Dentist of Omaha Weds Girl Courted Over in Asia Minor

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—A romance that began in Tarsus, Asia Minor, fifteen years ago culminated last evening when Dr. M. H. Torossian, a dentist of Omaha, married Miss Victoria Sagarbian of Constantinople at the home of a friend at 508 West One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, this city.

Dr. Torossian met his bride in Constantinople fifteen years ago. They fell in love and were engaged to marry when the parents of the young woman opposed the wedding because, they said, the young man was without funds.

Soon after this Dr. Torossian left for the United States and after a course of study at the University of Nebraska became a dentist.

Following the marriage the couple went to the Hotel Bristol and after a couple of days' visit in New York will go to Bermuda for a short trip. They will reside in Omaha after returning from their honeymoon trip.

More Land for Poor Man, Official's Plea

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—"The necessity of expediting the reclamation of increased areas of our deserts is obvious," said C. J. Blanchard, statistician of the reclamation service tonight in an address before the Union League club.

"It is apparent when we consider that 150,000 good American citizens are leaving our country every year to take up homes under another flag because of opportunities in this country are limited."

"Our public domain, once an empire in extent, today offers no opportunity for the poor man," said Mr. Blanchard. "It will not produce crops without an expenditure of money beyond the means of the average citizen. The desert can be made productive only by irrigation, which necessitates a vast outlay in engineering work."

"The most important work our national lawmakers have before them, to my mind, is to provide the means to make available."

Mr. Blanchard declared that the time has come to take an inventory of American resources and after ascertaining that national stability has its surest foundation in the individual home, referred to the shrinkage of the public domain available for homesteads for the poor man.
