

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Heavy and General Liquidation of Wheat Reaches Limit.

SURPRISE IN THE CORN TRADE

It May Be that the Prospective Heavy Movement of Corn May Have Been Discounted.

OMAHA, Nov. 29, 1911. The heavy and general liquidation which has carried wheat values lower since their flight yesterday and the market was closed but a dull affair today. Some news from Argentina, however, a bit timid in covering the decline and any slight might give the part of shorts which have been covering the market. The surplus in the corn trade was steadily reported given the deferred futures of the market. It may be that the prospective heavy movement of new corn has already been discounted. Bears were afraid to press the selling after the decline in wheat yesterday and prices were firm unchanged today. Corn futures were well supported on the theory that an increase in the eastern demand will absorb the new corn. Primary wheat receipts were 622,000 bu. and shipments were 1,027,000 bu. against receipts last year of 693,000 bu. and shipments of 1,027,000 bu. Primary corn receipts were 532,000 bu. and shipments were 1,027,000 bu. against receipts last year of 693,000 bu. and shipments of 1,027,000 bu. NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Prices Give Way Before Attacks of the Bears.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Traders were bearish today and stocks gave way. Apparently this was due to the work of professional traders who taking advantage of the general reluctance to meet stocks at this time, attacked the market. This unwillingness to buy largely was due to the fact that the market was on Monday and that the president's message taken up by the trust question is a quick movement, after the opening in a number of stocks in which was a vulnerable short interest set up.
