

OPEN CHURCH FREE OF DEBT

New Presbyterian Place of Worship is Dedicated Sunday.

DR. STUCKEY MAKES RESPONSE

Many Worshipers Gather to Pay Tribute to Pastor and Assist in Dedication of North Presbyterian Church.

Free of debt, the North Presbyterian church, Twenty-fourth and Wirt streets, the outgrowth of the Knox and the Second Presbyterian churches, and costing close to $20,000, was dedicated Sunday morning.

The setting of the church, the pipe organ and all of the woodwork is done in stained oak, furnishing a pleasing contrast to the walls, which are of a light cream color, with fresco and panel work on the sides and where roof and ceiling meet.

At the dedicatory services of the North Presbyterian church Sunday morning the official function was opened by an organ prelude from Wolstenholme, followed by the singing of the doxology, after which the pastor, Rev. M. V. Hübner, pronounced the invocation.

The speaker paid high tribute to the new church and those who had been instrumental in making its erection possible by reason of their having contributed funds and their own labor.

After the foundation is laid, added the speaker, then comes the superstructure, which must be peopled by men and women and children, all made after the likeness of God.

Dr. Looock took the position that in man the church gives an inspiration in the daily work and with its aid, man is better equipped for toil and the cares of business; it unites families and keeps the family circle intact.

The church, continued the speaker, reaches down into the dark places and, like the sun, shines on the rich and the poor, the high and the low; it is organized and equipped for saving the whole world; it brings about a satisfied companionship and gives its members a consciousness of having a part in the force that is reforming the world and making a new and better earth.

Necessary Money Raised.

At the close of the sermon, Dr. Looock announced that he understood that in order for the church to be free from debt it would be necessary to raise something like $10,000. Raising this sum he designated as an easy matter.

In a measure the evening worship was a song service, the music being selected particularly for the occasion, consisting largely of anthems, offertory and postlude, together with the usual hymns.

THIRTY LODGERS TURNED OUT INTO COLD BY FIRE

"Mother" Minnie Dunn and thirty of her lodgers were driven out in the cold early this morning by a fire which practically gutted the two-story frame building at the southeast corner of Sixteenth and Leavenworth streets.

The flames started in a restaurant operated by Estella E. Feud below the lodging rooms at 123 Leavenworth street. Another restaurant in the corner of the building, owned by E. H. Curley, was partially destroyed.

Mrs. A. R. Taber of Crider, Mo., had been troubled with sick headaches for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She has taken two bottles of them and they have cured her.

The key to success in business is the judicious and persistent use of newspaper advertising.

Boy Coaster Seriously Injured in Collision with Wagon.

BOND QUESTION CAUSES TALK

Noble Narrowly Escapes Death When Gasoline Tank of Auto Explodes—Two More Fires at Greek Rooming House.

In a collision between a grain wagon and a sled at Forty-sixth and Q streets yesterday morning Carl Hartmann, a 15-year-old boy, residing at Forty-seventh and S streets, was severely injured about the lower limbs.

The accident occurred upon the hill that leads from the Q street viaduct at Forty-sixth street. Hartmann and twenty other boys had been coasting on the hill and did not notice the approach of a team and wagon driven by G. S. Robbins.

At the time of the transaction the bonds were sold at a premium of one-half of 1 per cent when the market price was 94 1/2 per cent. Following charges that by this deal the city would lose in the neighborhood of $12,000, the council reconsidered the award of the contract and reckoned it at a special meeting.

Coad already had assigned his rights in the sale and Spitzer, Rorick & Co. stepped into his place. Then the Toledo firm lost in the award of the renewal bonds and the city fathers refused to consider the assignment made them by Coad.

It was understood that until Allen Bros. bought the renewal bonds Spitzer, Rorick & Co. were willing to take the renewal bonds at 1 per cent on condition that the $15 issue should go to them at 94 per cent.

Gasoline Tank Explodes.

J. L. Noble, a real estate dealer of Papillion, narrowly escaped death near Wiley's farm at Fifty-third and Q streets yesterday afternoon when the gasoline tank on his automobile exploded.

Noble was returning from a business trip to Omaha and had just crossed the city limits of South Omaha, going toward Papillion, when the accident occurred.

Men from an Omaha garage took charge of the wrecked machine and Noble returned to Papillion in a hack.

Two Fires in Same House.

Twice within the space of a few hours the fire department was summoned to the Greek pool room and rooming house located at the corner of Twenty-sixth and N streets.

An overheated stove caused the first alarm at 4 o'clock yesterday evening. At 8:30 last night a defective fire set fire to the rafters between the pool hall and the second story rooms causing damage of $10.

This is the fifth time the fire department has been called to the place within the last few months. The building is old and only the effective work of the firemen last night prevented its destruction.

Schlitz

BROWN BOTTLE

Our Agencies Dot the Earth

is now Standard the World over

For sixty years we have used the best materials and inventions to make Schlitz pure and keep it pure. We go to Bohemia for hops. We go 1,400 feet down to rock for pure water. Our yeast, from which we propagate the mother cell, has been carefully guarded for sixty years. There is no purer beer brewed. We keep it pure, too, from the brewery to your glass, by using the Brown Bottle. Light starts decay, even in pure beer.

See that crown or cork is branded "Schlitz."
