

PUNISH INDOLENT PARENTS

Neglect Will Not Be Tolerated by Associated Charities.

LAZINESS CAUSES SUFFERING

Intestee is Told Where Man is Given Job and He is So Lazy He Gives it to Son, Who Quits for Like Reason.

The Associated Charities and Probation Officer Bernstein have begun a campaign to enforce the statute making it a misdemeanor for parents to neglect their children.

"We are going to prosecute parents who won't take care of their children," said Mr. Bernstein. "There has been too much wilful neglect of the youngsters by fathers and mothers and it has got to stop."

"We don't want to take the children from their parents," said Miss Ida V. Jonts of the Charities, "because that means suffering to the parents and it makes paupers, but if these men, who are nothing but idlers, and the women, who refuse to work, don't make some provision to care for their children, we will enforce the statute."

"There is nothing so much suffering caused by the refusal of parents to work, for we can, if necessary, look after the children, but it exerts a bad influence on the children."

"A short time ago a man whose family had been in want, was brought here and I gave him a card to a business man, who promised me he would give him something to do. That man, instead of going himself, sent his oldest son. The son remained at work just one day, saying he couldn't work any longer because he didn't want to spoil his Sunday shoes. The father's example caused the son to quit work. It is causing other sons in the city to refuse to take jobs and earn honest livings. They are, many of them, young and able-bodied men who could easily support their families, but they allow their wives to take in washing and they work as little as possible."

"Business men of the city are financing the Charities, and we do not feel that we should support men who can work."

MANUEL CUESTA FINDS A REVOLUTION PLOT

Manuel Cuesta, consul to the United States from Mexico, stationed at Douglas, Ariz., is the hero of Douglas, according to information which has been received here. Senor Cuesta is a son-in-law of John Huskie, sr., the hardware man of this city, and last Friday night he uncovered a well organized plot upon the part of a few unscrupulous Americans to start some wealthy Mexicans to stir up another revolution to overthrow the Madero regime. He informed the United States attorney and marshal at Douglas and as a result over 300 rounds of ammunition and some guns were confiscated by the government. The principals in the affair were arrested and will be tried upon a charge of violating the neutrality laws of the United States.

Senor Cuesta visited in Omaha for several months during the last summer and is quite well known here. His wife, who was formerly Miss Maud Huskie, is now visiting her parents.

Here's a "Cure" For Dull, brittle Hair

"Careless or improper treatment of the scalp so often results in dull, brittle, 'stringy' hair," says Mrs. Mae Martyr, in the Baltimore Leader. "This is so easy to correct," she continues, "that it is possible for every woman to have beautiful hair, and an abundance of it." A teaspoonful of canthorin dissolved in a cup hot water is sufficient mixture for a thorough cleansing of scalp and hair, and shampooing with this is a positive delight. The canthorin mixture soothes, invigorates and stimulates, and quickly brings about a healthy condition, insuring a plentiful growth of silky hair, that doing it up is a pleasure you will thoroughly enjoy. -Adv.

Demand is Made to Sign Contract

Alleging that Mayor P. J. Trainor of South Omaha and the South Omaha city council had no right to rescind orders for paving M and Twentieth streets, Parks, Lefler & Co., a South Omaha paving concern, has started action in district court to compel the officials to enter into a contract for the work.

The paving company asked a peremptory mandamus writ commanding the mayor and council to meet at once and enter into the contract. Judge Kennedy ordered the officials to do so or else appear Monday morning at 10 o'clock and show why they should not be compelled to do so.

The paving was to have been from Thirteenth to Twenty-fourth on M street and from 8 to Y on Twentieth street. The paving duty was petitioned for, the paving districts created and contracts awarded to Parks, Lefler & Co. The council then rescinded the entire action on the ground that Rasmus Larsen, one of the signers for the Twentieth street paving, had not signed regularly. The petitioners assert that without the name of Larsen there are more than enough signatures to make the petition valid.

