

Go Where You Will--You'll Find "Sampeck" Clothes the Favorite With Young Men!

When one particular kind of clothing has become an accepted standard throughout a nation—that clothing is worthy your serious consideration before you make a purchase.

Sampeck's success comes from many years of careful study of the preferences of young men. He has a happy faculty of combining just the pattern and style which appeal to each individual taste. The result is evident in the great range of Spring styles which are ready now for your selection. Among them you'll find a model which was made to fit your figure, your personality and incidentally your purse.

TAFT MEN WIN IN CALHOUN

Failure of Coal Miners and Operators to Agree Causes Uncasiness Among Owners, Who Begin to Fear for Their Property.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Ia., March 22.—(Special Telegram.)—More than 20 per cent of the corn in the state is unfit for seed, if the early results of the test being made by W. H. Barney, state dairy and food commissioner, are an indication of the average of the entire test to be made. At the request of Governor Carroll, Mr. Barney had his inspectors collect samples of corn from every county in the state. Corn from more than fifty counties is now being germinated in the offices of the Dairy and Food commission and the percentage of kernels that have failed to sprout is large.

BODIES TO MEDICAL SCHOOL

Between passes and fugitive convicts, the belief is growing in official circles that the innocent young farmer was deliberately murdered by "Shorty" Gray.

Several indications are that this is true. In fact Deputy Fire Warden John Trouton, who was with Briggs in the advance guard of the posse, declared immediately after the battle that he saw one of the convicts arise from the wagon bed and deliberately fire into Blunt's back.

Deputy Sheriff Williams of Lancaster county is in Omaha gathering evidence against ex-convict Reed, who was arrested here on suspicion of having furnished the guns and explosives by which the escape was effected from the penitentiary. He brings the information that Morley, the living member of the bandit trio, says Blunt was murdered by Gray.

Suffragettes in China Attack Police and Break Windows

LONDON, March 22.—Chinese suffragettes at Nanking dissatisfied with what they term the national assembly's "academic resolution," favoring women's suffrage, forced an entry to the assembly and, after knocking down the police on guard, smashed the windows of the building. The meeting has to be adjourned for a time and was reopened under military protection.

PARTY COMMITTEE SETS DECOY

Republican State Executive Body Takes Action in Alleged Craft Case to Free Republicans of Any Taint.

SANTA FE, N. M., March 22.—Republican State Chairman Venecio Jaramillo and Effero Back were witnesses this afternoon and tonight before the house committee which is investigating the bribery scandal. The cross-examination was spirited and elicited that it was the republican state executive committee that had arranged the decoy to trap the four accused republican legislators in order that the republican party might be purged of any taint that might be thought to arise from the alleged acts of the defendants.

A number of rumors also were brought out that the defendants had solicited bribes from other candidates for the United States senatorship, but the committee excluded all rumors and all names of senatorial candidates not directly connected with the incident which is being probed. It is believed that the hearing will be concluded early next week.

FIRM IN HIS BELIEF

"I believe that the boy's death came about in this way, and will never believe anything else, though the verdict is otherwise," declares Deputy Williams.

"Of course any statements made by Morley, murderer that he is, will not be regarded seriously, but other strong facts go to show that Gray killed Blunt. One of the strongest indications is that the bullet entered Blunt's back and took a downward course entirely through his body. The boy during the fusillade was leaning far over on the wagon seat to avoid the volley and if he had been shot by Briggs the fatal bullet would have naturally coursed upward."

ARRANGED HIDING PLACE

Deputy Williams is here to gather evidence and to pick up any other information that comes his way. He says that Reed is known to have passed the revolvers and explosives into the prison on the Sunday night previous to the escape, and that he was in Lincoln until Tuesday. On the following day Shorty Gray's wife also left the capital, and both came to Omaha, supposedly to prepare a hiding place for the fugitives. Another man is implicated in the smuggling, but he has disappeared.

