JURY ACQUITS MRS. LARSON

Woman Accused of Poisoning Her Father Goes Free.

TWENTY HOURS' DELIBERATION

Charged with Putting Paris Green and Arsenic in Food of Douglas Rhodenbaugh, a Wealthy Stockman.

NORTHWOOD, Ia., Nov. 15.—Mrs. Martha Larson was this afternoon acquitted of the charge of having attempted to poison her father, Douglas Rhodenbaugh, a wealthy stockman and farmer here. The jury reported its verdict of not guilty after having been out for twenty hours.

Judge Clyde, immediately following the verdict, dismissed the case against Christian Larson, the woman's husband, and Ella Mowers, a friend, who were implicated in the poisoning charge by the grand jury indictment.

The Larson case had been on trial in the district court since Monday of this week.

Mrs. Larson, who is 35 years old, was indicted with her husband, Christian Larson, on the charge of attempted poisoning of her father, who is a wealthy stockman, by the last grand jury of Worth county.

It was charged at various times during the last two years Paris green and arsenic had been placed in Rhodenbaugh's food by Marion Rhodenbaugh, the 15-year-old sister of the defendant. The latter turned state's evidence, confessing that she had tried to kill her father at the instigation of Mrs. Larson and her husband. She said the poisoning was planned for revenge because of punishment which had been administered to the defendant, Mrs. Larson, by her father.

G. W. Ellis, Iowa Pioneer, Dies at an Advanced Age

IDA GROVE, Ia., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—George W. Ellis, who died here as the result of a stroke of apoplexy, which rendered him helpless the last two and a half years, was a blazer of the trail in northwest Iowa, one of the pioneers who came before the railroads. In the early '70s Mr. Ellis superintended the breaking of 16,000 acres of virgin prairie, and his record in this direction stands as un-foreshadowed in Iowa.

Mr. Ellis was a close friend and associate of the late "Farmer" Wheeler, once the republican candidate for governor of Iowa, and when Wheeler and C. E. Cook came out from Chicago in 1873 to buy 10,000 acres of land near Odebolt, Mr. Ellis came with them, and for them picked out the land and arranged the transfers. He contracted to break several thousand acres for Mr. Cook, and after that broke up the entire 10,000 acres of the Wheeler ranch. The immense tract of ten sections still stands intact and is the last big ranch in Iowa. Mr. Ellis was superintendent and manager for Mr. Wheeler for four years, after which he bought a section of his own adjoining the Cook ranch, but across the line in Ida county. This land, which he bought for a value of $100 per acre.

Mr. Ellis was born near Syracuse, N. Y., March 11, 1831, and when a boy moved with his parents to Libertyville, Ill., where he grew to manhood, coming to Cascade, Ia. Shortly afterwards he spent two years in Columbia and British Columbia. On September 4, 1862, he was married at Dubuque to Emily J. Reese. The widow and three children survive him—George W. Ellis of Arthur, Ia., and Mrs. Maude Ellis Kogler and Guy G. Ellis of Ida Grove.

Religious Debates Are Ended at Logan

LOGAN, Ia., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Speeches freighted with good will marked the close of the debate between the Latter Day Saints and Christian church organization here last evening. Resolutions complimenting and thanking Rev. J. T. Baker for his services as chairman were introduced and carried and the members of the Latter Day Saints church added a purse to the compliments given the chairman.

The big debate, which has been on here during the last two weeks, between the Christian and Latter Day Saints churches, closed last evening, and the meetings were largely attended, not only by members of the respective churches, but also by members of other churches of Logan and adjoining towns.