Old People's Home Appeals for Funds

The Women's Christian association, which provides for the Old People's home, has sent out printed appeals for funds for the home. The association is the oldest philanthropic organization in the city. It cares for men and women who can no longer care for themselves, and who are over 65 years of age, having lived in Omaha three years and pay an entrance fee of $50.

The interest from the $16,000 endowment fund, the entrance fees and the annual donations from the public support the home. The houses, lots and the $10,000 left the home by the late Miss Anna Wilson will not be available for use for many months. Maintaining the home is greatly in need of money for the current expenses. Donations are payable to Mrs. S. K. Spalding.

Bishop Millspaugh in Care of Doctor

Prayers for the health of the Rt. Rev. Frank H. Millspaugh, bishop of Kansas, formerly of Omaha, were read in the Episcopal churches of that state Tuesday. The reading of the prayers excited considerable comment among church people as it was not generally known that the bishop was ill. Inquiry disclosed that while the bishop is under the care of a physician he is able to be about his duties. Just preceding the Christmas season it is customary for the bishop to visit the majority of the parishes in the diocese. He is going to make his customary visits this year and while there is no order or request for prayers the majority of the ministers in the diocese read them Tuesday.

U. P. Train Robbers Sentence Affirmed

A message yesterday to United States Attorney Howell from the clerk of the circuit court of appeals of St. Louis says Judge Hook has handed down an opinion affirming the judgment of the United States district court at Omaha in the cases of William Matthews and Jack Shelton, sentenced to life imprisonment on the charge of holding up a Union Pacific train. The two appealed from the decision of the Omaha court.

HANGER IS CONVICTED OF ASSAULTING WIFE

William Hanger was convicted of assaulting his divorced wife with intent to murder by a jury in the criminal division of the district court. Hanger's defense was that he went to see his wife to ask for custody of their children, when she attacked him and he drew a revolver for self-protection.

Not Same Chance as Men.

Dr. Dalley declared that every woman who relies upon herself for her support is a suffragist. She said that professional women are required to pay the same fees as men to get their training in college, but that in practicing their professions they do not have the same chances as men. She said that women physicians are not allowed on the staffs of hospitals and that in Omaha there are only two hospitals which give a welcome hand to women doctors.

Dr. Dalley told of the work which women have done in cleaning the city of Albuquerque, N. M., where she has lived for several years, and said that Denver, where she has been a citizen, has improved in outward cleanliness and in underlying social conditions since women have had the vote.

Rev. Mrs. Andrews Talks.

Rev. Mrs. Gerard Andrews, formerly a president of the Woman's club, an enthusiastic club, temperance and suffrage worker of Nebraska, told of club life in Minnesota, where she has lived for the last two years. She said that Minneapolis was the most clubby city she had ever been in; that in one week, in addition to the meetings of the various clubs of which she is a regular paid-up member, she had twelve invitations to visit other clubs.

At the philosophy department meeting which followed the current topics, Rev. Mrs. Andrews reviewed Marie Corelli's "Life Everlasting." Tea was served by the two departments in honor of Rev. Mrs. Andrews.

OVERLOOKED IN THE CONFUSION! Thursday's Important Sales at Kilpatrick's

Our Silk section has never known such business; in the rush we overlooked one important lot of the wider goods—mainly 27 inches and all perfect—Thursday they go on sale. We cannot describe the goods in detail, but the lot contains probably 1,500 yards—Fancy checks, Persians so much used and for so many purposes at holiday time, almost every color in plain foulards, made by one of the world's best makers; various weaves of black silks, altogether a choice lot of odd pieces of various kinds of Fall and Winter Silks, worth 85c, $1.00 and some $1.25, all at 59c

By the way the lot of silks which have been on sale for 4 days last, past, has been considerably augmented through cullings of odd pieces from our regular stock, so on Thursday you will also see an exceedingly attractive lot of silks at 49c. Most of them worth 85c and $1.00 yard.

