Sunday.

CATTLE—Although there were no cattle or any consequence here yesterday or today the receipts for the first four days were so large that the total for the week foots up 18,407 head, being larger than last week or week before and fully up to the average of recent weeks, being only 1,000 head smaller than for the corresponding week of last year.

The market has been in very satisfactory condition as viewed from a seller's standpoint throughout the week. As a matter of fact there were sort spots but as a rule the tendency on best steers was strong and at the close of the week it is safe to quote them 10@15c higher than at last week's close. It might be well to note in this connection that the advance has been the most pronounced on the medium grades, just cattle which were already very high showed the least advance.

Cows and heifers have also been in very good demand throughout the week, they being quoted 15@25c over last week's close. As was the case with best steers there were low spots on some days, but the tone to the market generally was stronger.

The supply of stock cattle and feeders was very moderate throughout the week and the better grades of feeders showed a material advance, in sympathy with the improvement in best steers. They could safely be quoted 10@15c higher. The medium and less desirable grades of feeders and thin stockers are safely steady.

Quotations on cattle: Good to choice beef steers, $7.10@8.00; fair to good beef steers, $6.60@7.10; common to fair beef steers, $5.50@6.60; good to choice heifers, $5.50@6.50; good to choice cows, $4.90@5.60; fair to good cows, $4.00@4.80; common to fair cows, $3.75@4.00; good to choice stockers and feeders, $5.50@6.10; fair to good stockers and feeders, $5.00@5.50; common to fair stockers and feeders, $4.00@5.00; stock heifers, $4.00@4.50; veal calves, $4.00@8.00; bulls stags, etc., $4.00@5.00.

HOGS—Hog trade reached the highest point of the week with a supply that plainly reflected the inability of the railroads to handle very much stock. Receipts amounted to a short 4,000 head and the market ruled 5@10c higher than Thursday's business. Early demand, especially from shippers, was reasonably active at these advances, but outside competition did not exist toward the close, and late movement proved rather dull at prices weaker than those in force early.

Shippers and speculators favored quality and weight in combination, buying over one-third of the total offerings. Clearance was made in very good season, despite dullness after outside buyers retired, and spreads between the three general classes of stock were not very well defined.

Best heavy hogs on sale brought $6.75, while bulk of the crop sold within $6.40@6.65. One reason for the narrower range appears in semi-famine receipts today and yesterday, an influence that seldom fails to increase the popularity of the cheaper classes of live stock.

During the week receipts have been very poorly distributed because of the demoralized railway service after Thursday. On that day 20,000 head arrived, while Friday's run was hardly visible, only 140 head showing up. This total is the lightest for any single market day at this point in several years. Prices have improved considerably as the result of a vigorous shipping demand and fair packing demand, current values averaging about a quarter higher than those in force a week ago.

SHEEP—Sheep and lamb receipts, as indicated by the board estimate, were rather deceptive. Something like 10,000 head were expected, but they proved to be through shipments from the west and were only stopped at this point long enough for feed and water. The actual market remained barren and nominally steady.

Aside from a stronger trend to values during the week few changes worth mentioning have developed in the local trade. The demand on most days lately has been fairly active and broad, producing good clearances at better prices. Summed up, the general trade has been in very satisfactory shape throughout, current quotations on ewes and lambs showing advances of 10@25c. Wethers and yearlings were too scarce to afford anything like a fair test of values.

Extra good, empty Colorado lambs made a top of $7.75 yesterday, but they had suffered an unusually big shrink, so that the price paid does not mean very much in the general market. Excepting the sale noted, week's top on lambs is $7.25, both tops being the highest on record locally in several months. Sheep usually sold with greater freedom than lambs, good ewes bringing as much as $6.25.

Receipts were reasonably large during the week and average quality of offerings showed some improvement. On late days packers refused to work down into the near-feeder classes, but the early demand from killers was not very discriminating. Practically everything came in the fleece and the big end of the run had mere or less finish. Feeder business was a little larger than usual, the week's buy amounting to almost 6,000 head.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Good to choice lambs, $6.75@7.25; fair to good lambs, $6.25@6.75; good to choice yearlings, $5.65@6.00; fair to good yearlings, $5.00@5.65; good to choice wethers, $5.25@5.50; fair to good wethers, $5.00@5.25; good to choice ewes, $4.90@5.25; fair to good ewes, $4.25@4.90.
