PEKING EXPECTS ATTACK HOURLY

Excitement is growing and citizens are storing food in anticipation of siege.

MANCHU DYNASTY WILL FALL

Legations believe all hope of retaining throne is gone.

WILL TAKE TIEN Tsin SOON

Notice posted that revolutionists will assume control.

REBELS OCCUPY FU CHOW

British warehouses across River from Shanghai are looted and situation there is becoming serious.

PEKING, Nov. 9, 8:49 P. M.—The excitement is growing tonight. The residents of the city are taking in great quantities of rice and other stores. Fifteen hundred infantry and cavalry of the Manchu first division who fled from Shih Kai Chuang after the assassination of General Wu Lu Cheng, arrived here today and entered the city. The legations consider that all hope for the Manchu dynasty has vanished.

Consular reports received at the imperial capital agree that revolutionary spirit has got beyond control throughout the empire with the exception of Manchuria. The foreign legations have arranged ample protection for foreigners.

The temper of the Manchu troops remains the most serious consideration. The Chinese greatly fear that they may precipitate a conflict. Allowing for recent desertions, it is estimated there are 2,000 Manchu troops within the outer wall.

Prince Ching, the acting premier, said today that the Manchus did not intend, if besieged, to defend Peking.

At the Chinese foreign board it was said that Yuan Shih Kai had telegraphed that he was ready to come to Peking but that he had not yet started from Nanking, to which city he went to confer with the Yang Tsie rebels.

Tien Tsin Expects Attack.

TIEN Tsin, Nov. 9.—Proclamations, posted today, announcing that Tien Tsin would be turned over to the revolutionaries at noon had not been carried into effect at 3 o'clock. At that hour all was quiet.

General Chang Shao Tsen, commanding the Lanchau troops, is expected at any moment. According to consular reports, the general is marching to Tien Tsin at the head of the Twentieth army division on his way to Peking.

Rebels Take Fu Chow.

AMOY, China, Nov. 9.—The city of Fu Chow is today in the hands of the revolutionaries. After taking it they wiped out the entire Manchu district. The foreign settlements have not been disturbed, but fires have broken out in several sections of the native city, threatening its destruction.

Fu-Chow is one of the most important cities in the south, having a population of 700,000. It is the seat of a naval arsenal, government ship yards, a mint, a school of navigation and a large dry dock.

The situation is quiet today, but a serious state of affairs is threatened owing to the scarcity of provisions. Most of the city's supply junks were captured by pirates in a spectacular raid yesterday, the entire crew of one ship being massacred.

The American cruiser Albany arrived here today together with a Japanese destroyer.

A revolt of troops in the village of Anhai, fifty miles north of this city, is causing trouble there. The soldiers have burned the magistrates' yamen and the provincial customs house.

Nanking to Capitulate Soon.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9.—Foo-Chow, the capital of Fo-Kien province, was turned over to the revolutionaries today after a little resistance. Wu-Hu is likely to capitulate tonight.

The Manchus still hold Nanking, but they are outnumbered four to one by the revolutionaries, who are awaiting supplies

PAY COUNTS WITH STOCKDALE

Compulsory Training for Teachers After They Have Secured Their Certificates is Suggested by A. L. Caviness.

One hundred teachers of education members of the Nebraska State Teachers Association, assembled at the city hall Thursday afternoon and discussed "Professional Teachers in Nebraska," but were unable to agree as to what a professional teacher is.

President W. A. Clark of the Kearney Normal opened a general discussion on the teaching profession which drew forth a volume of complaints against the present rating of those in the teaching business.

"Tell you what," said one of the teachers, "it seems to me that school boards are playing a confidence game on the teacher. They hire a teacher for nine months and say they are paying her $6 per month. The fact is, they are only paying $4 a month, for the teacher must live through three other lean months."

LOT OF FREE SERVICE.

"We are supposed to be on tap for everything," said another teacher. "We preach sermons and give graduation addresses and we often do not even have our expenses paid. It does not seem fair to me when others are paid for the same thing. It is all we have to sell, and I think we ought to be paid for it."

"The Spirit of the Profession" was discussed and Dean E. L. Rouse declared that the teacher who thought too much of the money side, or was unwilling to remain in the teaching profession because the pay was small, was not in reality a professional. By way of illustration he said:

"The lawyer who will not give up a $75,000 a year job to accept judgeship at $10,000 a year is not a professional lawyer. I do not mean that professionalism is paying $100,000 for a $20,000 job, but that a man should be willing to devote a share of his time to his country without thinking too much of remuneration."

McProud Chosen President.

Prof. B. E. McProud of Wesleyan university was elected president and Miss Ethel Brown of Kearney vice-president.

Prof. W. T. Stockdale, talking on "His Growth in the Profession," declared that teaching has made progress as a profession.

"The teacher," he said, "should make such progress that she would at all times teach for a purpose, and that she should know what that purpose is. There should be some advancement in position, tenure and salary, because the talent required deserves it."

Reward in Work.

Speaking of the profession in Nebraska and answering the question, "What is a Professional Teacher?" Dean E. L. Rouse said:

"He must be a craftsman and have the true spirit of artistry. I mean by this he must have the vision and patience to do well his chosen work, and let the mere satisfaction that comes from knowing he has done his work well be his reward. This is what has made possible great works in art and literature. Men have toiled unrecognized, starved and led lonely deaths, but so certain were they that their work was the all-important thing for them, and such a rich reward was the doing of the thing, that they have found real pleasure in completing the heaven-sent task."

Superintendent A. L. Caviness, in an address on "Preparation," suggested compulsory training for teachers after they have secured their certificates. With post-graduate work, he said, they tend to
