Allen is Guest of Ben Franklin Club

Henry Allen of Chicago, secretary of the Ben Franklin Club of America, was the guest of honor just now at the banquet given in the Paxton hotel by the Tri-City Ben Franklin club. Mr. Allen spoke chiefly of the cost system in relation to the printing business and he told the eighty members who were present that the system is the best thing that has ever happened to the printing trade.

"The laborer is worthy of his hire," said Mr. Allen, "and the laborer should know exactly what his services are worth." The cost system was minutely explained and all of its good points were set forth. Mr. Allen's visit here has stirred up much enthusiasm among the members and as a result the scope of the club's endeavors may be considerably widened.

Other speakers last night were: R. E. Cunningham of Glenwood, Ia.; Arthur North, Fred Graves, Charles Pierce and Fred Schwartz of Lincoln, and L. J. Quinby, F. L. Elkin and J. B. Redfield of Omaha. Harvey Tostevin of Omaha entertained the banqueters with a clever poem written by himself. President C. E. Corey presided.

Arizona Lawmakers Vote for the Recall

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 22.—A resolution for the submission to the people at the next general election of a constitutional amendment providing for the recall of the judiciary, passed its first reading today in both houses of the Arizona legislature.

The senate also passed the resolution granting women equal suffrage, and the income tax amendment to the federal constitution on first reading, without a dissenting vote.

The recall amendment was offered in both houses at 1:30 o'clock by pre-arrangement and was given immediate consideration. Senator F. S. Green offered a substitute for the recall which would compel specific grounds to be given in all cases of a recall petition being circulated; the petition must be sworn to, and it does not require that the official affected by the recall should be a candidate for re-election. Green's substitute was accepted and with the other measure referred to the committee on judiciary.

The recall measure probably will be placed on final passage by next Monday. A resolution was introduced by Senator John T. Hughes, requesting congress to submit a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by the people.

Both bodies adjourned until tomorrow.

Bartender Tells Workingmen Some Saloons Receive Protection.

MACHINE SENDS OUT CIRCULARS

University Students at Home for Spring Vacation Will Be Asked to Make Talks Before High School Meeting.

Gus Stevens, who says he "slings beer" for Rybin Bros. at 3209 Q street, told the members of the Independent Workingmen's club last night that some of the saloons were receiving protection while carrying on an illicit trade. The meeting of the club was a heated discussion and the ears of the present city officials must have burned during the time of the meeting.

He told of how all Omaha and eastern Nebraska was stirred up by an Indian scare that arose out of two boys seeing a woman trudging down the road with a red handkerchief tied about her head. The boys reported they had seen a large body of Indians devastating the country and threatening the inhabitants of the plains.

Stevens in his address stated that all the saloons were not treated alike by the present board. He said some had protection and some had not. He declared the present system was a discrimination against the workingman, who had to pay for the thing in the long run.

Last night's meeting of the Independent Workingmen's club was well attended and showed how deep seated is the opposition of the laboring man to gang rule. It was pointed out that the machine had never done anything for the workingman except dispense honest words.

City Clerk Good, in a mimeographed letter that is to be signed by sundry and diverse members of the Good-Gillie machine, is telling the voters of the city how "highly capable and efficient" has been the administration of the city clerk's office within the last two years. Those who know the exact state of affairs in the clerk's office can tell to a fraction the average number of hours that Good spends in the actual work of his office every day.

In the case of City Treasurer Gillin the voters are informed Gillin is the best treasurer who ever came down the political pike. He says he collected more taxes, but omits to state that he has increased the working force in his office to such an extent that even the democratic council balked and put the screws on him. He further states that he has managed the affairs of the treasurer's office in a "highly capable manner," refraining from adding that the special auditor found more fault with the treasurer's bookkeeping system than in any other department of the city.

The expression of self commendation also omits the statement made by the auditor that the city books were absolutely without a system and involved in such a maze as would permit grave errors to go undetected for some time.

The auditor urged a new set of double-entry bookkeeping that would allow the ordinary taxpayer to know the condition of the city finances. The double entry bookkeeping system was not put in.

DRINK CAUSES SUICIDE.

Mike Christofferson, 59 years old, drunk carbolic acid at his home, 388 South Twentieth street, South Omaha, this morning at 10:30 o'clock, staggered out of the house, sat down on his porch and was found sitting there dead by his wife.

This was the third attempt Christofferson had made to end his life by drinking carbolic acid. Several days ago he secured a bottle and attempted to drink it, but his wife struck it from him.

Only the wife survives. Christofferson was formerly in the employ of the Swift Packing company. He was addicted to drink and had been imbibing heavily for the last three days.

