

PROUDFOOT ENTERS CONTEST

Indiana Man Wants Republican Nomination for Governor.

IS OPPONENT OF PRIMARY LAW

Frank O'Connor of Chickawau County and E. G. Dunn of Cerro Gordo County Candidates for Democratic Nomination.

DES MOINES, Feb. 18.—(Special.)—A party of a new candidate in the race for governor of Iowa on the republican ticket the last week somewhat changed the situation and raised issues of a state character which will detract for the present from the national aspects of the campaign for selection of delegates. The new entry, Senator A. V. Proudfoot, lives at Indianola, only fifteen miles south of Des Moines, while George W. Clarke, another republican candidate, lives at Adel, twenty-two miles west, and Prof. Holden, the independent candidate, lives at Ames, thirty miles north. All live in the same congressional district with Des Moines, so that they are bunched near the state capital.

Senator Proudfoot is related to Justice Henderson, commerce counsel for the railroad commission, who lives in the same town, and who gets $5,000 a year salary, and he has been closely associated with Senator Berry of the board of parole, who also lives in the same little town and gets $3,000 a year. So the town of Indianola promises to loom large on the political map of the state.

Senator Proudfoot was one of the supporters of Senator Lafe Young in the legislature. He was also one of the most insistent opponents of the primary and of the Oregon plan of electing senators and this raises an issue between him and Governor Clarke, who has been liberal in his views and favors the primary.

It is expected however, that Senator Proudfoot will make his campaign largely on his record as the champion of the prohibitory amendment to the constitution. He was defeated in his effort to induce the last legislature to adopt the prohibitory amendment, and announced he would carry on the fight. The adoption by the legislature would mean a five-year campaign on the merits of state-wide prohibition as against the repeal of the muley law. Governor Clarke is a very strong temperance man, but has not favored a prohibitory amendment in the constitution.

Democrats Also in the Field.

The announcements of Frank O'Connor of Chickawau county and E. G. Dunn of Cerro Gordo county as candidates for the democratic nomination for governor makes it certain these two men will make a merry race. Both are unusually fine speakers and it is supposed they will make a speaking campaign. Mr. Dunn is a traveling man who has long been connected with the co-operative movement in the state and is strong with the farmers in the north half of the state. Representative O'Connor was prominent in the last legislature, especially for his having pushed through the legislature the bill for the Oregon plan for the selection of United States senators, which was vetoed by Governor Cargill. No other candidates are expected, as either one of these men would make an acceptable candidate to the democrats this year.

Woodrow Wilson Plans.

The plans for the big demonstration in favor of Woodrow Wilson next Friday have now been completed. He will speak in the evening at the Coliseum and deliver his address on "Back to the People." Delegations are expected from all over the state to attend and here will be formed a club to advance the interests of the New Jersey governor in this state. The Champ Clark democrats are becoming alarmed at the turn of affairs and are making efforts to discredit the meeting, but it promises to be a big demonstration.

Starting a Roosevelt Move.

The only development in politics in the state recently as it relates to the national question were in the first and sixth districts, where it is learned that a number of the leading republicans are seeking to make an arrangement by which the delegates from those districts may be men who would favor the nomination of Roosevelt for president. Nothing is known here as to the meaning of this new movement, but it is known that a number of republicans have not been satisfied with the trend of affairs and believe that Roosevelt is sure to win. They are districts that under no circumstances would be for Senator Cummins.

Annual Mine Wage Question.

Union miners of Iowa will meet in annual convention here on March 14. They will come prepared to demand a raise in wages of 10 cents a ton and of 20 per cent for day work. The operators will refuse to make the demand, and as a result the mines of Iowa will all shut down on April 1 until a new wage scale is agreed upon.

Will Back Up Kenyon Bill.

The Iowa Anti-Saloon league will be one of the state leagues to send representatives to Washington, D. C., March 4 to appear before the house committee in behalf of the Kenyon-Shepherd interstate commerce bill.

E. C. Dinwiddie, who represents the temperance organizations of the United States as national legislative lobbyist, has secured a public hearing on this bill for March 4, 5 and 6, and has asked that each state league send three men to give addresses before the house committee. This is the first time, writes Mr. Dinwiddie to the Iowa league, that any definite time has been set when hearings on temperance measures should cease and action begin.

Confer on Rates.

Representatives from the interior cities of Iowa interested in the Iowa complaints before the interstate commerce commission called for hearing at Washington March 1, will meet in conference in the offices of the state board of railroad commissioners Friday morning.

Friday afternoon the members of the commission will confer with representatives from the Mississippi river cities especially interested in the Mississippi river rate complaints.

