ROOSEVELT FILLS THE NICHE

Governor Aldrich Says He is Man American People Need.

COMMENT ON COLUMBUS SPEECH

Nebraska Governor Says His Critclam of Courts is to the Point-Presidential Primary Coming in Nation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Feb. 31—(Special.)—Gov-ernor Aldrich today commended the Columbus speech of former President Roose velt, declaring;

"That nothing has been spoken concerning the rights of a people under a representative government that has been quite so clean cut and analytical in its exposition of public rights as is this speech of Theodore Roosevelt's," Continuing the governor said: "It points out plainly the way the people should go about it to make prac-tical and efficient the results and blessings of true democracy. What he says concerning fundamental is axiomatic.

"In short, after carefully reading this remarkable address, I cannot see where ciples and policies that must predomi-nate in this country if we continue to live as a free people. Roosevelt simply gives us a new photograph, which recalls and awakens in us all a nev love for these old principles that have been to a greater or less extent smothered by special interests and retetionary public officials.

"Colonel Roosevelt's view on the recall of judges is conservative and practical. Many instances are cited to prove where history of this nation.

It is of small importance, in a way, veit very aptly quotes Buchanan, who is that someone else, to a certainty, will on the side of the worshippers of the judiciary, who believed that the king can not only believes in what Rosseveit has do no wrong, and compares these redicu- said in this great speech, but he must

"Lincoln said, 'If the policy of the gov- that he not only believes in these ernment upon vital questions affecting ments, but that he has the courage, the the whole people is to be irrevocably manbood, and the ability to carry forfixed by decisions of the supreme court. th people will have ceased to be their rulers, having to that extent resigned their government into the hands of that eminent tribunal."

The question then today is Shall we let the courts be the whole thing in our government and thus follow Jan Buchanan or will we take the advice and follow the philosophy of the great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln? No one can read the history of the Buchanan administration without having forced upon him one of two conclusions. First, Buchanan was a weakling and vaciliating tool; or, second, he did not have courage, stamina, and sufficient patriotism to be a good citizen in that particular crists of his country, when if he had been courageous and patriotic and believed that this was an insoluble union of indestructible states' he would have played the part of a strong masterful executive and said to some of those southern secessionists what Andrew Jackson said to John C. Calhoun, to wit, that he would hang him if he did not cease his treasonutterances and traitorous conduct.

Sufferin gfrom Judiciary, se country is undoubtedly with Colonel Roosevelt in the remedies and the exonclusions that he suggests and arrives at in this masterful discussion of the judiciary problem. The aggravated situation that he points out in the New York court decisions is analogous to the decision that the people ir these Missour calley states are suffering at the hands of the minor federal judiciary of this ntry and in this regard, what Abraham Lincoln said concerning the courts

just above quoted, is a crue portrayat of our present-day situation. "Abraham Lincoln criticised the unwarranted and victous Taney decision in the severest of language and called upon the people to rise and nullify or recall that notorius decision and the people did it and the people_will do it again today whenever the situation arises when such a course of action is necessary.

Judiciary Should Halt.

The sooner the judiciary, as well as all other public servants understand that they are the mere creatures of the people who are the architects and builder of this great scheme that we call representative government, the sooner will they become more efficient and potent agencies in building up a strong government and keeping liberty and equal rights universal under our flag.

"Lincoln was severely criticised, sland; ered and maligned because he dared to say a word against this indefensible decision. It is worthy of note, however that the same class of men who criticised Lincoln for what he said concern ing Justice Taney are today severel censuring public men and private citi zens who deign to pass a word of criti-cism upon an unjust and monstrons upon an unjust and monstr court decision at this time The Courts' Defenders,

But another thing is also noticeable this connection and that is that the defenders of courts, whether right or wrong in their decisions, are these who do not believe fully in the peoples' caparity to govern; who believe that the people cannot be trusted in all things; who believe that they who happen to hold a little brief authority at the hands of the people are called upon to decide how far the people should be allowed to go. Such a position is not only indefens-thie, but it is rediculous and absurd in the extreme.

It is the people's business to make laws and execute them, and he who happens to represent the people is simply their creature for a brief time, clothed with authority by the creators of law and the builders of government to carry out their express wish. They are the de servants, not the autocrats or the kings, who shall say what laws shall be enacted and what laws shall be en-forced and what the people shall pass