A hurried inventory of the Black Dress Goods stock shows on hand nearly 1,000 yards of the choicer qualities; one or two pieces of a weave, but all perfect and desirable. If you can use an extra black dress (and what woman cannot) this is an important opportunity, and as rare as it is important. You will find Silk Warp Poplin, Silk Warp Silkoline, Crystal Mystral, French Prunellas, Satin Soleil. Silk Warp Novelty, Sateen Raye, Pekin Suiting, Bordered Panama, Herringbone, French Serge, Sideband Voile, Bedford and Camel's hair, goods which ordinarily sold all the way from $1.50 to $2.50 per yard—

Thursday, 98c Yd. The special sale of Linens still continues. The department is disarranged and somewhat contracted; you will feel compensated for any inconvenience when you look over the bargains.

Thursday, in Ready-To-Wear Section

About 125 Coats will go on sale—included are the latest mixtures, 2-tones, plaid backs, plushes, broadcloths lined with Skinner's satin, etc. without regard to former prices, they will be sold on Thursday at—

$15 Each

In the hurly burly we must not omit to mention we have a good assortment of corduroys, and also a choice lot of two-color and plaid back heavy Cloakings, Polo and otherwise. Few stores exhibit such an assortment, for they are not only popular, but very, very scarce.

The News About China So Long Looked For Will Soon Appear

Thousands of dollars worth of China and Glassware now being checked off. All imported specially for this season's sale. Alterations have interfered and delayed display. In a day or two

Look for Special Announcement

Note, please, all ye mothers who have children—there will be a Doll Congress, or gathering of dolls of all nations at our store on Saturday. They will look out from center window on Thursday and Friday. Bring the little ones.

ROASTS FRIVOLOUS WOMAN

Mrs. George Covell Tells Woman's Club of Woman Suffrage.

WOMAN GOVERN WITH MAN

"More Power, Less Frivolity," Says Speaker, Who Disdains Her Weak.

"Give women more political power and there will be less frivolity," Mrs. George Covell told the members of the current topics department of the Woman's club yesterday at a meeting in which the dominant note was woman suffrage.

"There are many women who enjoy being thought little, weak and effeminate, and brag of it," said Mrs. Covell. "I wish that women with feet of Chicago size would cease referring to their little slippers or their little kimonos. I dislike to hear a woman speak of going downtown to buy a little suit as much as I would dislike to hear a man say that he was going to buy a little overcoat."

"There are many women who say that, as far as they are concerned, they have all the rights they want. That is a natural feeling for a woman who is fortunate enough to have married a good, kind man. But that is no reason why she should not do what she can to help women who are not so well situated."

Mrs. Covell told of certain state laws under which thousands of women are treated unjustly.

Dr. Eleanor Dalley, for forty years a suffragist, for thirty years a practicing physician and, when the Omaha Woman's club was started nineteen years ago, a charter member of the organization, spoke on woman suffrage from the professional woman's point of view.

Not Same Chance as Men. Dr. Dalley declared that every woman who relies upon herself for her support is a suffragist. HEARING IN ANNA WILSON WILL IS SET FOR MONDAY

Hearing on application for admission to probate of the will of the late Miss Anna Wilson, which had been set for today, was deferred until Monday by Judge Leslie in county court. The action was taken to give James H. Pait of St. Louis and his brothers, who claim to be brothers of Miss Wilson, time in which to file protest against the admission of the will.

Some days ago Pait indicated he and his brothers would contest, but nothing further has been heard from the Pait. Unless they or some other persons appear to protest Monday the will will be admitted to probate and Abraham L. Reed will be named as executor and instructed to proceed as directed by the will to convert the property into cash

SILTZ APPEALS TO COUNTY COMMISSIONERS FOR AID

F. R. Siltz, the aged real estate dealer who recently appealed to the county commissioners for aid, has addressed to the commissioners a letter in which he says Commissioner Pickard before the recent election promised him a job, but has given him none. He says he supposes the matter has slipped Pickard's mind. Siltz says he has been robbed of $1,000 by a loan shark and of another $3,000 by dishonest real estate dealers, but has no money with which to prosecute them.
