John D. Weils, the humorist, told the following story in a recent address ba-fore the Buffalo Ad club:

"There is a passage in 'The Fourth Estate' which says that nowadays the editorial columns are made subservient to the advertising columns. That's all rot. It would be funny if it weren't so malicious. It is true that a long time ago that was more or less a fact; but now-well. I'll tell you a story

"Not so long ago Colonel Fellx Angus of the Baltimore Sun fired his whole staff for suppressing a news story on the grounds that it concerned a big advertiser. He told the news staff to print everything that was news and that was fit to print, even if it concerned his whole

"His words were prophetic. That very afternoon his son got into an automobile scrape on a residential street. Next morning it was played up big on the front page.

Well, Colonel Angus got busy on phone from his bed when he saw that story, and he promptly raised the salary of his new city editor then and there. And that is the newspaper feeling to d very wide extent nowadays."

The key to success in business is the fudicious and persistent use of newspap advertising.

seeper cau than any ord ation in trade. Probably it can be trace to the vague distrust bred by reckless political agitation, and fear of radical attacks upon capital, which of course, fails heaviest upon stocks. Such a ten-Story of ideal News Publishing dency to so heavily mortgage the future as indicated by the above returns cannot be regarded without concern. If capital cannot be obtained except upon such terms, who is to blame for creating the unrest reflected in a disturbing po-litical situation and the unusual timidit on part of investors?-New York Journal of Commerce.

New Spring Hats That Will Appeal to You

The man that wishes to be correctly attired is almost compelled to buy a new hat-the styles this season being so radically different. In derbies, wide brims and low crowns have the call. Soft hats are shown in rough materials and nearly all colors-browns, grays and blues predominating. We have a hat to fit your head, and it will not only fit you, but be becoming to you as well. Our prices are always lower than the quality. They start at $3.00. Stetson's, $3.50.
