It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and a benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. CHURCHES HOLDING BAZAAR

Holiday Wares Piled High on Long Tables in Bee Rotunda.

BEAUTIFUL QUILTS ARE SHOWN

Women of Twenty-Five Churches Start Bazaar for the Sale of Pretty Gifts Made by Their Own Societies.

The rotunda of The Bee building is transformed into a maze of ribbons, laces and daintily designed handwork in feminine fads and fancies of every imaginable kind. These fluffy and colorful articles are the wares of the big Christmas fair which the women of twenty-five churches are holding this week and which opened Monday morning with much enthusiasm.

The holiday wares are piled on long tables which line The Bee lobby and half a hundred representatives of the Women's Aid Societies are on hand to act as saleswomen. The days have been divided among the churches which are displaying their goods at a time. Today and Tuesday are given over to the bazaar of the Hanscom Park Methodist, Westminster Presbyterian, United Brethren and Grace United Evangelical.

The tables of the Hanscom Park Methodist church are in a square outlining the gold fish pool. Mrs. George W. Stone, president of the church aid society, is assisted by Mrs. C. A. Peake at the door counter. Selling corner covers are Mrs. G. W. Street, Mrs. Charles Landeryou, Mrs. W. B. Peake and Mrs. P. W. Pickett. Mrs. P. N. Hess, Mrs. P. M. Pond, Mrs. B. F. Thomas and Mrs. Clark Shelly have charge of the fancy work and Mrs. Martha Russell and Mrs. Catherine Bassett preside at the apron section. Mrs. Carrie D. Scott and Mrs. Edward Hisslop are selling art goods.

The Queen Esther society of the church has miscellaneous fancy Christmas work. Mrs. W. M. Balcomb, president of the society, is assisted by Miss Cecil Cornish, Miss Lucile Devereaux and Miss Florence Goodland. The Philanthropic society is displaying fudge, nut creams and Turkish delight under the direction of Miss Clara Barnes, Miss Vera Biddick and Mrs. Charles Lang.

The Westminster Presbyterian bazaar is in the southeast corner. Mrs. J. F. Stout, president of the Ladies' Aid society, is manager in chief. The rack covered with competing little aprons is in charge of Mrs. A. P. Thompson. Mrs. Warren Switzer, Mrs. W. J. Burgess and Mrs. W. R. Burns are selling match scratches, pin cushions, shoe bags and embroidered household lines. The main attraction of this display is a blue and white quilt made as our grandmothers used to make them. The body of the quilt is white stitched in clover design. At regular intervals are beaded figures in blue. Mrs. Switzer's sewing circle cut out the figures and made the quilt. Mrs. W. R. Heller has a display of blue and white, pink and white, lavender and white and green and white rag rugs. Mrs. William Randall has charge of the marmalades, mince meat and preserves.

All of the aprons, bags and other articles sold by the women of the Grace United Evangelical church have been made from fancy handkerchiefs. The saleswomen are Mrs. A. Terry and Mrs. Ada Patterson. Mrs. Susie Shufelt is chairman of this exhibition, which is in the northwest end of the rotunda.

In the northeast corner is the bazaar of the United Brethren church, with Mrs. H. W. Allwine in charge. Miss Helen Henderson and Miss Clara Baldwin are assisting Mrs. Allwine in selling aprons and bags. Pies, cakes and candy are being sold by Miss Anna Swanson, Mrs. F. J. Hale and Miss Florence Fehr. At the fancy work counter are Mrs. F. L. Mower, Mrs. R. E. Marble, Mrs. Charles Neff and Miss Louise Walker.

Alleged Robbers Try Habeas Corpus

Habeas corpus proceedings to secure their liberty before they can be extradited were started by James Burns and John Wilson, the alleged Derby, Ia., bank robbers, in district court yesterday. The petitions for habeas corpus were filed by A. S. Ritchie, attorney for the alleged robbers, who were picked up by the Omaha police in selling aprons and bags last week. The petitions declare the men never were in Iowa at all and are being detained illegally by Chief of Police John J. Donahue. Judge Kennedy ordered Chief Donahue to produce the men in court tomorrow morning and show cause why he should not be compelled to set them at liberty.

