

A TREMENDOUS DEMAND THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY

Druggists Are Sending In Rush Orders for New Remedy.
HAS A MISSION TO ACCOMPLISH
Is Making Nervous Men and Women in the Whole World Healthier and Happier and Better Able to Cope with Life.

No other preparation has ever been sold in America for which there is such a tremendous demand as "Tona Vita." The medicine was unknown in this country until a few months ago, and today the sale of the tonic is so large that it has been impossible to prepare it fast enough to supply the sudden and great demand. Druggists from all over the country are sending in wires about as follows:
"Rush more 'Tona Vita,' last shipment all gone. Sale tremendous."
No medicine could be so tremendously successful unless it had a mission to accomplish and was accomplishing that mission. "Tona Vita" is accomplishing its mission. It is making tired, debilitated, nervous men and women happier, healthier and better prepared to cope with life. Nervous debility is the curse of this age. It is produced by the strain of modern life. The symptoms of this disease are little vitality or ambition; tired dragging feeling of both mind and body; nervousness and depression of spirits; stomach and liver trouble, constipation, headaches, poor circulation and susceptibility to cough and colds. "Tona Vita" is relieving thousands of this miserable condition. It will positively do this, where this is not some serious organic trouble, in a remarkably short time. The very first dose will bring improvement, and each following dose adds health and strength. The tonic must prove satisfactory or the price is returned by our recognized agent. Don't drag along half dead, any longer. What "Tona Vita" is doing for thousands, it will do for you.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time tressome method of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves; and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wirth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing Sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

This preparation gives youthful color and beauty to the hair, and is one of the best remedies you can use for dandruff, dry, feverish, itching scalp, and falling hair. Get a fifty-cent bottle from your druggist today, and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

PIONEER VIEWS OLD SCENES

First White Man Born in State Visiting in Omaha.

TELLS SOME REMINISCENCES
Remembers Being Taught to Shoot with Bow and Arrow—Place Where Father Was Buried Has Been Washed Away.

Old settlers of Omaha will have the opportunity in a few days of hearing the reminiscences of a man born in this vicinity over seventy years ago, when his parents were the only white people living among the redskins. They were the first of their race to ever settle here. This man is Rev. Samuel Pearce Merrill of Rochester, N. Y., who is visiting Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Milroy, 274 Farnam street. Some of the leading Baptists are arranging an evening's entertainment at which Rev. Merrill will be the chief entertainer.

The venerable minister's father, Moses Merrill came from Maine to the trading post at what is now Bellevue in 1833 as a missionary to the Indians sent by the Protestant Missionary society of the east and paid by the government. With him was his wife, Sarah Wilcox Merrill, who stayed at the little mission while her husband went with the Indians on their buffalo hunt.

Learns to Shoot Arrow.
Samuel Merrill was born in 1835. The most vivid recollection he has of those early days when he and his parents were the only white people in this part of the country, is of the time he first shot an arrow over the top of the log mission and watched it disappear. He also has a dim recollection of the trip which he and his mother and some of the Indians made across the river in the February of 1860 to bury his father on the east side. Immediately after that he and his mother went east to live.

Although the soil in which his father was buried has long since been swept away by the river, Mr. Merrill intends if the weather moderates to go to Bellevue to view the place where he was born and which is now a farm owned by Adam Mohr.

"My father was very religious," said Mr. Merrill in telling of his parent's work among the Indians at Bellevue. "Both he and my mother believed that they had a call to bring the Gospel to the red people of the west."

His Father's Charm.
An interesting memento which Rev. Mr. Merrill carries with him always is an agate watch charm which Moses Merrill wore. The diary kept by his mother which relates the struggles in the new land is his most valued possession and is one which he may at some future date transmit to the Nebraska Historical society.

PICTURES ATTRACT SINNERS

Preachers Adopt New Method of Drumming Up Congregations.