The body is in charge of Deputy Coroner Bernard Larkins.

STUDENTS TO TALK.

University students who have formerly attended the South Omaha High school are to be called on the carpet Friday morning at a mass meeting to be held in the high school auditorium.

The students of the high school complain that the university students become so immersed in the higher studies and views of Lincoln that they seem to forget the high school and its alumni altogether.

The mass meeting is called for this morning at 9 o'clock and all the university students who are home on their spring vacation are expected to attend the momentous sessions.

Pioneers Plan to Have a Big Picnic in Month of June

At the meeting of the Douglas County Pioneers' association at the city hall yesterday afternoon Judge Martin Langdon read a recital of early adventures in Nebraska, and gave statistics showing the Nebraska Indians were gradually disappearing, to follow in a few years the buffalo and the earlier inhabitants of the plains.

He told of how all Omaha and eastern Nebraska was stirred up by an Indian scare that arose out of two boys seeing a woman trudging down the road with a red handkerchief tied about her head. The boys reported they had seen a large body of Indians devastating the country and threatening the inhabitants of the plains.

Male Suffragist Ready to Battle for His Rights

DES MOINES, March 22.—Although H. G. Gue, secretary of the Political Equality club and manager of the Iowa suffrage campaign, has been twice "fired" by the suffragists, he refuses to see it that way and spent today barricaded behind locked doors at the suffrage headquarters.

"But you have been discharged, Mr. Gue: why don't you leave?" argued an angry suffragist over the telephone after, it is alleged, she was refused admittance to the office.

"Nothing less than a decision from the supreme court can cause me to leave the work I have so earnestly taken up in behalf of woman suffrage," returned Mr. Gue.

When a reporter suggested that the suffragists might attempt to remove him by force, Mr. Gue pointed to a shining revolver in the drawer of his desk.

Mr. Gue was discharged at a stormy session two weeks ago and again last night. He says yesterday's meeting was "trumped up" and that the action was unofficial.

It was announced tonight that the joint suffrage campaign committee has been dissolved.

Man Says He Sent Bomb to Rosalsky

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 22.—Fred Newsom, arrested here as a vagrant, this afternoon told Chief of Detectives Crawford that he sent to Judge of General Sessions Rosalsky of New York, the infernal machine that came near ending the jurist's life.

Newsom says he is a great friend of Folke E. Brandt, whom Judge Rosalsky sentenced to thirty years in a New York prison and whose case recently has attracted attention. He says the package containing the infernal machine was handed to him by a person whose identity he refuses to divulge and that it already was addressed when he received it. He says he mailed it from Brunswick, Ga. Newsom also is known by the name of Fred Price.

Winnebago Bill Delayed.

The house bill allowing entrymen under the one-section law to take up the full section, even though they have title to land elsewhere sufficient to make their entire holding more than one section.

The bill was introduced to relieve cases arising under a ruling of the department holding that an entryman who owned land at the time of filing would not be allowed to prove up on more than enough to make his entire holding amount to one section.

INDIAN BILL PASSED.

— Senator Brown late this afternoon and the senate passed his bill to sell the unallotted Indian lands on Omaha Reservation—Stephens.

Winnebago Bill Delayed by Wisconsin Man.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Congressman Maguire predicted today that the appropriation committee of the house would pass the item of $20,000 called for to complete improvements to the Lincoln postoffice.

Mr. Maguire appeared before the committee yesterday in support of this appropriation, and also as to a possible appropriation to prevent damage to the Plattsburgh postoffice building, due to sinking of the foundation under one corner.

Supervising Architect Taylor appeared also before the committee to urge an appropriation. The members of the committee insist that no appropriation should be made, but that the matter should be cared for by the department out of the emergency fund.

No decision was reached.

Kinkaid's Bill Reported.

The house public lands committee has reported favorably Congressman Kinkaid's bill allowing entrymen under the one-section law to take up the full section,

Winnebago Bill Delayed.

— Congressman Stephens attempted to secure today the passage of the bill providing for the ultimate distribution of the $20,000 capitalized fund of the Winnebago tribe.

Objection was made by a Wisconsin member in order to have the bill amended in accordance with a recommendation of the commissioner of Indian affairs which had not yet reached the committee.

It is understood that the amendment may call for a further enrollment of the Nebraska Winnebagos.

Though it has not been fully decided upon, the bill went over until Monday, at which time it is expected the proper amendment may be made and the bill passed.

Congressman Martin of South Dakota is visiting his district, looking after his fences, and will also file some speaking engagements prior to his return about April 1.

Congressman Kinkaid has recommended the appointment as postmaster of W. L. Dowling at Opportunity, Holt county.
