LODGE QUOTES FROM WILSON

Senator Makes Vigorous Speech to the Students of Princeton.

OPPOSES SOME POPULAR ISSUES

Uses Woodrow Wilson's Writings to Support Arguments Against Initiative, Referendum and Recall of Officials.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 9.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts preached vigorous opposition to the initiative, referendum and recall here tonight before the students of Princeton University.

Mr. Lodge denounced the initiative, referendum and recall as both absolute and impetuous and subversive of the fundamental ideas of representative government.

In emphasizing the latter point, he quoted freely from books written by Governor Woodrow Wilson while president of Princeton University.

"It is quite true," said Mr. Lodge, "that the voters are the means by which we necessarily obtain an expression of the popular will, but a majority of the voters are not necessarily the people, and do not at all times represent the real wisdom of the people."

Mr. Lodge quoted a reference by Woodrow Wilson to the use of the initiative and referendum as "the virtual abandonment of the representative principle, and the attempt to put in the hands of the voters themselves the power to initiate and negative laws—in order to enable them to do for themselves what they have not been able to get satisfactorily done through the representatives they have hitherto chosen to act for them."

Mr. Lodge next discussed what he termed "the wide-spread feeling that constitutions do not differ from laws, that they may deal with any subject and be the receptacle of any ideas which at the moment happen to be popular."

"The habit of regarding the constitution as if it was an ordinary law," he referred to Mr. Wilson's writings in which he said: "The danger is that constitution-making will become with us only a cumbersome mode of legislation."

"Representative government and liberty," he said, "faded away together and the executive became all powerful. Therefore in these propositions now made to us there is nothing new. They are old propositions. We are today asked to lay aside the great advance in government made, as history shows, by the representative system and return to earlier forms."

"One of the great arguments used by the advocates of these changes in our constitution is that, by obtaining the direct action of the voters, we shall be free from the demagogic influence and the control of money in politics and in our legislatures."

"I have always believed theoretically that the more elections were multiplied and the more elaborate the machinery for selecting and electing the candidates the larger the field for professional politicians and for the employment of money to control election results. The evidence afforded by the primary system in actual operation seems to confirm this theory."

Money in Primaries. Mr. Lodge here referred to the contest over the seat of Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, where the senate investigation brought forth statements that all the candidates in that election spent an aggregate of $92,625 and that the total vote, republican and democratic, was 230,232, indicating "a cost" of $1.65 per vote to get that number of voters to the polls."

"From this evidence," added Mr. Lodge, "what reason have we to hope that money will not play an enormous part in securing the initiative, referendum and the adoption of laws which the great money interests happen to desire?"

The senator contended, moreover, that the purpose and spirit of the constitution was "to prevent the concentration of power and to put limitations on numer-

Increases in Wages Offered to Strikers Average 7 Per Cent

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 9.—The average increase of 7 per cent in wages promised by the American Woolen company to its striking employees will be equalled by most of the other textile mills here.

Hitherto officials of other mills have announced only that the increase would be at least 5 per cent. President Whitman of the Easton mills said tonight that while the new scales had not been entirely worked out, 7 per cent would be the probable average. Readjustment of the wage system at the Pacific mills will provide an average increase of 7 or 8 per cent, it is learned, while in two other small plants the increase will average 7 per cent, according to semi-official statements.

These facts have not been communicated officially to the strikers except by the American Woolen company. President Wood of that company will confer with a committee of striking employees in Boston again tomorrow.

Guido Mazzarelli, an organizer for the Industrial Workers of the World, was brought here from Lynn today by the state police, charged with being an accessory to an assault with intent to kill two metropolitan police officials on February 28. Salvatore Bruno is held as the principal in this shooting in which several volleys of revolver shots were poured from tenement house windows into a detachment of officers.

Mazzarelli, who addressed a mass meeting the day before the shooting, is charged with having incited Bruno by advising the strikers to arm themselves.

HOUSE FILIBUSTER FAILS

Private Pensions Bill Will Pass Despite Day-Long Contest.

