M'NAMARAS IN SAN QUENTIN

Two Dynamiters Reach California State Penitentiary.

ONE WILL WORK IN JUTE MILL

James B. Examined for Symptoms of Tuberculosis—McManigal is to Be Taken to Indianapolis.

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Dec. 11.—The McNamara brothers yesterday entered San Quentin penitentiary, where James B. is condemned to spend the remainder of his life for his confessed crime of murder, and where John J., secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, is sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment for dynamiting.

It was James B. who blew up the Los Angeles Times building October 1, 1910, with the loss of twenty-one lives, and John J. who abetted in wrecking part of the Llewellyn Iron Works in Los Angeles the following Christmas day.

The men entered the prison, it is fairly authenticated, believing that they had achieved much for the cause of union labor and had been cruelly misunderstood in their effort and the results they obtained. John J. McNamara, those who have talked with him for many hours say, donned his convict garb a devoted admirer of life's little simple kindly deeds and a firm believer in the psychological efficacy of dynamite. James B. habitually believes a good deal as his brother believes. For themselves, the men would say nothing at all.

Talk River Steamer.

Whirled from Los Angeles on a fast night train, the men were taken from it at Port Costa at sunrise today, put on a little river steamer and landed two hours and a half later at San Quentin prison wharf on the shores of San Pablo bay. The shackles which bound them together on the boat trip were slipped off and they toiled up the prison hill beside Sheriff William A. Hammill of Los Angeles county.

As the prison clock struck 10, John J. McNamara, preceded by Warden John Hoyle, stepped over the threshold of the jail door, with his brother directly behind him.

In five minutes James B. McNamara had become convict 25,211 and John J. McNamara was number 25,212. They were measured for jail clothing, photographed in two positions, given a carbolic tincture bath, put into stripes, shaved and cropped and rephotographed within an hour and turned over to John Murray, lieutenant of the yard, who took them to cell No. 13 in a stone tier looking out over the prisoners' "upper yard" a great flower garden.

John Abe Hunt.

Further down the row, toward the other end, is the cell of Abraham Hunt, who is serving a fourteen-year sentence for bribery in connection with the so-called San Francisco graft cases. Hunt is in cell No. 2, Cell No. 11 of the tier is Henry Dalton, for seventeen years assessor of Alameda county and recently convicted of accepting a bribe offered, according to the evidence, by a public service corporation at Dalton's solicitation.

Soon after the men entered the jail, the prison band began to play and continued until 1 p. m. At 2 o'clock Sunday

McManigal in the San Quentin state prison.

Just when McManigal will leave here has not been determined, but he will be in Indianapolis by December 22, the federal grand jury being scheduled to begin its probe there December 14.

Oscar Lawyer, the government's special prosecutor, may go to Indianapolis also to assist in handling the case.

The grand jury investigation may be concluded here this week. The investigation here is aimed at less than five people, while the Indianapolis inquiry is expected to bring in the limelight at least a dozen persons.

Indianapolis, therefore, will be the center of the government's investigation.

These facts were learned today by the Associated Press after a canvass of various people who have had much to do with the McNamara case here and who will continue to work on it. Partial confirmation came from McManigal himself at the county jail today when he said:

"I'll tell any grand jury anywhere anything that I know. I have nothing to conceal and I shall consider it my duty to give the authorities all information in my possession."

McLaren to Go Also.

McManigal will be accompanied when he leaves here by Malcolm McLaren, the Burns detective who arrested him in Detroit last April and who has been with him constantly ever since, spending whole days with him at a time. The two men have become good friends. It is to McLaren that McManigal has given day by day his real confession.

McManigal simply will be lent to the federal government by the state authorities here, and after his trips around the country giving testimony he very likely will be released. He will spend a different Christmas, however, this time than last year, when he placed dynamite under a part of the Llewellyn Iron works.

For this crime, directed by John J. Mc-

McManigal can be imprisoned for not less than a year, but his detention by the authorities before they get through with his testimony will be equivalent to that, and no serious objections to his release are expected from anybody.

He will be closely guarded, however, at all time, and his trip across the country will be in secret.

Twenty-five witnesses are expected to appear before the grand jury here this week.

More Persons Involved.

"There are certain persons," said an official today, "who would willingly tell all they knew if other persons could be spared implication. The government will of course offer no immunity to any one, though a confession may help the person who makes it."

That Orrie McManigal received money from officials other than John J. McNamara connected with the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers is contained in his confessions. This information came from reliable authority.

"This phase of the case, it is said, is more within the scope of the Indianapolis investigation and will be revealed after McManigal arrives at Indianapolis. What will be placed before the grand jury here in the matter of alleged violations of federal statutes in transporting explosives that eventually caused the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times building and the Llewellyn Iron works plant. Persons on the coast are alleged to have been chiefly involved.

