

NOTABLE DEAD OF THE YEAR

Distinguished Men and Women Who Have Joined the Silent Majority.

FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE

selections from the Long Roll of Honorable Careers Closed at Home and Abroad—Monthly Summary.

January—United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia; United States Senator Charles J. Hughes, Jr., of Colorado; Sir John Aird, London, builder of the Assuan dam on River Nile; Judge E. B. Whitney, distinguished New York jurist; William H. Sherwood, noted Chicago musician; Miss Mary Kellock, New York landscape painter; David Graham Phillips, American novelist, assassinated in New York; Paul Morion, president of the Equitable Life Assurance company, New York; Sir Charles W. Dilke, British scholar and statesman; Brigadier General George B. Tandy, United States army, retired, New York; Rear Admiral Davis B. Macomb, United States navy, retired, New York City; Mrs. Ella Knowles Haskell, Butte, former assistant attorney general of Montana, and one of the foremost woman lawyers in the United States; Rear Admiral Charles S. Sperry, United States navy, who piloted the battle fleet around the world, 1906-8; Bishop Paret of Maryland; Bishop Edward Robert Atwell of Kansas City and Bishop Vinton of Western Massachusetts all three prelates of the Protestant Episcopal church; Rev. Austin W. Mann, deafmute minister, Cleveland; Paul Singer, German socialist.

February—Most Rev. Patrick J. Ryan, Roman Catholic archbishop of Philadelphia; Rt. Rev. Osi W. Whittaker, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Pennsylvania; Rear Admiral Silas W. Terry, United States navy, retired; Rt. Rev. Thomas Bonaccus, Roman Catholic bishop of Lincoln, Neb.; General Piet A. Cronje, noted Boer commander in South African war; George Lee Peabody, distinguished banker of Boston; Simeon Farwell, president of the John V. Farwell Co., Chicago; Baron Albert S. A. Rothchild, head of the Austrian branch of the family; James Elverton, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer; Dr. Edward G. Janeway, noted physician of New Jersey; Francis Philip Nash, professor emeritus of Latin, Hobart college; General Alexander S. Webb, commander of brigade at Gettysburg and president of New York City college; Prof. Edward Hitchcock of Amherst college; Dr. Maurice Flugel, historian and scientist, Baltimore; James H. Hoge, pioneer pork packer of Sioux City, Ia.; Quanaq Parker, chief of Comanche Indian tribe, Indian Territory; General Irwin, minister of war, France; Judge William Paine Lord, governor of Oregon, 1905; Sam Walter Foss, journalist and poet, Somerville, Mass.

March—John M. Carrere, noted American architect, New York; David K. Moffat, banker, builder and pioneer of Colorado; Watts Parker, Lexington, Ky., famous Southern jurist; Le Grand W. Perce, Chicago, lawyer, congressman and civil war veteran; William H. West, "blind man eloquent" of Ohio, lawyer, one of the founders of the republican party; Senator Pierantoni, famous Italian authority on international law; James Douglas Warner, Brooklyn, N. Y., noted civil engineer and railroad surveyor; Francis C. Lowell, Boston, famous jurist of Massachusetts; Rev. Cicero Barber, Fort Edward, N. Y., Methodist Episcopal clergyman, age 104; Samuel Newton Wickersham, Pittsburg, maker of first copper wire in United States; Sir Casper Purdon Clarke, London, former director of Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York; Prof. Henry Mitchell Whitney, Harvard college; Otto Ringling, circus manager, New York; James B. McDonald, builder of the New York subway; Rev. Admiral John C. Fremont, U. S. N.; Rt. Rev. John A. Forest, Roman Catholic bishop of San Antonio, Tex.; Rev. Dr. Charles Joseph Little, president of Garrett Biblical institute; Curtis Guller, Jr., Boston journalist; Rev. Francis Xavier Brady, president of Loyola college, Baltimore; F. J. Hochow, New York, inventor of labor saving machines; Ernest Crofta, British painter of war scenes.

April—Denman Thompson, American actor, creator of "Old Homestead"; Tom L. Johnson, congressman, four times Mayor of Cleveland; John C. Fremont, University of Wisconsin; Edward A. Moseley, secretary Interstate Commerce commission, Washington; George W. Glick, former governor of Kansas; Charles F. M. Bell, managing editor London Times; Craig Lippincott, noted Philadelphia publisher; Colonel Alexander Savage, noted Confederate soldier, Virginia; Martinus Campos, president supreme of Spain; Rev. James A. Doonan, former president of Georgetown university; William Keff, noted landscape painter, California; George Cary Eggleston, author and newspaper editor; Frank W. Benson, former governor of Oregon; John Passmore Ed. ward, British publicist and philanthropist; Rev. Dr. Peter Henry Steensma, Cambridge, Mass., authority on the Old Testament; Dr. Henry Knapp, eminent eye and ear specialist, New York.

