board of Omaha, filed application in federal court before Judge W. H. Munger Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock for an order for the Omaha Water company to immediately turn over the water works plant to the city. An order was issued by the court to Mr. Webster setting November 18 the date of trial, and the water company was at once served with notice by the Water board.

"We will be in possession of the plant by the first of the year," said Mr. Webster. The Water board will meet Monday afternoon to complete arrangements for the issuance of bonds and the formal assumption of ownership of the property.

In the application, filed in the name of General Webster, William D. McHugh and City Attorney John A. Rine, the history of the litigation over the purchase of the water plant is set forth and the condition that the Water board is to pay to a trustee or the court the amount of the appraised value of the water works system only "on future order of this court after hearings on notice to all parties." "The city will give security by surety company or by deposit in court of bonds sufficient for the payment of any balance that may be found due after an accounting.

Present Service is Inadequate.

The attorneys for the Water board allege in the application for immediate possession that the Water company has refused to make extensions since the election to vote bonds on March 2, 1909, and that as a result the present system is entirely inadequate to supply sufficient amount of water or pressure for the demands of Omaha, South Omaha, East Omaha, Dundee and Florence. Because the water company cannot be compelled to make extensions is one of the reasons upon which the request for immediate possession is based.

Among other extensions and improvements needed and demanded by the city and not made by the water company the applicants cite sixty-eight fire hydrants ordered placed in 1904, none of which has been located.

"Since the election to purchase there have been 10,007 new buildings constructed in the city," says Mr. Webster, "at a cost of $20,221,648. Many of these buildings are within the limits of new streets and additions and are occupied by families who are in need of water, but are without a supply."

"Although the population of Omaha has increased approximately 25 percent since March 2, 1904, being 102,556 in 1900 and 124,996 in 1911, and the growth since the last census has been rapid, water mains have not been extended," Mr. Webster states, "and there are several thousand of the present population who are not supplied with water. The city cannot be supplied until the city shall take over the water works and make such extensions as are necessary."

The approximate population of Omaha, South Omaha, East Omaha, Florence and Dundee is given at 180,000 and within these municipalities forty miles of new streets have been laid within the period of litigation over the ownership of the water works. Practically all of these streets are now without city water service, no mains having been laid, although the demand for water has been pressing.

Districts Without Water.

Additions to the city now without water are cited in the applications as follows: Monmouth park, covering 40 acres. The streets are without water mains and 175 lots are without water supply or fire protection.

Collier place contains 100 lots without water supply or fire protection. Plainview addition, covering an area of one-half mile from north to south and one-fourth mile east and west, has no water mains.

Oak Chatham addition, of about the same area as Plainview, without water mains.

Ames and Kendall's additions, fronting on Twenty-fifth street, extending from Ames avenue to Kountze place, are without water supply or fire protection.

Might Lose South Omaha.

The board gives a further reason for desiring immediate possession of the plant the fact that South Omaha, which spends $60,000 a year for water, is now projecting the construction of a plant which will meet the demands of the people of the stock yards district, the present system of the Omaha company being inadequate.

Plans are being prepared by the Water board for putting in place a forty-eight-inch steel water main from Florence to Omaha to relieve the situation. Other extensions and improvements are promised by the board if immediate possession is given.

Reservoir is Dangerous.

Continuing the charges of neglect on the part of the water company to make extensions and repairs, the applicant says:

"Your applicant has caused an inspection to be made of the Walnut Hill reservoir, which is a storage basin for the supply of water, and as a result it is informed that there exists in the reservoir at this time breaks, cracks and leakage by which water is now seeping from the walls and your applicant believes that the said reservoir is in a dangerous condition and if repairs are not made within a reasonable time the embankments are liable to break, which would result in an absolute interference with the supply of water and would probably result in the destruction of life and property in the surrounding vicinity, and the water company has not and is not attempting to repair or protect said reservoir."

MISSOURI PACIFIC HAS REBUILT ITS LINES

By December 1 of the present year the Missouri Pacific officials believe that the betterments on the system will have been completed and that the road will be in the best condition in years. These improvements were begun last May and work has continued ever since, the expenditures aggregating $1,750,000.

Much of the money expended on the Missouri Pacific during the last summer has been on the line between Omaha and Kansas City and on the Nebraska lines. On the Omaha line the roadbed has been practically rebuilt and equipped with new and heavier rails. Between Omaha and Hiawatha, Kan., hills have been cut down and hollows filled. Curves have been taken out and grades reduced.
