RESIDENT ROURKE'S plan to have three ladies' days instead of two, as heretofore, ought to prove popular innovation this season. It may also mean a financial advantage to Mr. Hourke, which would be only fair play, of course. Strenuous efforts have been made this winter by the Omaha magnate to assemble a winning team for Omaha. The roster is about complete, Nichoff being the last of the complete. Nichoff being the last of the good ones, except Keeley, to sign and Keeley may come across in ample time. The team is to meet Pa at Joplin the middle of this week and stay there until April 7 or 5, then work its way north reaching Omaha April 11. April 12, it opens the season at home: Some of the new men on the team promise exceedingly well, among these being Soura, an outfleider, and a couple of the infield finds, who have frequently bean mentioned. The big task at first is going to be organization, whipping the new material into shape and making it fit in with the older members. No vain feare are being entertained as to this, of course, for with Manager Arbogast at the head, assisted by John Gonding, there should certainly be no trouble, purticularly with a hunch of men, including such smart players as Thomason, Kane and Nichoff.

Des Moines will not have the services of Gilmore this season, the fleet-footed Sox coit Denver used last season. He has been sold to Buffalo in the International league, but Cemiskey will send Choinard and Eddie Hahn to his Des Moines farm and they ought to make up for any loss sustained in Gilmore. Hahn, the little right fleider who used to tear up the earth for the Highlanders and then the Sox and was one of the wonders in that memorable world's championahip victory of the Sox over the Cubs in 195, has been down south the last few seasons, where also has Chouinard been, and they both ought to add strength to Des Moines. Hahn is a heady little rat and all nerves. His nose was broken with one of Ed Huelbach's cannon hall during the 1966 clash and he refused to quit the game, simply claraping a protection over his probaces and going ahead, finishing the season. Those hied of ball players never grow had. We expect to see great results from labell's lowans.

It comes as a matter of special inter-est, the news that Mordecal Brown's new three-year contract with the Cubs pro-vides for the same big salary the Miner has been getting. The fact is, as every thoughtful man knows, Brown was not rhoughtto man anows, stown was not given a fair chance last year nor the year before by Chicago; he was shuply overworked, used on the rescue man on all occusions.