May—Judge M. R. Hopewell, lieutenant governor of Nebraska; Albert B. Kittredge, Sioux Falls, S. D., former United States senator; Sir William S. Gilbert, London, composer of light opera; Dr. Stanford E. Chaille, physician and soldier, New Orleans; Colonel Thomas W. Higginson, historical essayist of Massachusetts; Samuel Souder, noted scientist and naturalist, Boston; Henry Maurice Berteaux, French minister of war, killed by flying machine in Paris; Frederick P. Vinton, leader of Boston painters; Edgar W. Spencer, justice of the New York supreme court; Halsey Cooley Ives, director of St. Louis Museum of Art; Rev. Dr. John H. DeForest, veteran Congregational minister in Japan; Rear Admiral William C. Gibson, U. S. N., retired; former Congressman William H. Baker, South Dakota, author of rural free delivery law; Very Rev. James McGill, widely known Roman Catholic priest, Philadelphia; Frederick Porter Vinton, portrait painter, Boston.

June—Maurice Rouvier, French statesman and powerful peace advocate; Paul de Lamoignon, Los Angeles, famous flower painter; General R. B. Brinkerhoff, civil war veteran and prison reformer, Mansfield, O.; Marquis Emilio De Ojeda, former Spanish ambassador to the United States; George W. E. Dorey, former congressman from Nebraska; J. Proctor Knott, Kentucky statesman, congressman and governor; H. V. Harlan of New York, former speaker of Nebraska house of representatives; J. E. Marjell, pioneer hotel keeper of Omaha; Johan Severin Swenden, Norwegian composer; George E. Matthews, one of the publishers of the Buffalo Express; Prof. Felice Tocco, eminent Italian scholar; Joseph Bennett, dean of musical critics of London; Rear Admiral Charles E. Norton, U. S. N., re-

Brandeis Stores

1912

Closed All Day Monday

On this New Year's Day we wish to congratulate the people of this city on the splendid outlook for commercial advancement and building expansion in Omaha for the coming year.

We hope that every Omaha citizen may enjoy a just and generous share of this city's increased prosperity.

In 1912 Brandeis pledge their full share in the erection of new buildings that will be a credit to Omaha and a permanent satisfaction to her people.

We pledge our co-operation in every worthy movement that has as its object the welfare of Omaha.

J. L. BRANDEIS & SONS.

ted, veteran of the civil war; Most Rev. Denis O'Connor, archbishop of Toronto. July—Eugene F. Ware, Kansas lawyer, poet and former commissioner of pensions; Maria Pia, dowager queen of Portugal; General Theodore B. Gates, Brooklyn, N. Y., civil war veteran, jurist and publicist; Franklyn Fyles, New York, journalist, critic and dramatist; Peter A. Day, Iowa City, Ia., surveyor of first 100 miles of Union Pacific railroad; General William Henry Koons, Somerset county, Pennsylvania, lawyer, orator, soldier and political leader; Dr. Herman Adler, chief rabbi of Great Britain; Edward M. Sheppard, political leader and lawyer, Brooklyn; Rt. Rev. Francis Pagan, bishop of Oxford, England; Cardinal Thomas Moran, New Zealand; Frank A. Hooker, justice of the supreme court of Michigan; George Gardner Rockwood, noted photographer, New York; Charles Marie Claude, Marquis Chavigny, professor of French literature, Harvard college; Sir Eldon Gorst, British consul-general in Egypt; Mrs. Ella Wright Osborne, leader of woman suffrage movement in New York.

August—Josef Israels, eminent Dutch painter, The Hague; Joseph Francis Tucker, chairman Central Traffic association; Congressman Madison Dodge City, Kan., insurgent republican; Joel Heaton, New York, poet and author; Thomas H. Carter, former United States senator from Montana; Sir Robert Hart, inspector general of Chinese customs; James Curtis Hepburn, American missionary and translator of bible into Japanese; Arabi Pasha, leader of Egyptian rebellion against British, 1881; General John J. McCook, New York, last of twelve brothers who fought in civil war; Charles Battell Loomis, New York, author and humorist; ex-Judge Henry Pierson Hedges, New York, oldest alumnus of Yale college, aged 74; Baron Northcote, former governor-general of Australia.

