

English Clothes Americanized By Sampeck

Have established themselves so firmly in the favor of American young men that the term "English," when applied to clothes, is at once connected with the name Sampeck.

Sampeck was the first American tailor to recognize the cleverness of the English style—he has so skillfully blended this English style with the superior American tailoring that since the initial introduction Sampecks have steadily increased in popularity.

Here's a new overcoat model—not a single freakish line, but so distinctively and individually different, that once you've slipped into its luxurious folds, there only remain the little matters of size and color.

Plenty of other models—they're all so good that you'll find a selection pleasingly easy.

SUITS—Lots of them, browns and grays in mixtures and diagonal weaves—English, too, many of them—not extreme, but cleverly original. You need the clothes—better just drop in tomorrow and settle the question.

Woman Heads Teachers.

With the election of Miss Alice Dilley of Osceola, as president of the State Teachers' association tonight the troubles of the Iowa educators came to a temporary end. Miss Dilley was accepted as a compromise candidate and her selection was a victory for the women. It is estimated that of the 520 teachers registered about three-fourths were women. The association decided that every five years a woman should be elected president. This afternoon the association divided itself into twenty-four different "round tables" and in the evening came together again to hear a rendition of "The Messiah," by a large chorus.

President—Miss Alice Dilley, principal of the Osceola High school. First Vice President—F. M. Hammit, Ottumwa. Second Vice President—Miss Ida Nolan, Reynolds, Morningside college. ### Robbery Mystery Cleared.

By the confession of Frank Cornelius of Arlington, Fayette county, today, two employees of the Milwaukee railroad were cleared of charges affecting their integrity. Cornelius went into court at West Union and admitted that for three years he had been engaged in robbing the money till in the railroad depot. He was section foreman and had access to the railroad depot. He had taken in all about $2,700. Harry Sealey, the agent, some months ago made good a shortage of $200 and resigned, protesting that he did not know how the shortage occurred. His successor, George Ramsey, reported that losses were occurring and detectives who were put on the job caused the arrest of the section foreman.

Silent Prayer Puts Quietus on Things

That silent prayer at the lunch hour in the country school will act as a quietus upon the desire of exuberant youth to throw apple cores, egg shells and other missiles, was a suggestion made by Miss Gertrude Rowan of the University of Nebraska extension department at the meeting of the rural school section of the Teachers' convention Friday.

ARE SCHOOL BOYS OVERWORKED

School Board Men Discuss This Question and Elect Officers. The Association of the Boards of Education of Nebraska held its second annual meeting Thursday and decided to perpetuate itself and hold the meeting at the same time and place as that of the Nebraska Teachers' association. These officers were elected: President, Dr. J. F. Daly, winner; vice president, H. P. Shumway, Wakefield; secretary, Mrs. L. M. Russell, Lincoln.

In a paper on "Why Do Our Pupils Break Down With the Strain of Work?" C. M. Penny took the position that the grading system in the schools was to a degree responsible for the breaking down of the health of many pupils.

Mr. Gaylord of Newman Grove said more grammar, arithmetic and spelling should be taught and not so much attention given to fitting pupils for the universality. Inspector Gregory, in charge of normal school training, said that "not one in 500 work hard enough to break down their health; the real cause of the breakdown is disorganization." Mr. Gregory assured the board members that he had nothing against the universities or colleges, but he did not like the grading systems.

Mr. Gregory said individual drinking cups have proven a complete failure and are not nearly as sanitary as the old water pail and the common tin dipper of a few years ago. He said that in going about the country, in the school houses he finds them in dirty corners, in old desks, in pockets and many places where filth accumulates and microbes multiply and flourish.

H. P. Shumway of Wakefield argued that boys fail principally on account of being forced to take studies distasteful to them, simply that they may be prepared for a university which they never expect to enter.

Miss Terry of Bancroft maintained that most of the boys would go through the high schools but for the fact that from the beginning they are forced to study the languages.

Dr. Daly of Wisner denounced the individual drinking cups as being unsanitary and at the same time expressed the opinion that much of the disease in schools was due to the unsanitary condition of the buildings.

PHYSICS MUST BE WELL TAUGHT

Dell Gibson of Lyons Reads a Paper Before the Physics Department. Discussion of physical science occupied the time of the visiting teachers and other persons interested Friday afternoon in the high school building. A number of interesting papers upon the subject were read and, although the session was short, many important facts about physics were brought up and talked over.

Superintendent Dell Gibson of Lyons read a brief essay of the "Necessary Apparatus for a Physical Laboratory," in which was much valuable information. The speaker stated that physics to be of any value should be well taught, and to be well taught proper apparatus must be had. L. I. Frisbie of Superior headed a general discussion of the subject, in which nearly all present joined. Superintendent G. P. McGrew of Silver Creek read a paper on "Economy in Science" and was followed by Arthur Gilbert of Crete, who talked on "Physics in the High School."

TELLS OF ILLINOIS SCHOOLS

State Superintendent Blair Talks to the County Superintendents. At the afternoon session of the county superintendents' session, the first thing in order was the election of officers for the year. It resulted as follows: President, F. A. Steck, Butler county. Secretary and treasurer, Mrs. G. Richmond, Kieth county. State Superintendent Blair of Illinois being present, addressed the county superintendents upon conditions in the state from whence he came. He told of there being 10,437 single room school houses and detailed the difficulty in securing experienced teachers and keeping them. In Illinois, in the country schools, one-third of the teachers are beginners each year and of these there are a great many that have not had practical preparation for the work.

Relative to teachers who show an inclination to fall in their work, Superintendent Blair urged upon the county superintendents the necessity of lending a helping hand. He looked upon it as a calamity to any school district to have a failure upon the part of the teacher.

In the country districts, the Illinois man ventured the opinion the hardest proposition with which the teacher has to contend is the big, rough boy, who every day makes an effort to destroy the happiness of the instructor under whom he is placed.

Dulaney, chief of police of Washington and captain of company H, Tenth Pennsylvania National Guard, shot himself to death. There is no explanation for the tragedy.
