when seen and cannot now be found. "All of these were checks for small amounts and were said to be forged by Kelley, The defendant very many times accused others of spying on him.

The father of the defendant testified the checks were not in the writing of the defendant. Manager Burns of the Keeley institute in Omaha told of Dr. Kelley being there two weeks, but he would not obey the rules and was discharged for that reason. Burns thought he acted so strangely that he was afraid of him.
