

Delightfully New House Dresses

All Ready to Slip On

The dainty rustle of fresh, clean wash dresses greets one from every side here—such a splendid combination of exquisite style and clever designing we have never seen at such surprisingly reasonable prices.

Just the garments for house wear—very appropriate and serviceable for the business woman and one lady remarked that she finds one of these pretty percale dresses a pleasing little afternoon frock.

A wealth of new colors and patterns in Chambrays, Ginghams and Percalés.

We call special attention to the complete range of sizes and the remarkably low prices.

Junior sizes 15, 17 and 19. Small Women's sizes 32 to 49.

PRICES $2.50 $2.95 $3.50 $3.95

In our east window we are demonstrating the clean, sanitary methods used in making our garments—don't miss this interesting display.

WILSON WRITES NOTE TO HARVEY

convincing people of the real independence of the Weekly's position. You will remember that that was what we discussed and now that I have unintentionally put you in a false and embarrassing position you have come of fire on my head by continuing to give out interviews favorable to my candidacy.

All that I can say is that you have proved yourself very big and that I wish I might have an early opportunity to tell you face to face how I really feel about it all.

With warm regard, cordially and faithfully yours, WOODROW WILSON.

It is noted in the foregoing that mention of the Knickerbocker instead of the Manhattan club is obviously a slip of the pen.

Harvey's Final Letter. Colonel Harvey's reply was as follows: "Jan. 31, 1912—My Dear Governor Wilson: Thank you sincerely for your most handsome letter. I can only repeat what I said before—that there is no particle of personal rancor or resentment left in me. And I beg you to believe that I have not said one word to anybody of criticism of you."

"I have to print a word of explanation to the Weekly's readers, but it will be the briefest possible. Very truly yours, 'GEORGE HARVEY.'"

Will Not Answer Watterston. TRENTON, Jan. 30.—The latest statement of Colonel Watterston admits of no comment from me," said Governor Wilson today.

When asked for his reasons for making no comment, the governor said: "I had hoped that they were self-evident."

The governor then added: "I am only sorry to have to regret the friendship which, while it lasted, I found interesting and enjoyable."

Asked if he did not mean to say the loss of friendship, the governor replied that he preferred to have the statement stand as he had dictated it.

CARROLL MAY RUN AGAIN

Governor of Iowa Issues Feeler in Quest for Office.

CHALLENGE GIVEN PROF. HOLDEN

Declaration Greater Iowa Platform of Ames Men Has Been Approved from Executive's Box of Campaign Issues.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram)—Governor Carroll issued a public statement today in which he claimed the right of discovery of the "Greater Iowa" idea and points out that Prof. Holden, who has come out on a Greater Iowa platform, is merely following him.

Carroll claims that he won four contests in Iowa on the platform now advocated by Holden and later appropriated by Clark, and intimates that, some persons whom he does not name were responsible for the prevention of any legislation along the line he has suggested.

It is supposed the announcement is a feeler put out to see whether Carroll can get into the race for governor again. The state executive council today appointed a new state board of examiners for mine inspectors. Mine Foreman and Hoisting Engineer David Anderson and W. L. Jones of Colfax are the mine members of the board; Ed M. Gray of Des Moines and T. L. Evans of Albia, the operator members, and Howard W. Ladd of Madrid the engineer member of the board.

Two Offices by One Man? The legal department of the state today joined with the officials of Winnebago county in an appeal of a decision to the supreme court to determine whether one person may hold the office of justice of the peace at the same time as that of mayor.

The attorney general held that the two offices were incompatible, but Judge Clyde decided otherwise. His decision will affect mayors of fifty towns.

