Rev. Henderson Dies After Long Service

Rev. Robert M. Henderson, for many years engaged in the Methodist ministry in Nebraska, died at 5:30 yesterday morning of asthma and a complication of infirmities due to advanced years. He had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. N. C. Pratt, 138 North Thirty-fifth Street.

Red Cross Seals Are Being Sold by the State Society

The Nebraska Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis is again busy in preparing for the Christmas campaign for the sale of Red Cross seals. Mrs. K. R. J. Edholm, executive secretary of the association and state agent for the Red Cross seals, has established offices on the fourth floor of the City National Bank building and is rounding things in shape for the pushing of the sale of the seals. About 200 agents in the state have been appointed with authority to sell the seals.

All money made on the sale of these seals is sent to the state agent by the various subagents throughout the different states. All the unsold stamps and 12 1/2 per cent of the proceeds of the sale is sent to the Red Cross in Washington to defray the expenses incurred during the campaign.

The proceeds from the sale of these stamps will go not only to help those ill with tuberculosis, but also to prevent others liable through ignorance, carelessness, poverty or other contributory causes from contracting the disease. In comparison with other states, Nebraska has not an overwhelming tuberculosis problem to deal with, and the campaign here is largely one of preventing the disease from taking hold.

WORK ON W. D. W. BUILDING IS BEING HUSTLED ALONG

Structural steel for the Woodmen of the World skyscraper at Fourteenth and Farnam streets is now being raised for the twelfth and thirteenth stories. The contractors are now beating their expected record, and are putting up four instead of two stories per week. Stonework on the first floor has begun and is progressing at a rapid pace. The footings on the north side have been set and the facing stone, a reddish granite, is being put in place. Already the fireproofers are hustling with their work, having about completed the ceilings up to and including the fifth floor. With fair weather it is expected that the building will have reached the eighteenth story and be ready for the roof by the first of the year.

FLORENCE ATTORNEY OUSTED

Thompson Accused of Straddling Fence in Paving Fight.

IS GIVEN CHANCE TO RESIGN He Refuses to Step Out and the Council Then Takes Action, Declaring His Office Vacant.

W. H. Thompson has been summarily ousted from the office of city attorney of Florence because he insisted on representing both sides of the cases growing out of the paving controversy. Matters reached an acute stage on Monday, when Acting Mayor J. H. Farris gave the city attorney opportunity to resign. Thompson refused to give up office and directed a communication to the council formally refusing to step out. The communication was read at a meeting of the council Wednesday evening and it was declared that summary action was taken in the meantime the interests of Florence are being handled by Judge Haller, though he has not been officially declared city attorney.

Long sustained fight. The long sustained fight which has shaken Florence from stem to stern grows out of the attempted payment of the contractor for paving Main street. Originally a tax levy was ordered for this purpose, but after warrants had been drawn they were declared illegal. A bond issue was then proposed, but it met opposition from F. D. Wead, A. E. Parmelee and others. The opponents retained Thompson as their attorney in the suits that followed and the council objected to having an attorney who represented both the city and those who were fighting it. Thompson insisted on representing both sides and this met with the disapproval which brought on the summary action of Wednesday night.

WORKMAN INJURED IN FALL AT POWER HOUSE

Arthur O'Malley, 808 North Tenth street, while working on a boiler at the street railway company's power house at Fourth and Jackson streets yesterday fell twenty feet to the ground, receiving two broken ribs, one of which pierced the right lung. O'Malley was taken to the Omaha General hospital. He is the Omaha General hospital. O'Malley was employed by the J. C. Toomey company of St. Louis, which company is putting in a new boiler at the power house. He attempted to get up and lost his footing. His injuries are not considered dangerous.
