Omaha Society Will Meet English Woman with Open Arms.

DEBUTANTE PARTIES PLANNED

It is Announced that Skating and Other Forms of Winter Sport Will Be Indulged in at the Country Club.

Social Calendar. MONDAY—Misses Irene and Beatrice... TUESDAY—Miss Elizabeth Sweet... WEDNESDAY—Miss Mildred Butler... THURSDAY—Merry-makers' club... FRIDAY—Miss Esther Byrne...

The society and club women are going to join hands this week to entertain Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the British suffragette, who arrives Friday.

In New York, Chicago—in fact, in every place in which she has spoken since her arrival in this country from England, Mrs. Pankhurst has been greeted with an ovation and been royally entertained.

Leading business men have assured the financial success of the lecture by providing a substantial guaranty fund for the expenses of the event.

The list of patronesses for the event is not yet completed, but the partial list comprises: Mesdames—Clément Chase, John A. McShane, Warren S. Blackwell, A. B. Somers, M. D. Cameron, Harold Clifford, W. E. Millard, George Tilden, Draper Smith, John L. Kennedy, C. W. Bunsell, J. M. Metcalf, O. M. Hitchcock, Miss Louise McPherson.

Debut Party at Lynhurst. Lynhurst, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Joslyn, will be the scene of one of the large holiday debut parties.

The committee on arrangements includes Mr. Frank Colpetzer, Mr. A. V. Kinler and Mr. W. J. Foy. Prominent Guest Entertained. Mrs. Hamilton of New York, daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan, was an Omaha guest one day last week.

Players Released at Brandeis. The Players' club is putting the finishing touches to their performance of "The Cottage in the Air," which they will present at the Brandeis theater the evening of November 15.

Standing at Country Club. The popularity of the Country Club this winter is assured, with the announcement that there is to be skating and hockey at the club.

Debutante of the Future

MISS CLAIRE DAUGHERTY.

Who will be the debutante of the future? So important a factor is the debutante that society is not content with lavishing its attentions on the debutantes of the present, but look among the younger girls for debutantes of the future.

One of the interesting debutantes of the future will be Miss Claire Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Daugherty, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Creighton and grandniece of the late Count Creighton.

as the weather is cold enough the tennis courts will be flooded and kept in condition for the skaters. The tennis courts are to be enclosed with a high fence and on certain days in the week there will be hockey games.

Among the entertainments for the visiting teachers was the reception given at the Lininger art gallery by Mrs. Frank Louis Haller, Friday.

Miss Katherine Benson will entertain at supper this evening at her home in honor of some of the visiting young women. Those present will be: Misses—Dorothy Miller of Lafayette, Ind.; Marjorie Stewart of Lafayette, Ind.; Mable Miller of Lafayette, Ind.; Mable Miller of Lafayette, Ind.; Mable Miller of Lafayette, Ind.