Iowa Missionary Safe at Post. FORT DODGE, Ia., Jan. 30.—(Special)—"Coming" was the one word in a cablegram from Shanghai, China, received by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Somers of this city from their daughter, Mrs. Elrick Williams, a young missionary who has been trying to brave it through the Chinese crisis and remain at her post in Chengtu.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams will come to the United States on a furlough during this time when no effective missionary work is possible because of the unsettled and terrible conditions in the orient.

circumstances am I criticizing any of his friends who desire to see him nominated. There is not one of them who would support him more enthusiastically than I, and had he consented at the beginning that the fight should be made in his name Senator La Follette would not have been in the race.

Regrets the Division. I deeply regret that there should be any division in my ranks in Nebraska. I believe it is a serious mistake. As I understand your position it is not that you have anything against Senator La Follette, or that you are opposed to him in any way, but that you think he cannot be nominated and that Colonel Roosevelt can. I have no doubt of your sincerity, and I do not want to be understood as questioning your motives in the least, but assuming this to be the true condition, does it not seem to you as though it would be better, even from your standpoint, that Roosevelt's friends in Nebraska should support the La Follette delegates in our coming contest? I think the position of Senator La Follette's friends would appeal to you. You must surely see from the condition as narrated that Senator La Follette's friends ought not to be asked to withdraw his name now, after the wonderful progress that has been made under his leadership in this contest, and if your position be true we are conceding to you all that you ask, which is that if the condition exists which you say will be shown to exist later, then the La Follette delegates shall support Colonel Roosevelt.

I am confident that Senator La Follette embodies the elements of constructive statesmanship to a degree not surpassed by any other public man. The history of his life will show that he has always consistently, conscientiously and with great ability stood and fought for the principles that are nearest and dearest to the great body of citizenship, and that during his entire public life he has been bitterly assailed and opposed by political bosses, machine manipulators and representatives of special interests. He embodies in his life and in his work all that we stand for as progressive republicans. He would make a leader who in my judgment would be invincible. It is true he would be opposed by political bosses in both parties, but the rank and file of the citizenship would come to his aid by the million. He would make a president who would be perfectly satisfied under whose administration no honest business, no honest citizen, would have cause for alarm or fear.

While you state in your letter that my answer would be considered as confidential if I so desired it, yet I have no objection whatever to the publication of all that I have said. Very truly yours, G. W. NORRIS.

Colonel Yeiser's Reply. To this letter Colonel Yeiser makes the following reply:

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 30, 1912.—Hon. George W. Norris, Washington, D. C.—Dear Sir: Your letter of January 27 received. I regret the position you have taken. Your friends in this state, who are ardent admirers of Colonel Roosevelt, desired you as a delegate-at-large representative of the fact that you had supported La Follette, because they felt that under the preferential vote you would be satisfactory to the friends of both. I was greatly pleased to learn of this feeling and wrote you hoping to receive a favorable answer which would enable you to become the recipient of the combined Roosevelt and La Follette support. I thought this would be a fortunate position for you in contradistinction to your opponent who was in Indiana trying to re-nominate the man we believe should get re-nominated. But we all do not see alike.

Complications and Confusions. "I am sorry that you feel hurt because Colonel Roosevelt would not consent to be a candidate when the few gentlemen you refer to extended the invitation to me. We have all received that same courteous declaration which shows a genuine reluctance to become a candidate. But we were conscious that we are only a small part of the people and have little more to offer than that notorious character of the Bible who made a famous offer to our Savior. We are honest and consistent, however, in our desire to capture this nomination, so that when we are ready to take up this transaction with the colonel again it will be a bona fide offer and not a spectral affair. The colonel should not be criticized because he had the tact and good manners to suggest that some of you gentlemen run for the office. Good manners would suggest that he compliment you in the same degree that he compliment-ment him. He certainly did not assume to hand over the nomination to La Follette any more than to receive it from you gentlemen.

