LAWYERS DISCUSS PROCEDURE

Paul F. Clark of Lincoln Formally Files for Congress in the First District—Registration Case is Up.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—Theodore Stanislas, held in Uta, N. Y., and wanted in this state on the charge of arson, may and may not be compelled to return to Nebraska. The local man is under sentence of seven years in the state penitentiary for procuring Roy Wilceam to fire a house in this city. Later Stanislas appealed his case to the supreme court after being released on a $5,000 bond.

He is said to have disposed of much property here before his departure. An effort was made today in the district court, where his bond still is, to have the man brought into court or declare the bond forfeited. An attorney for the defense, however, stopped the proceedings by contending that the district court had no jurisdiction in the matter now that the case was on appeal to the state supreme court. It will come up at the next sitting, November 20. The matter was not ruled upon by the judge who heard the matter today, but it is probable that this method will fail.

Attorney General Martin asserts that if the man does not show up before the date of the hearing, set for November 20, then he will file a motion asking that the appeal be dismissed. In this event the matter will then stand as it came from the district court and Stanislas can be recalled from New York if the chief of police of Uta still has him held there.

Clark Formally Enters. Paul F. Clark of this city today started the 1912 political ball rolling by filing for republican candidate for the congressional nomination from the First district. Mr. Clark is understood to have no business connections at this time and has given out that he will devote all of his time to his candidacy.

Mr. Clark returned some time ago from the west and had not been here long when a hundred or more of the most influential republicans in this county asked him in a signed petition to make the race next year. He is one of the best known politicians in the district and has a wide acquaintance in all of the counties.

Hearing on Requisition. The hearing on a requisition from South Dakota for the return of Mrs. Irene Forrester from this state to the neighboring state to the north will be held before Governor Aldrich on Saturday. The woman is wanted at Fairfax, Gregory county, on the charge of having maintained a disorderly house. The offense is punishable in South Dakota by imprisonment in the state penitentiary. The accused woman has retained T. J. Doyle of this city to resist extradition while the state through the county attorney of Gregory county has employed H. H. Wilson to attend to its side of the case.

Ray yesterday. H. J. Minute Store Talk

We're often asked why our clothing doesn't shrink or pucker at the necks. Our goods are "London shrunk"—by a cold water process that makes them entirely dependable. The water shrinks the fabric so thoroughly a bolt of worsted suiting after going through cold water immersion and drying in the air loses all it possibly can, about 2 yards to a 30-yard bolt—leaving a yard by steam shrinkage. The actual cost of handling is about 60% greater. Most of the fabrics used in clothes making are steam shrunk. The process is nearly so costly and the results not nearly so good.

No, Sir--

We wouldn't handle a poor garment except to throw it out.

We have built up a wonderful reputation for good clothes. We cannot afford to sacrifice that reputation by selling a poor garment any more than you can afford to buy one. There are hundreds of garments—of only passing goodness, sold in Omaha every year on the strength of some high sounding name. In order to eliminate any possibility of ever giving one of our patrons a poor garment we practically manufacture our own. To still further protect our customers' interests, we subject every garment coming into this store to a very close scrutiny. Any that are found defective, or varying in the least from our specifications in making, are rejected. No store in the country has so rigid a code of customer-protection as this store. Knowing this—can you afford to buy clothes in ordinary stores?
