

NEW SNOW OVER GRAIN BELT

Entire Western Country Greatly Enriched by the Fall.

SEVEN INCHES IN BLACK HILLS

Snow from Mississippi River to the Rockies, Followed in the South by Rain—No Drifts Reported.

A snow storm, covering all the central west, extending from the Mississippi river to the intermountain districts on the west, and from the Dakotas to Oklahoma on the south, set in Sunday afternoon and continued all day Monday, ranging from one to ten inches in depth. Through portions of Kansas and Oklahoma late Sunday night the snow turned into rain, which continued most of Monday.

Roads running into Omaha report snow over the entire systems. The snow is wet and consequently has not drifted so that travel has not been impeded or interfered with. Officials of the land and homeowner's departments of the roads estimate that the snow of the last twenty-four hours will be worth millions of dollars to the agricultural sections tributary to the lines.

On the Union Pacific a continuous fall of snow since Sunday noon has covered all of the divisions between Omaha and Ogden to a depth of from six to ten inches. This has not only been over the main line, but over the Nebraska and Kansas branches. Besides this, there has been snow all the way from Denver to Kansas City on the Colorado-Kansas line. In some places down in Kansas, especially around Ellis, the new snow is reported to be a foot deep. Around Topeka, and from there east and north, a drizzling rain of several hours' duration is reported.

Snow Over Rock Island.
Along the Rock Island, from Omaha to Phillipsburg, Kan., there was snow falling all Sunday afternoon, night and until noon Monday. At that time it had reached a depth of from six to ten inches, being heavy and filled with moisture. Reports sent by the agent at Phillipsburg stated that snow was falling at points 100 miles west of his station and that it was raining as far south as the central portion of Oklahoma.

On the Northwestern ten inches of snow was reported at Lander, Wyo., and still showing. From that point all the way through to Omaha there was new snow from two to eight inches. The Black Hills reported fourteen inches, the agent sending the report, adding:

"This makes seven feet of snow that has fallen in the Hills since the beginning of winter."

Heavy in Black Hills.

The Northwestern reports six to eight inches of new snow throughout the Black Hills country north of the Black Hills range of 100 miles. On the Homestead and about the same amount all the way across from Rapid City to Pierre, a dis-Hartington branches and from Norfolk to Sioux City a snowfall of six to eight inches of new snow is recorded. The same situation on the Omaha line from this city to Sioux City is reported.

Snow has been falling all over the western lines of the Burlington since Sunday from Sheridan down through Wyoming and over the western lines in Nebraska. Early this morning it ranged from one to eight inches and was still snowing. From Denver to Omaha it was from four to eight inches, with considerable rain around McCool.

The Missouri Pacific found snow from Omaha to Kansas City, being from one to four inches on the Nebraska lines and from four to six through Kansas and Missouri.

Trainmen coming from the east report a heavy fall of snow all the way across Iowa. In the southern part of Iowa, late this morning, it was turning to rain.

Deep Snow in Missouri.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 11.—The third snow storm of March has been raging thirty-six hours and the country roads are impassable. Farmers say spring work will be delayed at least a month.

Brick Industry is Given a Big Boost

Omaha was well represented at the national convention of brick men held in Chicago last week. Among those who went from Omaha are John L. Noble, S. A. Corneer, J. Fred Smith, A. C. Bush, L. H. Orin, Ralph E. Sunderland and N. T. Hanson.

"The convention was in every respect the best that has ever been held, as it was the climax of the first year of a serious nation wide movement in the interest of the brick industry," said Mr. Sunderland, who is one of the active men in the national organization. "More than a thousand brick men were in attendance at the convention, which was supplemented by an exposition of clay products at the Chicago Coliseum of more than $10,000."

A great conservation movement was started in which Hon. James R. Garfield and Hon. Gifford Pinchot are taking a deep interest, involving the substitution of brick for frame construction, both to conserve the lumber supply and to reduce the annual loss from fire.

Mr. Garfield was the principal speaker at the grand banquet on Friday evening.

Saturday noon Mr. Taft spoke at the Coliseum and was amazed at the progress America has made in the manufacture of the brick and other clay products. Mr. Sunderland addressed the Building Brick Association of America on Thursday afternoon and was also on the banquet program Friday evening.

J. Fred Smith of Omaha was elected a vice president in the National Brick Makers' association.

Manufacturers Commend the U. P.