September—Roger Quarles Mills, former United States senator from Texas; General Charles F. Manderson, Omaha, former United States senator from Nebraska; Edwin Mhympar, England, famous mountain climber; Most Rev. William Alexander, Episcopal primate of Ireland; Dr. Thomas Dwight, Parkman, professor of anatomy, Harvard Medical school; Congressman Madison Dodge City, Kan., insurgent republican; Joel Heaton, New York, poet and author; Thomas H. Carter, former United States senator from Montana; Sir Robert Hart, inspector general of Chinese customs; James Curtis Hepburn, American missionary and translator of bible into Japanese; Arabi Pasha, leader of Egyptian rebellion against British, 1881; General John J. McCook, New York, last of twelve brothers who fought in civil war; Charles Battell Loomis, New York, author and humorist; ex-Judge Henry Pierson Hedges, New York, oldest alumnus of Yale college, aged 74; Baron Northcote, former governor-general of Australia.

October—Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World; John B. Grant, former governor of Colorado, the founder of the mining trust; Alfred Blunt, noted scientific investigator of France; Rt. Rev. Augustine Van de Vyver, Roman Catholic bishop of Richmond, Va.; Joseph Very Quarles, United States circuit judge, Milwaukee; Cornelius N. Bliss, New York, treasurer of the republican national committee; William Elroy Curtis, author and traveling correspondent of the Record-Herald, Washington; Mrs. Mary Cook, New Canaan, Mass., widely known magazine writer and army nurse in civil war; R. K. Munkittrick, New York, editor and author; Herbert E. Squiers, American diplomat and army officer; John R. Walsh, Chicago banker and publisher; Joseph Bell, eminent Scottish surgeon, original of Conan Doyle's "Sherlock Holmes"; Dr. John Bascomb, former president of the University of Wisconsin; General De Charrette, a noted French army officer; John Henry Smith, prominent counselor of the Mormon church, Salt Lake City; John Marshall Harlan, justice of the United States supreme court; Watson M. Holmes, Illinois, inventor (with his father) of first practical self-binding reaper; Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, United States navy, hero of the battle of Santiago; Ida Lewis, famous keeper of Lime Rock Lighthouse, Newport, R. I.

November—Fernando Jones, pioneer of Chicago, age 95; William Clark Russell, London, writer of sea stories; Daniel Drawbaugh, Harrisburg, Pa., one of the inventors of the telephone; Kylie Bellow, British actor, author and traveler; Dr. Alfred Cochran Lambdin, editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger; Brigadier General Patrick Henry Bay, Fort Niagara, N. Y., veteran of Mexican and civil wars and Indian campaigns; Howard Fyle, American artist, art teacher and author of children's books; Miss Margaret Noble, an Irishwoman, leader of modern education in India; Meredith Townsend, editor and owner of the London Spectator; Rt. Rev. Alexander Mackay-Smith, Episcopal bishop of Pennsylvania; Frederick C. Whitehouse, New York, scientist and Egyptologist; Thomas Hall, Brooklyn, N. Y., early inventor of typewriters; Caroline Le Roy Appleton, a granddaughter of Daniel Webster, widow of Colonel Jerome Bonaparte, at Washington; Surgeon General Walter Wyman, U. S. A., at Washington;

Enormous Silk Purchase

Should Mean the Biggest and Most Exciting Silk Sale Ever Held by

Thomas Kilpatrick & Co.

There are two jobbing houses in America whose business is so vast as to make them stand absolutely alone in the Big Business of the World

Immediately after Christmas in the closing days of the year we received from one of these concerns a vast assortment of silks, representing their entire open stock of certain makes of goods made for the very

Best Retail Trade

A letter reached us, the substance of which was: We are about to invoice, we desire to clean the decks. We want an offer on Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Quick as the lightning would flash the news we wired a price on the TWO BEST AND BIGGEST LOTS. It was conceded that the cutting was cruel BUT WE GOT THE GOODS.

TUESDAY, Jan. 2, 1912—we will establish a new selling mark in the retail silk business. Part of the purchase has been shown in west window—all perfect goods, vast variety, late styles; worth $1.00 and $1.25—

One Price Tuesday 59c

As a sort of inaugural celebration of the opening in a formal way of the new addition—we will sell on left side of room—a big lot of Colored Wash Goods.

