

STOCK LOSS IS TO BE LIGHT

Long Severe Cold Spell Not as Fatal as Was Expected.

MONTANA THE HEAVY LOSER

Stock Owners in Nebraska and South Dakota Will Lose but Little—Warm Weather Saves the Ranchmen.

Last week at the general offices of the Northwestern road steps were taken to ascertain the exact condition of affairs in the live stock area tributary to the company lines in western Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming.

Through the Nebraska live stock section cattle have stood the recent long spell of cold weather much better than elsewhere, probably due to the fact that all of the ranchmen were well supplied with hay and most of them had a fair amount of corn.

Worse in Black Hills. In the southern portion of South Dakota the reports are almost identical with those coming from Nebraska.

Worse in Wyoming. In Wyoming from the Nebraska line west to Lander, where sheep are raised in large numbers, the losses promised to be very heavy, but the warm weather that set in there a few days ago and continued, melting the snow, proved a saving grace to the flock masters.

Farther north in Wyoming and in the vicinity of Sheridan there is a good deal of irrigated land, much of it in alfalfa.

Reports from Montana indicate a more critical condition upon the range. There the grass was almost a complete failure.