A trade excursion in southwest Iowa and southern Nebraska has been tentatively agreed upon by the trade extension committee of the Commercial club. June 2 to 5 are suggested as the dates. Whether two three-day trips, one in Iowa and one in Nebraska, or one six-day trip will be made, is not decided. An itinerary committee will be named soon. F. L. Haller is chairman of the trade extension committee and Roy T. Irvine vice chairman. Southwestern Iowa has not been covered by the trade boosters for ten years or more.

Man Has Power to Rebuild His Body

"Whatever your age, persistently believe that your best days lie before you, and anticipate ever increasing wealth and power," said T. Harry Gage of London, England in his lecture Sunday afternoon at Wead hall before the Omaha New Thought Fellowship. "You want health, happiness and success," he continued, "therefore keep these ideas constantly before you. Live in a mental atmosphere of abundant life and success, created by your thoughts, and your whole personality will radiate like a magnet. Your thought will be an irresistible magnet to attract to you conditions that fulfill your ideal. Shakespeare tells us that 'All the world's a stage,' and the new and practical psychology demonstrates this by proving the power of the subconscious mind as a marvelous impersonator. What we concentrate upon most becomes second nature to us. We gradually impersonate and finally embody strength or weakness, health or sickness, success or failure according to our predominant thoughts. Although the subconscious mind which has charge of all the bodily functions represents 88 per cent of our activities. It is ever ready to respond to the latent and steady suggestions of the conscious mind. This law demonstrates that man has power to build and rebuild his body, and never grow old."

Switchman Killed at Council Bluffs

Walter W. Clark, 196 Avenue A, a Burlington railroad switchman, was run down and killed by a string of freight cars while at work near Nineteenth avenue and Sixth street at 5 yesterday morning. The cars were being hauled down the track when Clark was struck. One leg was completely severed. The foot was so firmly caught in a frog that it could not be removed. Clark died on the way to a hospital. It is believed he slipped in the snow, fell forward and caught his foot in the frog. Engineer W. Delaney was in charge of the engine. Clark was 22 years old and unmarried. He is survived by his father, Wesley Clark, one brother and two sisters.

Donation Held Up Until Deeds Come

Councilman Joe Hunnert reported to the council in committee of the whole yesterday that it would be wise to refuse to accept the land donated to the Park board by Charles C. and J. E. George until an abstract was in the hands of the legal department. These improvements are to be made within one year. The land donated is not within the city limits, but will come under the control of the park commissioners when it is formally accepted by the council. The acceptance has been recommended by the Park board.

HARRIMAN OFFICIALS MEETING AT SALT LAKE

The meeting of Harriman railroad officials, including President Mottler and Vice President Munroe of this city, convened in Salt Lake City Monday afternoon. According to the plans as outlined, the two Omaha officials will be home about Thursday. It is expected that they would be accompanied by Messrs. Lovett and Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board and director of maintenance and operation, respectively. However, it now seems probable that the two officials named will go to Denver and from there to Kansas City and across to Chicago. The Salt Lake City meeting is said to be for the purpose of talking over what improvements are to be made on the system during the coming season.

A Customer Leaving Your Store Must Have Done One of Five Things

1 Bought Goods for Cash	2 Bought Goods on Credit	3 Paid Money on Account	4 Collected Money	5 Changed a Coin or Bill
A National Cash Register insures the merchant that all cash will be accounted for and handled correctly. It prevents lost customers through misunderstandings over change. It benefits the customer because it prevents annoyance and loss through disputes, and enables him to prove prices paid. It benefits clerks by removing temptation, preventing unjust suspicion, and enabling them to prove their worth.	A National Cash Register benefits the merchant by preventing loss through failure to charge goods sold on credit or through lost charge slips. It benefits the customer by preventing wrong amounts being charged to his account. It benefits the clerk by furnishing evidence that he has entered the proper charge and handled the transaction correctly.	A National Cash Register enforces a correct record and this insures the merchant that he gets all money received on account. It furnishes the customer proof of having paid and enables him to know that he receives proper credit. It removes temptation from the clerk and furnishes him the means of proving his carefulness in handling money.	A National Cash Register benefits the merchant, by preventing anyone paying out money without leaving a record of the amount. This enables him to balance the cash quickly and prevents bills being paid twice. It benefits the one to whom money is paid because it precludes the possibility of dispute in the future. It benefits the clerk by showing evidence that he paid out the correct amount.	A National Cash Register protects the merchant against loss in making change and furnishes the means of advertising to those who ask to be accommodated. The customer is benefited because the merchant is willing to extend the favor of changing a coin or bill when he can do so without the chance of loss. It guides the clerk in counting money, and furnishes evidence of his accuracy.
