

You Can't Mistake Sampeck Clothes

Clean cut, individual, refreshingly different; they're the kind of clothes you want when the other fellow has them on—the only kind you'll have, once you've been inside them yourself.

For instance: The English soft roll suit at the right, just brimful of clothes character and aggressiveness, brings a fellow's self-confidence to the surface and places him high in the ranks of good dressers.

Here's an overcoat that bids the coldest weather a ready welcome—you won't see it elsewhere—every line and stitch is original with Sampeck.

Perhaps you have some ideas of your own as to how your clothes should be made. You'll be surprised to find how cleverly Sampeck has anticipated your requirements in these suits and overcoats at

WOMEN THREATEN ASQUITH

British Premier Refuses to Push Equal Suffrage Bill.

WILL RENEW DEMONSTRATION

Mrs. Pankhurst, Who is in Omaha, Says There Will Be More Fighting and More Imprisonments.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Forty suffragettes interviewed Premier Asquith in Downing street today and attempted by threats of a renewal of hostilities to obtain a pledge that the government would undertake at the next session of Parliament to pass a bill giving equal suffrage to the sexes.

Mr. Asquith told the women that he stood, as always, against woman suffrage, because he thought it would not be for the good of the state. He added that the women, nevertheless, had a remedy in their own hands.

attempts to make her secure money from Strous.

According to her story, Patterson even proposed that she become an inmate of "George's Place," in Chicago. She said one of Patterson's schemes was that she should inveigle an old friend into a compromising position by means of which he might be blackmailed.

The story goes on to state that Patterson demanded $1,500 from Strous, which the latter turned over to Mrs. Patterson, but Patterson, upon receiving it from her, declined to write an acknowledgment, which Strous desired. It is alleged, to protect himself.

Gives Five Thousand.

While abroad Patterson insisted on more money, which Strous, the narrative declares, declined to furnish and sent his companion back to the United States.

Diamonds for Christmas

Folks with a discriminating taste have come to realize that there is no more satisfactory gift than the diamond. Its recipient is always delighted and appreciates the present for years and years, ever remembering the donor and his wisdom. The Frenzer store displays a collection of diamonds that is choice and pleasingly priced. The diversity of the stock will permit every prospective purchaser to find just the diamond ring or other diamond jewelry that he seeks, and it will be priced at such a figure that he will not hesitate about buying. The wise plan for diamond and Christmas shoppers is to see Frenzer's collection of diamonds before making a decision to buy.

Nebraska League of Municipalities to Meet in Lincoln Next Year.

GEO. WOLZ ELECTED PRESIDENT

Delegates Well Pleased with Reception in Omaha and Learn Much Relative to Government of Cities.

At the final session of the third annual convention of the Nebraska League of Municipalities Friday afternoon Mayor George P. Wolz of Fremont was unanimously elected president, following the announcement by President Robert P. Starr that he would not accept another term. The other officers elected were: C. J. Miles, Hastings, vice president; Roscoe C. Ozman, Lincoln, secretary-treasurer; J. B. Hummel, Omaha; E. Rossemeyer, Superior, and E. Lehmkuhl, Wahoo, trustees.

Omaha delegates announced that the next convention should be taken to some central city, where it would be convenient for the representatives of the smaller towns. However, Lincoln was the only town to put up a strong plea and by vote it was decided to convene in that city next year, the meeting to be held during the session of the legislature.

The delegates were enthusiastic over the success of the convention and the entertainment provided for them by the Omaha city council and the Commercial club. The following resolution was adopted with cheers and three shouts were given by the delegates for Omaha: Whereas, The League of Nebraska Municipalities in its third annual convention, as the guest of the city of Omaha, has received every courtesy and attention, and its meeting made a most pleasant success, largely due to the efficient work of the committee on arrangements, Mayor Dahlman and the city officials and the Commercial club; therefore, be it resolved, That under them a vote of thanks, with the assurance that their efforts in our behalf are fully appreciated.

Omaha Thanks Delegates.

Louis Berka of the Omaha city council then thanked the delegates for holding the convention in Omaha. The thanks were extended in the name of the mayor and the city. He said:

"The mayor and the city council of the city of Omaha desire at this time to thank you, both on behalf of the city and its officials, for the cordial assistance you have rendered them in their efforts to make the third annual convention of the League of Nebraska Municipalities a success. Realizing the honor you have conferred upon our community, it has been our earnest desire that nothing be left undone that might in any manner contribute toward your entertainment and comfort. While, owing to adverse weather conditions and other difficulties that could not have been anticipated, we regret that we have not succeeded in attaining results co-extensive with our good will, we wish to assure you that our earnest desire has been to afford you the full measure of our hospitality. We wish to extend to each and everyone of you a request to make your future visits to Omaha frequent and of long duration. Whether you come as delegates, officials or individuals it will be our happy purpose to assist you in every way that you may enjoy to the utmost Omaha's good will toward you."

Boquet for President Starr.

The retiring president, Robert P. Starr, was presented with a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums, Louis Berka making the presentation speech. He extolled Mr. Starr for the untiring efforts he has put forth to make the league a success and assured him of the good will and the perpetual friendship of his fellow workers in the cause. In response, President Starr thanked Omaha and the League of Municipalities for their hearty co-operation with him in accomplishing the purpose of the organization.

City Clerk Dan Butler of Omaha moved that a rising vote of thanks be extended to the secretary-treasurer, Roscoe C. Ozman, for the efficient service he had rendered the league and the entire convention arose with alacrity.

All officers elected or re-elected were present except Mr. Miles and responded to the calls for speeches. President Starr thanked the convention for the election of Mr. Miles, whom he endorsed as thoroughly competent and a hard worker for the common weal.

Visitors See Fire Apparatus.

The delegates were given a glimpse of the Omaha fire department 1 1/2 hours afternoon, when a brigade was called out by Mayor Dahlman and paraded past city hall. The visitors cheered the firemen as they passed and praised the efficiency of the department. Fire Chief Salter and his aides led the parade.

Every visiting delegate joined in words of commendation of Omaha's hospitality and the success of the convention.

"A feeling of fellowship between Omaha and the other towns of the state has been established by this convention," said one of the delegates, "and it will result in a more uniform growth throughout the state. We are going back much wiser in the ways a municipality should be governed than when we came, and it is a wisdom that can be used in every town in the state."

Mayor Dahlman was a constant attendant throughout the convention and heard all the papers, participated in the discussions, conducted a question box and at the conclusion of the meeting expressed his satisfaction at its success.

DIAMOND STICKPIN PROVES TO BE CUPID DART

MAHSIALTOWN, Ia., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—That a stick pin may prove to be a dart of Cupid was made known here today, through the announcement of the recent quiet wedding of Miss Lena Morey of this city and Mr. William H. Halpeny of Des Moines. The wedding took place at Newton several days ago, but was not announced until today. The romance of the story is that Miss Morey while employed at the Savery hotel in Des Moines found a handsome diamond scarf pin. It proved to belong to Mr. Halpeny, to whom she returned it, but refused to accept a reward for her honesty. From this acquaintance sprang the friendship that culminated in the wedding. Mrs. Halpeny now wears the scarf pin as a trophy of her conquest. Mr. Halpeny is a traveling salesman for the Studebaker Vehicle company.

Sale of Herefords at Craig. CRAIG, Neb., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The Frank Ulrich dispersion sale of Herefords here Thursday resulted in an average of $123.23. The small number of cattle offered kept down the attendance of out-of-town breeders, the crowd being chiefly composed of local farmers. Mr. Ulrich will leave for his new home in Florida in the near future.
