LIGHT QUESTION UP MONDAY

Council Will Then Consider Length of Franchise Extension.

SOME WANT IT THREE YEARS

Other Members of Council Would Extend it for Two Years—Data Has Been Secured—Law-Heart Goes to New York.

Strife over the question of extending the franchise of the electric light company is scheduled to enter into the deliberations of the council in a committee of the whole Monday afternoon. Members of that body have lined up against each other on the advisability of extending the franchise for two or three years. Councilman Hummel has announced his intention to make a scrap in favor of a three years' extension, in order to get certain concessions offered by the company if the contract were made for three instead of two years. Councilman Johnson will lead the advocates of a two years' contract. The resolution directing that the contract be extended into will be submitted for discussion Monday, and the bone of contention will be the time, which will not be stated.

Hummel and Johnson of the committee appointed to investigate electric light charges here have been familiarizing themselves with conditions in several other cities as well as in Omaha, and having become somewhat acquainted with the situation each believes he has the true vision. This committee expects to make its report next week some time, although the members assert that they have been handicapped by the lack of experts who could judge what a ton of coal burned in Omaha ought to produce in kilowatts. Correspondence with the United States government and with eastern and western cities has resulted in a huge pile of statistics which the committee finds interesting but hard to apply. Another development in the electric light situation is the suit of the Old Colony company to enjoin the city from tearing down poles of the light company, etc. This company is the trustee of the bondholders and is fighting the case on grounds similar to the legal battlefields on which the light company suffered defeat in two federal courts, district and court of appeals. Assistant City Attorney Lambert, who is handling the case for the city, expects to go to New York within a week if so to take depositions in the case to be used in the anticipated suit.

TANNER AND HOWELL FILE FOR THE SENATE

State Senator John M. Tanner and E. H. Howell have filed candidacies for democratic nominations for state senator in the county clerk's office.

GRAIN WILL NOT BE SEIZED

President Peck Brings Back Assurances from Washington.

DR. WILEY'S ORDER IS RESENTED

His Attitude, if Persisted In, Meant Chaos and Revolution of Entire System of Grading and Inspecting.

President E. P. Peck of the Omaha Grain exchange arrived home yesterday from Washington, bringing assurance to the grain men of the accuracy of the press dispatches reporting that Secretary Wilson would prevent seizure of grain by the government under Dr. Wiley's latest orders, at least until the secretary could thoroughly investigate. Mr. Peck was one of a large number of grain men from all over the nation, who went to President Taft and Secretary Wilson this week protesting against the Wiley orders.

Grain Men Satisfied.

The advice from Secretary of Agriculture Wilson that formal order had been issued that no more shipments of grain would be seized by Dr. Wiley until the department can investigate, was received by local grain men with a great deal of satisfaction, said a grain man. "The board of food and drug inspection recently issued some very drastic instructions in the matter of purifying oats, taking the position that blessed oats were adulterated under section seven of the pure food law; also issued orders that corn in a heaving condition was liable to be seized and condemned and that the shippers of same would be prosecuted unless the grain was specifically designated and branded 'Not to Be Used for Feeding Purposes.' It Meant Chaos.

"It made no difference if official inspection certificates accompanied the grain, but if one of the government inspectors considered the grain was not up to inspection proceedings would be instituted for false branding. This attitude, if persisted in meant chaos and the revolutionizing of the entire system of inspection and grading, not only on grain shipped from terminal elevators, but grain shipped by the farmer and was so far-reaching that the grain interests throughout the entire country had several meetings at Chicago, St. Louis and elsewhere and appointed committees from the various exchanges and grain organizations to meet with the board at Washington."

TROPHIES ARE AWARDED TO WINNING SCHOOLS

Superintendent E. U. Graff, Charles Harding, Raymond L. Capron and Principal Edna Reed, officiated in the formal presentation of the Harding silver trophy cup to the Kellom school at 2 yesterday afternoon. The banner, given to Kellom as winner of third place in the recent outdoor athletic meet of the public schools, was formally presented to the school. First place and the silver cup given by Mr. Harding were won by Kellom; first banner was secured by Central, and third class banner was secured by Long. The banners are in gold embroidery, all designs being hand work.

GREAT WESTERN V. P. SEES GOOD FUTURE

J. W. Bigham, vice president of the Chicago Great Western, with headquarters in Chicago, is in town and reports that the road is going to come through the winter in good shape. He has had much to do with the industrial and agricultural situation along the lines during the last six months and is optimistic over the outlook.

Vice President Bigham anticipates a great crop next season and expects that the acreage planted will be the largest in years. Over the entire country that the Great Western traverses the snow fall has been unusually heavy during the last winter and now the ground is being filled with moisture as never before.

DEAD NAVY OFFICER HAD RELATIVES IN THIS CITY

Omaha relatives of Lieutenant E. J. V. Thornton of the British navy, who lost his life when the submarine boat A1 collided with the Hazard off the Isle of Wight, the first Friday in February, have received English papers giving detailed accounts and photographs of the accident and the fourteen men who lost their lives in it.

Lieutenant Thornton, who was 23 years old and one of the favorites of the British navy, was a nephew of Mrs. E. W. Flit, wife of the assistant city boiler inspector of Omaha. He had several other relatives here and a large number of friends.

U. P. OFFICIALS ARE IN ALL PARTS OF COUNTRY

President Mohler and General Manager Scott are expected home early next week, and will be accompanied as far as Omaha by Messrs. Lovett and Kruttschnitt, who are on their way to New York.
