WHERE SOME MEN DIE OLD

A Discouraging of Existence When a Century Lived Finds Man Alive. It seems to be quite common in England nowadays to live to be a nonagenarian or a centenarian. At any rate, a remarkable number of persons who have lived not only over "the allotted span" but have run well into the nineties and turned the century, have come to light.

Ordemann Injured; Omaha Match Off

DULUTH, Minn., Feb. 23.—After sixty-three minutes and twenty-five seconds of the hardest kind of wrestling at the Auditorium tonight, Pederson abandoned the catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling and, grasping Ordemann in his arms, in a Greek-Roman hold, balanced him over his head and then brought him down so hard on the mat that Ordemann was stunned. The match was brought to a close. Up to the time of the accident the Minneapolis man appeared to have a little the better of his heavier opponent. Ordemann was in a serious condition following the match, and his manager, George Barton, cancelled two dates, one at Omaha and one at Lincoln, Neb.

Suter's Knee Injured.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Feb. 23.—Otto Suter of Cleveland, O., who claimed the welterweight wrestling championship of the world, lost the title tonight to Chris Jordan of Detroit, when, after twenty-five minutes of wrestling, Suter's right knee was dislocated and he was forced to give up the bout. Physicians said he would be out of the game for several months.

BIG AUTO TRUCK MAY BE USED TO PULL PLOW

The Avery Automobile company is putting out a truck that has more uses than merely a delivery vehicle. It is a truck that can be used on the dirt roads as well as the paved streets, and get over the ground almost as fast. This truck can be used as an engine for pulling plows in large fields. By simply changing the wheels, the truck can do almost as much work in the field in a day as a steam plow.
