He ordered the car sent back to the Bluffs and Mr. Short immediately complied with the order. "Died of Pneumonia"—A never written of man who cured coughs and colds with Dr. King's New Discovery. Guaranteed. 50c and $1.00. For sale by Beaton Drug Co. CHRIS SHARB INJURED WHEN CAR MAKES MOVE

Chris Sharb, address unknown, had not a place to lay his head. He was sleepy and so tired that 5,000 glasses of that universally advertised beverage could not relieve his fatigue. He asked in the most pitiful of tones for a downy couch of everyone he met. It seemed he could not find a person of his inanimate thing but that glowered at him and refused him rest. The telephone posts stepped aside in disdain when he attempted to lean against them. The sidewalks seethed and whirled him into the gutter when he lay upon them. And the gutters pushed and nudged him out when he asked their cobblestones to be his bedfellows. The very ground jumped up and slapped his face when he looked too pleadingly. So there was nothing for Chris Sharb to do but walk. At last, staggering weak, he reached the railroad tracks at Twelfth and Jones streets. The soft cinders between the rails seemed quite inviting to him and a box car nearby smiled assent when he pilloved his head upon a rail and stretched his body upon the cinders. As he stared up at the box car and breathed his thanks, he heard far down the tracks the engine bell—the welcoming chiming of beams. Then the low, deliberate click of wheels upon the rail clattered in his ears, growing nearer, louder and harsher. Sharb looked up at the box car; it frowned and shook with rage and with a hiss jumped at him. When Sharb came to in the surgeons' room at the police station, he found that his cheeks were bruised and he carried a cut above his right eye. A Union Pacific switch train had moved six inches in coupling the car, just enough to arouse Sharb. He walked away after the surgeons dressed his hurts.

To Discard Aged or Weather-Soiled Skin (From Home Queen.) To free your skin of chaps, blotches, roughness, maddness, sallowness or any cutaneous difficulty, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary n-crocollin was. Use at night as you use cold cream, washing it off next morning. Immediately the offending surface skin begins to come off in the powder-like particles. Gradually the entire cuticle is absorbed in this way, causing no pain or inconvenience. Nor does the face exhibit any evidence of the use of this treatment. The second layer of skin now in evidence presents a sparkling beauty and youthful robustness obtainable in no other way we have ever heard of.

This mercerized wax, which can be had at any drug-store, we know has been successfully used for permanent removal of blackheads, freckles, moth patches and liver spots.—Adv.

Chauffeur Shultz Seeking a Pardon Al Shultz, the chauffeur, sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for manslaughter in connection with the death of the late William Krug, killed in an automobile accident, has made application for pardon to Governor Aldrich, County Attorney English, who prosecuted Shultz, and Judge Lee S. Estelle, before whom he was tried, have been notified. They will take no action, the matter being entirely in the hands of the governor and the State Board of Pardon and Parole.

JANITORS SUFFER WAGE CUT School Board Will Deduct for Empty Rooms in Buildings. SUPPLIES FOR ATHLETIC MEET Full Line of Equipment Ordered Bought for Spring Gatherings—Plan to Sell Vacant Lots.

The Board of Education struck a retrenchment streak last night when the buildings and grounds committee, through Chairman Courtney, submitted a proposition to reduce the salaries of janitors in buildings where there are vacant rooms. The motion was adopted. The reduction will be for each vacant room: In eight and ten-room buildings, $4 per month. In twelve-room buildings, $3.50 per month. In fourteen-room buildings, $3 per month. In sixteen-room buildings, $2.50 per month. In eighteen-room buildings, $2 per month. With one dissenting vote a motion to buy supplies for the spring athletic meet was carried. The supplies to be bought will include nine stop watches, $7.50 each; one stop watch, $20; one revolver, $5.50; one metallic steel tape line 100 feet, $4; one metallic tape line of twenty-five feet, $2.50; one blank cartridges, $1. Ten revolvers will be rented for the meet.

To prevent unauthorized employees from buying supplies for the schools, a resolution was adopted providing that hereafter no supplies be purchased except on written order from the secretary. Dr. R. W. Connel, health commissioner, reported that the health department has taken proper precaution to prevent a vacant lot near the Saratoga school from becoming a dumping ground, that signs have been placed and that if the nuisance has not been abated the only thing to be done is to arrest the offenders. He also reported that the engineering department's attention has been called to the open sewer at Thirty-first and Sprague streets.

A resolution was submitted setting forth that as the school funds are not sufficient to provide for the construction of two or three needed school buildings, some of the numerous vacant lots owned by the school district be disposed of and the money derived from their sale converted to this purpose. After a brief discussion the plan to receive "reasonable offers for the purchase of the vacant lots, the same to be sold if the offers made are found satisfactory," was agreed to. Location and description of the lots are to be furnished by the secretary.