Woven Scotch Madras, 32 inches wide, sold at 25c and 35c, at15c

We will be glad to have you spend the day with us on Tuesday. Luncheon will be served from 10 till 5. Help us make it A Happy New Year.

Thomas Kilpatrick & Co.

SEE PAGES 3, 4, 7, 8 and 10.

Convenience means much to the business man.

Situated where it commands easy access to the every part of Omaha's business district offers the best office location for the man who must be within convenient reach of the main business channels of the city. It adjoins the city hall, is across street from the new Douglas county court house, within a few steps of the theaters and banks and near the main street car lines. There is no better location in the city.

The Bee Building

The building is thoroughly modern, with excellent new elevator service; beautiful interior decorations, steam heat and the most careful of janitor attention. A few choice court and outside offices are vacant just now.

Room 601, 602, 605—A very attractive suite on the sixth floor, facing the court. This space being near the top of the building has an abundance of natural light and good ventilation afforded through the skylight to the court. 601 is 14x15-6 and has vault; 602 is 11-9x13, and 605 is 11-9x35. Space will be rented on suite or separate to please desirable tenant. If you need a large space at a reasonable rental it will be to your interest to see this proposition.

Room 208—Here is an exceptionally fine large office facing Farnam street and also having a west exposure. The space is so partitioned as to make four rooms, all being well lighted. In addition there is a vault in one corner of this room which has shelving, providing an excellent place to keep private papers, records, etc. Think of it. 549 square feet of floor space renting at, per month.....$65.00

Rooms 428-430—The larger room is a corner space having a north and east light; size 15-12-6. We will partition to suit. The smaller room is 428, has north light and is 10x12. These rooms will be rented either singly or together. Ask us to show you these.

The Bee Building Co.,

Bee Business Office, 17th and Farnam Sts.

We Shall Do Our Best in 1912

To our customers and the public we wish prosperity and happiness during 1912 and for many years to come.

If we succeed in promoting your comfort, adding to your convenience, helping in your prosperity—be sure we will be glad of it.

For ourselves, we hope to win success in our particular business in exchange for the kind of effort that deserves success.

Perhaps you never considered that a public utility company that is anxious to increase its business MUST try hard to please its customers.

The more energetically a company works for new business, the more painstaking must be the effort to render good service.

It is human to fall short of the goal set by ambition; it is disheartening to fail occasionally when we want to please the most. In the long run, however, conscientious effort wins its own reward and honest recognition.

We can assure you that we shall do our best to earn your good opinion in the year we are just beginning.

Omaha Electric Light & Power Co.

women are not looked upon in this light of dramatics and authors have too often cheapened her virtues, placed her in false light. We have often when traveling abroad heard her mentioned as a frivolous, mercenary creature, but there is a reaction, though as yet feeble, coming. Confederates are even now traveling all over the world chastising those who have labelled her, but better than this, the women of France are going to conduct their own defense. The influence of "Le Conseil National des Femmes Francaise" has already made itself widely felt. Its contact with similar groups in foreign countries has been a revelation to many of these. By their eloquence and brilliancy of speech, by their knowledge of social questions and by their national propaganda the delegates of this council have made the world "discover" an absolutely novel Frenchwoman.

In every respect she deserves our admiration; rich of soul, simple minded or well educated, she loves France and this love incalculably points out her duty to her. The day will come when all the sons of France will be able to repeat Pasteur's beautiful words: "Your enthusiasm, my valiant mother, has engendered mine and when I have always associated grandeur of science with grandeur of country, it is because I have always been filled with the sentiment you had inspired in me."

Predicting the Weather.
A century and a half ago people in England used to depend upon the weather prognostications in Partridge's almanac. One day Partridge himself put up at a country inn for dinner. The hostler advised him to stay the night, as it would certainly rain. "Nonsense!" said Partridge, who proceeded on his way. Soon a heavy shower fell, which so impressed the traveler that he instantly rode back to the inn and offered the hostler half a crown if he would tell him how he knew the rain was imminent.

"Well," replied the man, with a grin, pocketing the coin, "the truth is, we have Partridge's almanac here; and lo! even such a liar that whenever he promises a fine day we know it will be foul. Today is set down as fine." The weather prophesied like many other weather prophets before and since, passed on discomfited.—Strand Magazine.

Look them over. The property you are looking for may be there.

Turn to the Want-Ad pages now