"Tomorrow another angle of the McNamara case is expected to be concluded for the present. Burt H. Franklin, who is charged with bribing a prospective juror in the McNamara case, will be arraigned for preliminary examination. A few witnesses will be put on the stand by the state, but the defense probably will not indulge in cross-examination.

It is believed Franklin will be bound over for trial by a justice of the superior court, the trial date to be several weeks off.

Miller Preserves Silence.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 10.—"I will not say when Orrie E. McManigal is to be brought here, I will not say if he is to be brought here at all," was the statement tonight of United States District Attorney Miller when informed of the Los Angeles dispatch stating that McManigal would be brought to Indianapolis within a few days.

"I refuse to make more statements in regard to the dynamiting investigation," said Mr. Miller.

The report that the executive committee of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers has been in secret conference in some place other than Indianapolis since yesterday was given credence by the fact that both Frank M. Ryan, president of the association, and H. S. Hockin, its acting secretary, have been out of the city. Leon M. Rappaport, attorney for the association, said President Ryan was in Chicago, but information regarding the whereabouts of Secretary Hockin could not be obtained.

The report was further substantiated by the fact that none of the executive committee, several of whom have been here for a week or more, could be found today. According to the reports, the meeting probably was held in Chicago.

Make Trip to Chicago.

John Kirby, Jr., of Dayton, O., president of the National Association of Manufacturers, went to Chicago today following a conference here with Walter Drew, counsel for the National Erectors' association; J. A. G. Esdorf, also of the Erectors association, and a number of defectives of Burns' men.

The conference, it is said, had to do with producing evidence in line with the dynamiting investigation to be resumed here next Thursday by the federal grand jury. The evidence probably will be corroborated by the letters and documents in the hands of the federal authorities here, which, it is said, go to show that a conspiracy of nation-wide scope existed.

Detective Burns is expected to return to Indianapolis tomorrow and complete his side of the case for the federal grand jury. It was not known tonight how long Mr. Burns would remain.

Holy Ghosters Pray For Convicted Leader

DURHAM, Me., Dec. 11.—The members of the flock of Rev. Frank W. Sandford, leader of the Holy Ghost and U's society, who is now under bonds awaiting sentence on the charge of being responsible for the deaths of six persons, Catholics, spent the entire day in prayer for his safety in the temple. Mr. Sandford did not appear publicly at Shiloh.

PROHIBITIONISTS HAVING PROGRESSIVE FIGHT ON HAND

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Further impetus was given the factional fight in the prohibition party today when W. G. Calderwood, secretary of the prohibition national committee, issued an appeal to all prohibitionists urging them to join the Progressive Prohibition league in its efforts to unseat Charles R. Jones, national chairman.

Calderwood's appeal reviewed the history of the prohibition party since the national campaign of 1908 and reiterated charges of mismanagement previously made against Chairman Jones. Calderwood declared that Jones had given the party turmoil, strife and a deficit.

Chairman Jones, when told of the Calderwood statement said Calderwood was actuated wholly by personal ambition and not by the good of the party. Jones also said that Calderwood's appeal was in no way official and was not approved by the national committee.

COLE WILL BUILD CREAMERY

Architect Making Plans for Building at Fourteenth and Jones.

LET CONTRACT ON JANUARY 1

New Structure Will Be Home of the Creamery Company and Old Building Will Be Poultry House.

David Cole has decided to build a new creamery on his lots recently purchased at Fourteenth and Jones, and has engaged Architect John Latenser to draft plans, which are to be in the hands of contractors for bids by January 1.

The structure will be 12 feet square, at the southwest corner of Fourteenth and Jones. It will be of brick and two stories high. It will be made the home of the David Cole Creamery company, now located at Tenth and Howard.

Retains Old Building.

The present building will be occupied by Mr. Cole's wholesale poultry, oyster and celery business and the present poultry house, on Eleventh, 517 1/2 Farnam and Hartney, will be sold.

Bids will be taken on one-half the building, to be completed by April 1. On that date a lease on the rest of the property will expire and the construction of the second half will be begun.

The property is known as the "Peabody lots," having been owned for many years in the early history of Omaha by Dr. Peabody.

Swanson's Condition is Regarded Serious

Helwig Swanson, the Omaha merchant who was injured in an automobile wreck near Elkhorn Friday night, is still in a serious condition at Clarkson hospital. The doctor attending him said that he put in a good night Saturday and was resting nicely, but by no means was he out of danger. The other members of the party who were injured are recovering and will be about in the next few days.
