HUTCHINSON OUT OF PRISON

Nuckolls County Man Gets Commutation of Sentence.

JUDGE ADVISES CLEMENCY

Labor Commissioner Guye Returns to Conference at Washington—Sarry and Douglas Bridge Case in Court.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Charles B. Hutchinson of Nuckolls county, who has been serving a term in the state penitentiary for the murder of Eli Fessel, for whom his mother kept house until his death, received a commutation of sentence today and was released from confinement. Hutchinson's mother, who was convicted with him for the crime, was released some time ago. Both were sent to the penitentiary October 15, 1904. Mrs. Hutchinson began to serve a ten-year term and her son two years more. The woman's term expired in August.

Since that time the woman has been working as a dishwasher in a local restaurant, and the plea for executive clemency on the part of her son came as an American that she needed his help and support. Clemency was recommended by Judge L. G. Hurd of Harvard, and petitioners living in Nuckolls and Webster counties.

It was alleged at the time of the murder that Hutchinson and his mother had killed Fessel and then hauled his body to a creek, where they threw it into the water. The couple denied their guilt, saying that Fessel was a hard drinker and that he had often made the remark when under the influence of liquor that he would some day commit suicide.

County Bridge Dispute. For the fourth time the state supreme court is called upon to decide whether Sarpy county should help Cass county in the matter of a bridge across the Platte river at Louisville. The structure in question was erected in 1890 from the proceeds of bonds issued by Louisville precinct. Sarpy county at that time had nothing to do with the construction of the bridge, despite the fact that after its building it served as a highway between the two counties.

In 1900 the repair of the bridge became necessary and Cass county asked Sarpy to consent to standing half the expense incident thereto. Sarpy county refused and Cass proceeded to do the work at the suggestion of the county commissioners. Afterwards the board of the latter county sued the Sarpy county commissioners for the money, claiming that half of the bridge was in that county.

Meanwhile, during the various turns of the litigation the bridge at the foot of the trouble was washed out and torn down by a severe storm, but the case has gone on regardless of that fact. Sarpy county finally contended that the Cass county commissioners had let the contract for the repair to the bridge without asking for bids and that, therefore, the improvements were made without legal sanction. This phase of the case is now before the court for a decision and was extensively argued by attorneys before that tribunal.

Child Burned to Death at Table Rock. TABLE ROCK, Neb., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The 18-months-old grandson of W. H. McClure was seriously burned at the family residence Monday afternoon and died from the burns early Tuesday morning. The mother and grandmother of the child were busy in an adjoining room to where the child had been left with another child, about 3 years old. Hearing screams the mother hastened to the room, where the older child had been stuffing papers in the heating stove, and the baby was enveloped in flames. The mother was seriously burned in trying to extinguish the fire.

Kearney Disputes Wesleyan Claim

KEARNEY, Neb., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Kearney Normal foot ball team has been making an excellent showing this season, having been unbeaten by any college team in the state. This puts it very much in the race for the Nebraska intercollegiate championship. Wesleyan is the only other college team not defeated this season. Kearney has Peru Normal yet to play and Wesleyan plays Cotner.

Wesleyan has been making rather premature claims on the coveted rag, according to Kearney followers. Some comparative scores will serve to show that the Normal has the edge on Wesleyan. Kearney's score against Hastings was 9 to 0, besides one touchdown disallowed, which the officers afterwards conceded. Wesleyan's score was 12 to 5. Kearney's score against Grand Island college was 9 to 6; Wesleyan's 2 to 6. Kearney's score against Cotner was 25 to 10; Wesleyan's 11 to 0.

Kearney Normal team is ready to meet the Wesleyan team either here or at University Place, and has begun negotiations for a game this week. Thus far Wesleyan has not responded. The Normals have some exceptional men in their lineup and ought to make the collegiate state team by an easy margin. They are getting down to the hardest work of the season preparing for the game with Peru at Peru on Thanksgiving day.

DEFEATED CANDIDATE TO CONTEST ELECTION

GANDY, Neb., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Charles R. Cobb, the democratic candidate for sheriff in Logan county, and who was defeated in the recent election by William Wells, his republican opponent, is going to contest the election. Mr. Cobb has filed his complaint and has retained Attorney H. E. Dress for the case. Mr. Wells polled a majority of the vote in three of the precincts and Mr. Cobb wants these three precincts thrown out because of the fact that in Gandy precinct the polls were open, he claims, from the hours of 8 to 6:30; that no police officer was stationed at or within 100 feet of the polls; that electioneering and campaigning was carried on within 100 feet of the polls; that pamphlets, circulars and political advertisements were allowed to be scattered about the polls. This case will be tried before Judge Hogeboom December 9.

NEBRASKA SUFFRAGISTS ELECT STATE OFFICERS

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The thirty-first annual convention of the Nebraska Woman's Suffrage league adjourned today after electing the following officers for the coming year: President, Dr. Inez Philbrick, Lincoln; vice president, Mrs. Anna Kovana, Table Rock; recording secretary, Mrs. Ada Shafer, Omaha; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary H. Williams, Kearsaw; treasurer, Dr. Emma W. Demaree, Rock; auditors, Mrs. Frank Harrison, Lincoln, and Mrs. Kate Chaphinhouse, Peru.

Resolutions expressing sympathy with the English suffragettes who had been subjected to various indignities were passed unanimously by the women. It was also voted at the final session to memorialize Nebraska representatives in congress to work with the end in view of changing the present proposed amendment to the federal constitution relating to the election of senators by a popular vote of the people so that women might have a hand in such elections.

With regard to the listing of women by United States census enumerators as without occupation it was voted to recommend that women be listed as housekeepers when they can rightfully come under that title.

A canvass of the state for the purpose of polling those opposed and favoring woman suffrage was also recommended by the convention and it was provided that this shall be undertaken by the association between now and the next annual meeting.

The association will meet in Omaha next year, according to action taken late today and just previous to adjournment.

The Woman Who Doesn't Know

Merely orders "flour." And the grocer thinks that she doesn't care. But she does. What woman lacks pride in her baking? But she doesn't know how flours differ. Else she doesn't think. And, by leaving the choice to someone else, she gets the wrong flour at times.

Gold Medal Flour is selected flour. It comes from the heart of the wheat. It is the sifted-out flour—the perfect flour—which comes through ten sheets of fine silk. None but this cream of the flour is ever branded Gold Medal. Yet lesser grades—hundreds of them—cost just as much as this.

This is the flour which has come to outsell every other flour in existence. You'll get it always when you find it out.

Labor Commissioner Guye Back from Capital. Labor Commissioner Guye has returned from Washington, where he has been in attendance at a labor bureau gathering. Methods whereby these departments of the various states could be brought together for the purposes of conferring and co-operation were discussed at some length, but no decisions were arrived at in the matter.

Co-operation between national and state labor bureaus in the campaign for getting home-workers in the western states was taken up at considerable length by the commissioners. According to the state officials the Washington meeting was not nearly as successful as the Chicago meeting, which Commissioner Guye also attended and