Shenandoah Elks Dedicate Their New Club House Home

SHENANDOAH, Ia., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The Elks' lodge dedicated its new $30,000 home Thursday and Friday of last week. It initiated at the same time "Uncle" John Phillips, who reached his 100th birthday February 14.

The special ceremonies of the dedication began Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Mr. Phillips received the honorary work which marks him as next to the oldest Elk in the world. Following this came the dedication exercises proper, in charge of District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler W. H. Kane of Davenport. The home was then thrown open to the public for the general reception until 7 p. m., when the invited guests assembled in the lodge room to hear the address by Harvey Ingham, editor of the Des Moines Register and Leader, who spoke on the benefits derived from fraternal co-operation.

Following the formal program the dance room was opened for the balance of the evening in an informal dance. Five hundred people were served Thursday evening at the banquet in the dining room of the club house.

The grand ball and banquet was held Friday evening and again there were almost 600 guests. The building is three stories and contains billiard and card rooms, bowling alley, dining rooms, parlors, ladies' rooms and a magnificent lodge hall, besides various other rooms for the use of the officers of the lodge. It is richly furnished throughout and stands a testimony to the artistic taste and ability of J. A. Masters, the first exalted ruler of the lodge and chairman of the building committee.

Glenwood Declamatory Contest.

GLENWOOD, Ia., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The Glenwood high school declamatory contest given at the opera house last evening was the best ever given here. David Barnett, the winner in the dramatic and overall, has a good chance to win in an all-state contest, and in oratorical Clarence Carter will be near the top. In stage appearance the latter is superior to any scholar that has ever appeared upon a Glenwood stage. In humorous, Miss Morgan was first and Miss Fleming second. These three will represent Glenwood in the district meet at Tabor.

Burial of Mrs. Evans.

RED OAK, Ia., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Mrs. M. S. Evans, who died in a Des Moines hospital yesterday, was buried here Sunday. Mrs. Evans was widely known to the traveling people of southwest Iowa, having been identified with the management of the Evans hotel for many years. She had been ill for several months. Mr. Evans and one son, Frank Evans, survive.

Sleeping Poison Causes Death.

BLOOMFIELD, Ia., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—A sleeping poison of hyoscyamine, which Charles Gableman, a prosperous farmer 33 years old, took last Tuesday to bring on sleep caused his death last night. He never regained consciousness, although physicians tried to bring him to his senses for forty-eight hours. Death was caused by heart disease, the physician said.

Cash Mingled with Rubbish of Years in Dying Miser's Home

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The existence of a "house of mystery" in Brooklyn was disclosed today when, for the first time in twenty-five years, the Brown street mansion of Samuel E. Hoar, known as the "Miser," was entered by a person other than his scientific tenant.

The invader was a physician sent to attend the corpse, who is said to be dying. The physician, together with the nurses who came later, found the floors of the magnificently furnished house covered two inches thick with dust, and littering the carpets or swept into rubbish-filled corners were more than $10,000 in paper currency, together with stock certificates and bonds. Boxes of gold and silver coins lay exposed in various rooms and hundreds of rare books that apparently had never been opened were found in disordered trunks.

Some five years ago Hoar practically had sealed himself up in the big house and refused admittance to friends, relatives or strangers. He never went out except to see his attorney, in whose office today he was taken seriously ill. He occupied but one room in the gloomy dwelling and cooked his own meals.

KIMMEL DEFENSE PUTS ITS FIRST WITNESS ON STAND

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 18.—The decision in the Kimmel case opened before United States District Judge Charles P. Auld today with R. M. Snyder of Kansas City, son of the R. M. Snyder who was said to be present when George A. Kimmel was shot to death in the Oregon woods, on the stand.

Snyder's testimony and the reading of the deposition of the auditor of a New York hotel ended the case for the day and adjournment was taken until Monday. Young Snyder identified the signature of his father as photographed from the register of the hotel and after giving other testimony he was excused temporarily. His testimony was given with the object of attacking that of Rainey, one of the star witnesses for the plaintiff, the receiver of a defunct Niles, Mich., bank.

This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and have abundant reason for it, as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and leaves the way for the more serious diseases that so often follow. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cure, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

Two Hills Cities Hold Special Elections Tuesday

LEAD, S. D., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The general elections on the commission form of government will be held in two black hills cities on Tuesday. In Lead the question is whether that form of government which was adopted a year ago and goes into effect in April, will be with three or five commissioners, the original election having been with five, which some of the voters want reduced to three before the plan goes into effect.

In Belle Fourche the two questions will be decided in one election, whether the commission form shall be adopted and whether it shall be with three or five commissioners.

COUNT AHERNTHAL IS DEAD

Austro-Hungarian Minister of Foreign Affairs Passes Away.