EIGHTY MEMBERS ARRESTED. Representatives Roddenbery and Tribble of Georgia Cause Halting of Parties and Breaking Up of Theater Crowds.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Dinner parties were raided, hotel lobbies invaded and many theater parties broken up tonight as the result of a day-long filibuster against the private pensions bill in the house.

The sergeant-at-arms and his assistants were the raiders and more than eighty absent members were haled under arrest before the house to record their votes. Among these was Representative McKinley of Illinois, manager of President Taft's campaign. The bill was completed and will be passed by the house tomorrow.

Representatives Roddenbery and Tribble, democrats, of Georgia were the conductors of the filibuster. They contended that many items in the omnibus measure were unfair and announced they would oppose their passage, "even if it took all night."

Leaders of the majority, including Majority Leader Underwood, appealed to them in vain to abandon their opposition.

Tribble Comes to Rescue. At the first Representative Roddenbery alone fought against the quick passage of the bill. For several hours he inveighed against it until he was on the verge of collapse. Then Mr. Tribble came to the rescue; every parliamentary method of delay and obstruction was employed until the reading of the bill was completed. Mr. Roddenbery then endeavored to have it referred to the committee without avail and the measure was advanced to the final stage of passage, when the Georgia member submitted that a quorum was not present.

The "steam roller" was brought out at this juncture and Representative Dixon of Indiana, democrat, who occupied the chair, did not hesitate. Waving his gavel swiftly over the few members present, he said:

"The chair sees 115 members present. There is a quorum."

Mr. Roddenbery protested vainly. When the bill passed into the open house for passage, Mr. Roddenbery renewed his tactics, finally compelling the issue of orders to the sergeant-at-arms to bring in the absentees.

Preceding the passage of the bill republicans and democrats serenaded the Georgia obstructionists, amid laughter, with "Marching Through Georgia."

ACCOUNTANT TELLS OF WAYS OF LEWIS IN SELLING STOCK. ST. LOUIS, March 9.—A. E. Rabert, expert accountant for the United States Department of Justice, at the trial of E. G. Lewis, on a charge of using the mails to defraud, testified in the United States district court today that within seven days after Lewis advertised that only 14,000 of the 7 per cent secured notes of the Lewis Publishing company remained in the company's treasury. He sold $42,234.49 worth of the notes to the public.

While it was advertised that the entire issue of secured notes was to be $60,000, Lewis, according to Rabert's testimony, sold $124,233.61 of the notes. Of this amount $68,233.61 was unsecured.

Rabert was being cross-examined when court adjourned.

BACKACHE CAUSED BY KIDNEYS

Prescription to Prevent Serious Kidney Disease—Lame Back and Urinary Troubles Are the Danger Signals—What to Do—Mix it at Home—Splendid for Dyspepsia and Rheumatism.

More people succumb each year to some form of kidney trouble than any other cause. The slightest form of kidney derangement often develops into Bright's Disease, Kidney Disease, Diabetes or Dropsy. When either of these diseases are suspected, the sufferer should at once seek the best medical attention possible. Consult only a good, first-class physician.

There are many of the lesser symptoms of kidney trouble which can be treated at home, stated by a well-known authority. For some of these symptoms, such as backache, pain in the region of the kidneys, weak bladder, frequent urination, especially at night, painful scalding urination, try the following simple home remedy. Fluid Extract Juniper Berries, one ounce; Compound Fluid Balmwort, one ounce; Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, four ounces. These simple ingredients are harmless and can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. The dose for adults is a teaspoonful before each meal and again at bed time.

There is no more effective remedy known to relieve all forms of dyspepsia and rheumatism, because it acts directly upon the kidneys and blood. It cleans the clogged up pores in the kidneys so they can filter and strain from the blood the poisonous uric acid and waste matter, which if not eliminated, remain in the blood, decompose and settle about the joints and muscular tissues, causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

Backache is nature's signal notifying the sufferer that the kidneys are not acting properly. "Take care of your stomach and kidneys" is now the physician's advice to his patients.

The above prescription is manufactured by the well-known pharmaceutical house, Prescription Products Co., Dayton, Ohio.