CROSS-COUNTRY RUN IS PLANNED FOR NEW YEAR'S

A novelty for local sport followers will be a cross-country run held on New Year's afternoon, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association. Several teams from the association will be entered and the high school will also enter its team, composed of Lynn Sackett, captain; Charles Robel, Hallett Rouse, Finley Jenkins, Coleman Gordon and John Lewis. The high school team is holding semi-weekly runs this month to get in trim and can be counted upon to run their older and more experienced competitors a lively race.

A silver loving cup will be awarded the team winning the run, this to be decided by a committee of judges on the usual point basis. Individual medals will also be awarded. The winner of the run will receive a handsome gold medal, second prize will be a silver one, and the next seven men who get places will be given bronze badges.

The run will start at the Young Men's Christian association building, thence north to Farnam on Seventeenth, west on Farnam to the boulevard on Thirty-first, north on the boulevard to Cummings street, east on Cummings to Sixteenth, south on Sixteenth to Harney and then west on Harney back to the association building. MAY NOT SEE HIS DYING WIFE

Charges Made that Wick and Moore Keep Husband Away.

MRS. O'KANE TELLS HER STORY

Mother of Dying Woman Arrives and Says She Will Prosecute Saloon Men Who Keep Them Apart.

Mrs. T. J. Roach of Wichita Falls, Tex., sits beside her dying daughter, Mrs. Dick O'Kane, in a little flat at 1321 Leavenworth street, watching a hopeless struggle for life, and calling on Mayor Dahlman to prosecute Gus Wick and Charles Moore, owners of the dance hall in which Mrs. O'Kane drank carbolic acid with suicidal intent on Friday morning.

Dick O'Kane, the husband of the dying woman, plays the piano at the dance hall. According to the story the women tell, he is under the control of Charles Moore, who has refused to allow the husband to see the wife. It was his refusal to allow her to see her husband that led Mrs. O'Kane to drink carbolic acid in one of the stalls at the dance hall on Friday morning.

About a year ago the Roachs left Omaha for Wichita Falls, where they purchased a hotel, which they still operate. O'Kane and his wife accompanied her parents to Texas, but the women say Moore chased him to return to Omaha, engaging him as piano player. Mrs. O'Kane returned with her husband, but the influence of Moore was strong enough to keep them apart. She is in a precarious condition from the effects of the poison she drank, and Dr. Fitzgibbons, who is attending her, says pneumonia has developed and gives very little hope of her living.

Moore Keeps Them Apart.
Mrs. O'Kane told her story to a Bee reporter Monday morning. She said: "I tried to get Dick to come and live with me, and he would have, had not Charlie Moore kept him away. He was making money for Moore and the latter cared not what became of me. Time after time I have gone to the saloon after midnight and pleaded on my knees to Charlie Moore and Gus Wick to let me see my husband, but they never would. Once Mr. Moore got mad at me because I cried and wanted to see my husband, whom they were dragging down, and he slapped me on the face and knocked me down."

"Thursday night I went up and told Charlie Moore that if he did not let me see my husband I would kill myself. He told me to come in and when I went in he said 'come and have a drink.' I thought I would humor him and so told him I would. While we were waiting for the drinks I asked him to let me see Dick again and he laughed. When the drinks came I took the water, which was also set on the table, and went into the toilet room and drank the poison. Even while I was at the hospital Mr. Moore would not let Dick come and see me."

Mrs. Roach said that when she got in town Sunday night she asked Moore to send O'Kane up to the house on Leavenworth street and he refused. "I then asked the police," she said, "and two officers brought him up to see his wife. He stayed all night and this morning promised to come back at noon. But at noon I called up Wick & Moore's saloon and they said he had left town, which I do not believe and they are trying to keep him away from his dying wife. I am going to prosecute Wick & Moore if I have to stay here for the rest of my life."

Medicated Gin Splendid for Kidneys and Bladder

When good pure gin is properly mixed with certain other ingredients and taken in small doses, it makes a splendid remedy for weak, damaged kidneys or bladder. Simply get six ounces best gin and add to it one-half ounce Murax Compound and one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu. Mix well and take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. This quickly stops kidney or bladder misery and prevents the most serious forms of kidney disease, such as Bright's disease, chronic rheumatism or dread diabetes.

Any or all the ingredients for the above prescription can be had at any good drug store. For best results, be sure to get the genuine Murax Compound, which comes only in sealed wooden tubes. Use the best gin obtainable. Treatment should be taken at first indication of kidney or bladder disorder. For children with weak bladder, ten to fifteen drops, diluted in a little water, at bed time, is sufficient.—Adv.