Permanent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns. Some Men Are Too Lazy for Hard Work "We need jobs for several men," said Miss Ida V. Jontz of the Associated charities, "and if the people of the city have any work they want done at reasonable wages we will be glad if they will let us know."

How to Always Have Soft, Lustrous Hair "If every woman but knew how easy it is to have a wealth of soft, silken hair—all her own—there would be no further use for switches," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, writing in the New York Express. "It is only a matter of right shampooing," she continues, "which means avoiding head-washes of a harmful nature."

Ten Institutions Given Endorsement Ten institutions were placed on the endorsed list for 1912 by the charity endorsement committee at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Water board rooms at the city hall. The committee expects applications for endorsements from four or five more institutions, which it will consider at a meeting in the near future. When the list is complete copies will be given to the members of the Commercial club. The endorsement committee will recommend to that body that cards be sent to all the merchants stating that no institution or person can solicit money without the endorsement of the committee.

The committee is composed of three representatives of the Commercial club, Victor Rosewater, H. K. Burket and A. Hoepf, and two representatives of the Associated Charities, E. W. Dixon and Fisher McGovern.

The ten institutions that received endorsement yesterday are the Associated Charities, the Creche, Child Saving Institute, Omaha City mission, the Old People's Home on Wirt street, House of Hope, Salvation Army rescue home, Young Men's Christian association, Young Women's Christian association and the Visiting Nurse association.

CITIZENS OBJECT TO Coal Yard Location

H. H. Haer, Thirty-first and Boyd streets, appeared before the council in committee of the whole Monday and declared that the citizens of his neighborhood are prepared to contest in the higher courts the right of the L. B. McCoun coal company to locate in that vicinity. The coal company was recently granted the right to build sheds at Thirty-first and Boyd and a switch track is to be constructed. Mr. Haer with several of his neighbors appeared with a signed protest and objected to the action of the council in granting the coal company's request. He claimed it would result in a nuisance, as smoke from the engines handling coal and lumber to the yards would be continually blowing into their houses and that housewives would be unable to hang laundry on the lines because of it. Fred F. Shields explained that Mr. Haer would not be seriously affected by the location of the yard and that the damage would be much less serious than it was considered by the residents. "The property holders know," said he, "that some kind of a building must be ultimately located there and several of them have agreed that a coal and lumber yard will be no more of a nuisance than a factory or some other institution." The council deferred action.

Appraisers reported on the cost of removing the Knox Presbyterian church at Nineteenth and Ohio streets to make way for a change proposed in the boulevard. Objection was entered to the appraisers' report, which was $4,100, and the objections were sustained. "An effort may be made to have half the cost of the change paid from the park funds." An objection against paying the special tax for grading Twenty-third street from Hancock to Vinton was made by property holders and as some of the council believed the protest justified, the city engineer was instructed to ascertain what a proper charge would be.

KIRKENDALL IMPROVES HIS COUNTRY PLACE

At a depth of a little more than 900 feet on his country place north of Florence, known as the Pries lake property, P. P. Kirkendall has struck a flow of water that aggregates 600 gallons per minute. The water is soft, a little warm and highly mineralized. In the vicinity of Pries lake Mr. Kirkendall owns twenty-five acres of high hills, beautiful valleys and woodland. Recently he purchased ten acres of original land lying to the east. On the original purchase he contemplates the erection of a magnificent country home in the near future, the house and other buildings to be located in a large grove of hardwood timber just to the north of the lake that is being raised several feet by the water from the artesian well. To hold the water back and to throw it farther up the ravine to the west, at the foot of the gulch Mr. Kirkendall has constructed a solid concrete dam some thirty feet in height, costing several thousand dollars. Back of this dam will be formed a lake covering something like five

GRUMMANN LECTURES ABOUT OPERA THEMES

The eighth lecture in the series which Prof. Paul Grumann is giving at the Young Women's Christian association was delivered yesterday afternoon and the subject of the first hour was "Loki, Vulcan, Hephaestus," while the second hour was given up to a consideration of the interpretation of the Tristan and Isolde story. In the first hour the lecturer went into the subject of demology and drew many illustrations from various myths agreeing in underlying ideas. The prevalent ideas about Gothic architecture were given a gentle but firm touching up. Prof. Grumann contended that the steeples of churches were to penetrate into the realm of air-spirits who were to be frightened away by the bells and that the style was not modeled after the "temples of nature," the groves, but to give a covered place to worship, with the least possible interruption of pillars.

GRUMMANN LECTURES ABOUT OPERA THEMES

The lecture on the Tristan and Isolde showed that the lecturer had gone carefully into the sources of the story and his distinction between the story of Gottfried von Strassburg and that used by Richard Wagner was given with thoroughness and was full of interest. The auditorium was comfortably filled downstairs for the second hour. Building Permits. A. P. Penander, 264 North Twenty-fifth street, frame dwelling, $2,900; L. R.
