Exciting Moments at the Indoor Athletic Meet

Hockey Taken Up as Winter Sport by the Omaha Clubs

If the present cold weather continues Omaha will show up stronger in hockey this year than it ever has before, as there are several clubs in the city which have taken up the favorite Canadian pastime. Several rinks in the city have been flooded and hockey teams are already practicing with a view to putting the game among the foremost in Omaha.

The ice on the rinks which have been flooded is in great condition and frozen as smooth as glass. At Hanscom park, the ice is better this year than it has been for many years in the past and every afternoon and evening teams may be seen practicing. The tennis courts at the Country club have been flooded and are crowded every afternoon and evening. The movement of putting hockey on Omaha's sport state is being promoted by A. V. Kinsler of the Country club. Mr. Kinsler is not a player himself, but he thinks the sport is one which should be recognized by Omahans, as he claims that it is the king of winter sports.

Mr. Kinsler has talked the matter over with several persons familiar with the sport and all think the promotion of such a movement would be greatly welcomed by the sport-loving public of Omaha. There are several good hockey players in Omaha and especially at the Country club and the Field club. Several teams have been formed at the Country club and will begin playing amongst themselves as soon as they feel that they are in condition to warrant contests. It is possible that the best players among all the teams will be picked for the one best which will represent the Country club in matches with other teams in the city.

Moderate Volume of Trading.

Market on Cotton Goods Levelled to Basis of Gray Clothes. NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Cotton goods trading was of moderate volume during the week. Some further revisions were made and the market is gradually being leveled to the basis that has prevailed on gray cloths for some time past. Printed shirtings have been priced on a basis of 4 1/2 cents for Americans and Merrimacs, and one of the prominent lines of eastern brown shirtings has been revised to 3 1/2 cents from the top of 3 3/4 cents at one period last year.

It does not appear that China trade will revive in the near future, but the miscellaneous export trade continues steady and is very promising at the time. Some small Red sea business and some small India business was done. Of the 12,000 gloves that were sold at Fall River about 50,000 were for spot delivery; the balance being futures for delivery as far ahead as April. There was more firmness in the wide print cloth markets at the end of the week.

Preliminary showings of cotton blankets and napped fabrics are being made and new prices for the fall season will be named toward the latter part of the month. Jobbers are beginning a little new business on wash fabrics. Retailers are few featuring white goods and domestic goods sales. Some few of the large buyers have been in the market, but the larger bulk is not looked for until the third week of the month, when annual meetings of jobbers' associations will take place here.

LONG AND SHORT OF IT

Solemnly Humorous Judicial Deliberance on Meaning of "A Long Time." The oft-quoted remark of the governor of North Carolina has at last been brought into court, carefully construed, and found not to be so long as some other times. It is probable that it was the exceeding droughtiness of the interval which made it seem long. In a prosecution for the illegal sale of whiskey in Alabama, a witness testified that he had bought a pint of liquor of the accused "a short time" before the grand jury returned the indictment against him. It was objected that this evidence did not show that the prosecution had been begun within twelve months after the sale of the whiskey, the time limited by statute for beginning a prosecution. In discussing this objection, the supreme court, in Wilson against state, 56 Southern Reporter, 134, after holding that "a short time" might be taken in the connection in which it was used to refer to a period less than twenty months, said, by way of illustration: "The expression 'a long time' would refer to a very different period of days, and have a widely different meaning in measuring time when used by an archaeologist having reference to the period of existence of the Egyptian pyramids, than when used by Carolina governors with reference to the time between elections." The court may be right, but probably the governor of North Carolina measured time as recommended by the poet who said: "We live a long time, but in figures on a dial—Cutler's Weekly.

TWO KICKS ON THE TIPS

Writers in New York and Cleveland Start a Starling Reform. Ye that have tips to give, prepare for the work. Organized waiters in New York and Cleveland have declared against the holdup and will drop it if the bosses do the right thing.

Members of the newly organized International Hotel Workers' union in New York at a recent meeting declared for an endless palm and other comforts. "What the waiters want, at least what those connected with this particular union want, is a regular salary and possibly a commission on sales of food and drink to patrons and a complete abolition of tips. They say that a salary of $3 a week for the best restaurants and hotels, with a commission, intended to net a man who did good hard work about $15 a week more would be about right, with lower pay for the cheaper places. A raise of 5 per cent in the prices charged to patrons, they say, would more than recompense the proprietors for the difference in the wage scale, and at least, the public would be paying less than under the tipping system.

Cleveland waiters will follow the example set by New York waiters and petition employers, with whom the solution is said to lie, to end the nuisance and pay them salaries. At a mass meeting of members of the newly formed International Hotel Workers' union the practice of tipping was scored as never before, and its abolition resolved upon.

The waiters ask a regular salary of $3 a week in the best restaurants and cafes, with a commission on business that will net them an average of $10 a week for hard work. They recommend that the employed raise prices, say 5 per cent, to compensate for the expense of paying legitimate wages to the employees.

In the words of Thomas Farrell, business agent of the local union, the waiters are opposed to tipping.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Snow and ice and unreasonably cold weather through out the entire country will usher in this week, according to a special forecast issued tonight by the weather bureau. A general reaction to warmer and less inclement conditions will mark the close of the week. The forecast continues: "The first general storm of the week to cross the country is now central over Utah, whence it will move eastward and cross the great central valleys Monday night or Tuesday and the eastern states Tuesday or Tuesday night. It will be preceded by moderating temperatures and rain and snow in southern and snow in northern districts and be followed by a widespread change to colder weather. This cold wave will appear in the north west Monday night.

"The next general disturbance to cross the country will appear on the Pacific coast Wednesday, cross the middle west about Friday and the eastern states at the close of the week. It will be attended by widespread cloudiness and precipitation and a general reaction to warmer weather.

Be persistent, hard-working and square. Seek do not avoid, difficulties.

His first job is a young man's first great opportunity.

The steel trust and other large corporations, by their constant search for competent managers, are daily proving there is plenty of room at the top.

A hard-working, intelligent, honest employee can always rise to the top because most of his associates show a marvelous amount of mediocrity.

He must be interested, must know his own work and everybody's else.

The best capital is that which you have saved yourself.

Start with a definite object and resolve to become an expert in your chosen field. Start out with a well-trained mind, write a good hand, figure well, spell well and pen a good, simple letter.