People Must Control. "But overshadowing all this talk in either of our letters, the people run this business regardless of the personal wishes of any man, and if they want Roosevelt, the personal plans and plans of small groups of men must needs be surrendered to the inevitable popular demand. Indeed the people are already nominating him because Colonel Roosevelt is not personally doing it and has set his foot down square upon any of his personal friends in any way urging his candidacy. He not only would not announce himself, but he forbade his personal friends from pushing his name. But what could he do with the great mass of common people, the unbridled and unbroken west, the surging masses of the east and the courtly south? This clamor and public demand came from everywhere excepting the colonel and his friends. You should not criticize Colonel Roosevelt for spilling the La Follette plans if they have been affected. If they are spoiled by your own people to whom you are looking for support spoiled them. I think you are entirely wrong in assuming that Senator La Follette developed the wonderful sentiment throughout the country for progressive action. Hundreds of thousands of us should share the honor which we were inspired to strive harder to develop under the example of Roosevelt.

"When the policy of reaction was adopted by President Taft millions of us kept right on just as we would have done had La Follette never been born. Now I will concede La Follette is a great man—he is away beyond our average—but I deny that the rest of the people are of such little consequence as may be assumed from the way you have credited so much of our united efforts to the work of Senator La Follette.

Will Not Abandon Roosevelt. "In conclusion, I will reply to your request, namely, that we give up the fight for Roosevelt and join in a fight to the finish for La Follette. This will never be done and should you throw your personality, your own hopes and ambitions in with the destinies of La Follette as Senator Brown has thrown his with Taft the Roosevelt men should find another candidate for the United States senator with whom to co-operate. While I would be reluctant to do this, especially since I had hopes in your diplomacy and leadership, your letter makes some such action as that forehanded imperative unless you show a spirit of compromise with your constituents. Your proposition would be a direct slap at our honored and only living president. It is absurd to say we will accept him if we cannot nominate La Follette.

"If the La Follette men do not give up their selfishness and carry out their agreement to divide the delegates and cast them all as a unit for either Roosevelt or La Follette, according to which receives the most votes, we cannot have a union of forces and your talk of being progressive would seem not to be genuine.

If we cannot do this with your forces we are justified in believing you are selfish instead of progressive and we will be compelled to have a full Roosevelt delegation on the ticket with which to sweep the state. Such action upon the part of La Follette men would subject you to the criticism of being indirect supporters of Taft. We will keep our agreement whether La Follette leaders do or not, as we will take half of La Follette delegates as our delegates, provided they sign a declaration to carry out this agreement and the other half will be of the rugged Roosevelt type.

"While I recognize it would not be proper for your name to appear on the ticket as a delegate for Roosevelt, under the circumstances, I trust your friends will advise you not to discourage a union of the Roosevelt and La Follette forces in this state for the success of what you term progressive principles, as well as for your own laudable ambitions. Very truly, JOHN O. YEISER."

"CASE-HARDENED" AD MAN WRITES

Who else would dare make this offer? We quote from a letter from H. M. Johnson, Vice-President of the Daily Republic, Rockford, Illinois.

"In the twenty-seven years that it has been my business to deal with copy of all kinds I have never seen more convincing, logical and forceful ad than those you are sending out. They have a ring of sincerity and the statements have the tone of being a recital of facts that should inspire confidence. They have so impressed a case-hardened ad man that he is exceedingly curious to know if it really does the wonderful things recited."

In reply we sent Editor Johnson some convincing literature, following it up with the statement that if he knew of a definite case of Bright's Disease, a worthy person to whom our aid would mean something, that we would send a course of Fulton's Royal Compound in an attempt to establish the genuineness of the claims made in the very shadows of the Republic's Editorial Rooms. We added that we do not claim recoveries in all cases and might make a failure, but that we would take the chance, and trusted within three months to show such results that the patient would be in comfort and would have new heart and courage in the reasonable probability that recovery could ultimately be had.

Ask yourself this question—would anybody else in the world dare make this offer? Fulton's Royal Compound can be had at Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., Cor. 16th and Dodge, Cor. 16th and Harney, Cor. 24th and Farnam, 305-9 North 16th Street, Omaha.