ATTENDANCE IS INCREASING

Picture Shows Swell Congregations in Omaha Where Prayer Services Have Failed to Attract Large Numbers.

Picture shows are swelling the congregations in Omaha churches where prayer meetings of the customary kind have failed to attract. The latest of the churches to try picture shows as a means of bringing out sinners is the Southwest Methodist Episcopal church, of which Rev. Thomas Ethel is pastor and which will give the second of its series of travelogue Thursday evening. The congregation flocked to the first show a week ago and enjoyed it so much that the shows are to be weekly events.

The idea started with Mrs. C. J. Roberts, president of the Frances Willard Women's Christian Temperance union, who gave the first travelogue, the subject of which was "New York to Alaska," illustrated with post cards used in a radiophone machine. Tomorrow evening's entertainment will be on "California," by O. J. Pickard, who has just returned from the golden west. The motive behind the shows is civic as well as social and religious, since the proceeds of the small admission fee are to pay the church's share in the tax levied for grading the street on which it is located.

A church which used pictures to win back an indifferent congregation is the Presbyterian church of Benson, of which Rev. Jesse C. Wilson is pastor. "The congregation has increased five-fold since introducing the pictures," says Mr. Wilson. He uses Bible themes and stories, the life of Christ and stories which have ethical value, such as "Ben Hur" and "The Vicar of Wakefield."

The pioneer in picture shows for churches is Rev. M. O. McLaughlin of the United Brethren church, who started them in his church early in the winter. He gives a different subject each Sunday evening. He declares his congregation has increased 200 per cent since starting the shows. He combines his sermons with the pictures, using one to illustrate the other. His subjects are Biblical and taken from other literature which has a religious or ethical value.

"Last year, traveling through the state on Christian Endeavor work, I noticed that the people were crowding the theaters and neglecting the churches. The reason is psychological. People receive ten times stronger impressions through the eye than through the other senses. So I decided to use the pictorial method in my evening services."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of coughs, colds and croup. It can be depended upon. Try it. Sold by all dealers.

OMAHA WOMAN ADAPTS HATS TO HARMONIZE WITH FACES

Fashionably inclined women of Omaha whose chief anxiety a few weeks preceding Easter is the selection of becoming hats are aglow with enthusiasm just now over the arrival of an original creator of millinery whose designs are based on a unique theory. This new arrival, whose coming has caused no little stir in feminine circles, is a woman whose services for some years have been demanded by New York women in exclusive social sets. Her plan, like most ideas that sound simple, calls for unusual good taste and skill. Instead of making women conform to millinery style, she adapts the style to suit the individual woman. Easy? Try it.

This designer was induced to come to Omaha by a store famous for its large buildings, its arcades and its beautiful millinery.
"The idea of adopting hats to harmonize with the features of my customers is one of my own," declares this recent New York arrival. "I can tell at a glance just which of the accepted styles can be made to harmonize with each face I see, and I rarely have any trouble in bringing the woman to share my conviction. I find that Omaha women know what is correct and what is good form as generally as women on Fifth avenue do. They take to the new methods of creating slight departures from reigning modes to suit their requirements and I am delighted to find a new field that responds so readily to my own theory of designing hats that add beauty to the feminine face."

Cleaning or Dyeing Made Over Garments

If you have any made-over garments to be cleaned or dyed, these suggestions should be followed:
Rip your garments entirely apart and send the pieces to the cleaner just as they are; he can then clean or dye and finish them on the cylinder, which leaves the goods more like new than any other method.
That work only can be finished on the cylinder. If you do not care to rip it all apart, do what ripping is required, making sure to remove all trimming and buttons, then send it in.
Trimming can then be dry cleaned.
Dry cleaning will not benefit goods that are faded or show plain marks—they must be steam cleaned, and sometimes that will not fix them—then it becomes necessary to dye them some dark shade.
Never make over a garment and then send it to be cleaned; have it cleaned first and you will get satisfactory work, that is, if you send it to us.