HAD DISTINGUISHED CAREER

Shortly Before Death is Gratified by Receiving Autograph Letter from Emperor Bestowing Naval Decoration.

VIENNA, Feb. 18.—Count Alois Lexa von Aehrenthal, Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, died this evening. Count von Aehrenthal had been suffering for the last month from leucorrhoea, a disease characterized by profound changes in the blood and internal organs and no hopes had been entertained for his recovery.

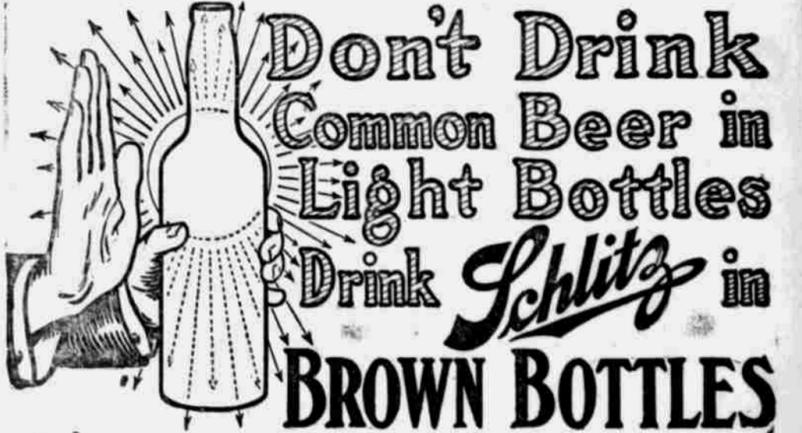

During the day he received an autograph letter from Emperor Francis Joseph, accepting his resignation and bestowing upon the minister the brilliant of the grand cross of the order of St. Stephen. In his letter, the emperor expressed his regret that it was necessary because of the state of his health for Count von Aehrenthal to ask again to be relieved of office. He re-affirmed his confidence in the foreign minister and his policy which had been carried out under difficult circumstances and concluded with "warmest thanks for your faithful and distinguished services to my house and monarchy."

Count von Aehrenthal had done more than any of his immediate predecessors to raise the prestige of the country, his later days were embittered by attacks from Christian socialist journals, which disliked the minister's sympathy for Italy and his alleged lukewarmness for Germany.

DEATH RECORD

Girl Dies of Burns. RED OAK, Ia., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Miss Flossie Houchin, living near Grant, died this morning from burns received several weeks ago when a lamp upset and covered her with burning oil. She had suffered intensely ever since the accident. The body will be taken to Emerson tomorrow and burial will be in the Haswell cemetery.

Don't Drink Common Beer in Light Bottles Drink Schlitz in BROWN BOTTLES

You wouldn't think of drinking impure water.

Why not be sure you get pure beer? If you drink beer from a light bottle that has been exposed to light, you are not sure.

Light starts decay, even in pure beer.

Schlitz is brewed in the dark, aged in glass-lined steel-enameled tanks. Every tub, vat and tank is scalded every time used. Every bottle is sterilized after it is sealed. Even the windows in our bottling plant are of brown glass.

The Brown Bottle protects Schlitz purity from the brewery to your glass.

Oldsmobile Vanderbilt Cup Car

OLDSMOBILE AUTOCAR, VANDERBILT CUP RACE ENTRY, NO. 9, NO. WIN OMAHA.

The Oldsmobile Autocar made its debut in the Long Island event on October 1, and, running as steadily as clockwork, made 20-41 miles in 26 minutes, 26 seconds, including two stops for gasoline and oil, thus averaging over a mile-a-minute actual running time for the entire distance. The remarkable part of the performance lies in the fact that whereas the car was new-out of the factory just four days out of a design never tried out in a contest of any nature previous to the time of the Vanderbilt Cup race, it went through the whole performance without a single adjustment of any nature, and what is more remarkable, all without one tire change. Not once during the entire race was a wrench used, nor was a nut tightened nor was an adjustment of any kind made.

This absence of tire trouble and of all adjustments usually required in long distance road races is proof conclusive of perfect balance and correct mechanical construction in the Autocar. A feature worth considering is the fact that only one side of the car sled to any marked degree and this, according to the adoption of the "open wheel" type of form as incorporated in the Autocar.

CONDEMNED MAN ELECTS TO BE EXECUTED BY SHOOTING

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 18.—Death by shooting was selected by Harley McWhinney today when the court, before passing sentence, asked him how he preferred to die for the murder of C. E. Erickson, October 5, 1911. March 25 was fixed as the day of execution. McWhinney has appealed to the supreme court for a new trial.