In addition to Rev. Matton Bolea of Mt. Vernon, Ill., representing the belief of the Christian church in debate, the meetings were attended by Rev. D. E. Denney of Des Moines, Rev. Edgar Price of Council Bluffs, Rev. G. W. Nicholas of Red Oak, Rev. R. P. Hall of Woodbine, Rev. Lou Harris of Ames and Rev. W. B. Crowdon and Rev. H. E. Higbee of Logan on the part of the Christian church. While on the other side were Elder W. S. Scott of Cold Water, Mich., chief disputant; Elder J. W. Wight, a high official of the Latter Day Saints at Lamoni; Elders W. A. Smith of Independence, Mo., Charles Perry and S. B. Kibler of Woodbine, Sidney Pitt of Perma, D. I., and R. C. Chambers of Magnolia, J. H. Hansen of Council Bluffs, Burton McKim of Independence, Mo., and Joseph Seddon of Perma.

So far as securing aid from the government is concerned, Senator Owen said he would rather be a fat hog suffering from cholera than the mother of a large family in the first stages of disease. If the government was notified by the owner of the hog it would hasten immediate aid in the form of a bottle of serum, while if the mother asked aid she would receive none, for there is no government bureau to help her.

"There is something radically wrong with a country that has a bureau conserving animals and plants and no department adequate to conserving human life," continued the senator.

Senator Owen closed with a plea for support for "Senate bill No. 1," creating a national department of health. Governor Harmon has been assigned to speak at the morning session of the congress, but he preferred to address the night session in convention hall on his subject, "Waterways."

Adams Has Land Revolution. Alva Adams, former governor of Colorado, introduced a resolution declaring that all public lands in the United States should be ceded to the states in which they are situated.

"It is time," said Mr. Adams, "for the United States to go out of the land business." Action on the resolution was deferred.

CRESTON, Ia., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—A carload of twenty-eight horses was shipped from here last night by express to the eastern markets, said by expert judges to be the finest consignment ever shipped from here. They averaged 1,700 pounds each and brought on an average $285 each. One dapple grey, weighing 2,080 pounds, was pronounced by good judges as the best horse in the state and the statement was made that a team like him would be worth $1,000 easily. The horses all go to New York. One single firm here imports more horses than any other one in the United States.

INTIMATION THAT JURY DRANK THE EVIDENCE

MASON CITY, Ia., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—The way it looks at the present time some of the members of the recent trial jury are in bad liquor case was on and as evidence submitted was a quart of beer and a similar amount of whiskey. The jury was evidently a stubborn one and for two days an agreement was sought. Judge J. Clark presided and of course was anxious for them to agree. They were out two days but finally could not agree, but when they were discharged there was nothing of the sort. In a retrial of the case which was contemplated, the exhibits would be very material and so they were sought after. It would appear from what has been learned that on the part of some it was quite liberally sampled until there was nothing left to return to the court. To insure themselves against a number of the jurymen have sought the clerk's office since the affair was exploded and made it clear to him that they were in no way implicated. Judge Clark will be in the city next week and it is reported that this matter will be thoroughly investigated either by the court or by the grand jury or possibly by both. It is reported by those who know that such conduct on the part of a jurymen would subject him to harsh and severe punishment.

HOW TO SUCCEED

During the last few years, conditions in all lines of business, even professional life, have changed so completely that every man is waking up to the fact that in order to win success he must specialize and learn to do some one thing and do it well.

So it is with any article that is sold to the people. It must have genuine merit or no amount of advertising will maintain the demand for the article.

For many years we have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. From the very beginning the proprietors had so much confidence in it that they invited every one to test it, free of cost, before purchasing.

It is a physician's prescription. They have on file thousands of letters received from former sufferers who are now enjoying good health as a result of its use.

However, if you wish first to try a sample bottle, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper. They will gladly forward you a sample bottle by mail, absolutely free.

Regular sizes for sale at all druggists—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

INDICATIONS ARE THAT THE CHEYENNE MEETING WILL BE LARGELY ATTENDED

The indications are that the Cheyenne meeting will be largely attended, for the wool growers have many matters needing earnest discussion and co-operation. Speakers from Washington, Denver, Chicago, Omaha and other points will attend. The day sessions will be held in Keefe hall, while the first night will be devoted to a public meeting in the opera house and the second night the sheepmen will be tendered a smoker at the industrial club.