WRECK IN INDIANA

PERU, Ind., March 22.—Eleven persons were injured when a car on the Fort Wayne & Indiana Northern Traction line, traveling at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, struck a pile of cinders and plunged into the Wabash & Erie canal about two miles from Peru today.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES AT BEREA, O., ARE LOOTED

CLEVELAND, O., March 22.—Robbers broke into the Bank of Berea, a private institution at Berea, O., during the night and looted 100 safety deposit boxes, obtaining $3,000 in cash and jewelry. They evidently were frightened away as they left the inner safe containing $3,000 in cash, only partly drilled. Entrance first was effected into an office next door. The robbers then drilled through office wall and the wall of the bank directly into the vault. It was necessary to penetrate thirty-five inches of wall.

WESTERN GOLF TOURNEY DATE WILL NOT BE CHANGED

CHICAGO, March 22.—The directors of the Western Golf association announced today that no change would be made in the dates of the Western amateur golf championship tournament, which will be held at the Denver Country club the week of July 15.

Owing to the change in the date of the national amateur championship matches, the western open championship dates also were changed to August 23 and 29 at the Idlewild Country club, Pleasanton, Ill., to allow Harold H. Hilton, the British amateur champion, who won the American title last year, to compete. The new date is only a few days prior to the national event at Wheaton, Ill.

CARACAS WILL GIVE KNOX AN ELABORATE WELCOME

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 22.—The city is splendidly decorated in honor of Secretary of State Knox's arrival today. A large triumphal arch has been erected and flags are flying everywhere. The Venezuelan government has issued a decree making today and tomorrow official holidays.

ON BOARD CRUISER WASHINGTON (Via Santiago de Los Caballeros, San Domingo), March 22.—Secretary of State Knox expects to arrive at La Guaira, Venezuela, today and will immediately proceed to Caracas. The voyage has been without incident and the members of the party are all in good health.

WOMEN'S BUCKET BRIGADE SAVES TOWN FROM FLAMES

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 22.—Credit for saving Hopkins, Mo., from total destruction by fire is given women of the town, who, when a blaze that consumed several stores early today broke out, went to the assistance of the male firemen and formed a bucket brigade, which continued in action until the fire was under control.

Rich Find of Potash Made in California by Federal Experts

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Enough potash to supply the United States probably for the next thirty years has been discovered by government scientists in Soerles lake, San Bernardino county, Cal. Estimates of field men of the geological survey and bureau of soils is that the deposit may amount to 4,000,000 tons, but the authorities here from data in their possession consider that estimate conservative and believe that more than 8,000,000 tons of potash is available there.

The great value of the find is that the product is in readily available commercial form. Potash is known to exist in many places in the United States, but in most of the cases no commercial means has been found to use it.

Hoyt E. Case, representing the geological survey and E. E. Free of the bureau of soils recently took samples from six wells distributed over the Salt Flat, analysis of which at the Mackay school of mines, Reno, Nev., revealed its value.

The dried-up lake has receded the drainage from the surrounding hills for thousands of years, vast quantities of dissolved minerals thus having concentrated in it.

Similar dried-up lakes containing valuable deposits of it is believed by officials here, exist in the arid regions and will be discovered.

SWIFTER PACE FOR MANKIND

Wheelless Electric Car that Runs Above the Rails Without Teaching Them.

If a subway train should suddenly rise from its track and float along at increased speed half a foot from the rails, but always guided by them, the effort would be precisely that which Emilie Bachelet seeks from the invention he has just patented. At a public demonstration of the invention in Bachelet's little laboratory in Mount Vernon, N. Y., William H. Wheeler, manager of the Westchester Electric Railway company, became so enthusiastic that he asserted Bachelet's discovery would ultimately revolutionize transportation.

Mr. Bachelet, a stocky man, somewhat above middle height, with gray hair and mustache, thins 30 miles an hour not an impracticable speed for cars propelled according to the method of "electromagnetic levitated transportation," and he claims for his system the minimum of friction, much less even than that incident to the monorail-grayscale combination, a dangerous rival bidder for the rich freights of the future. Mr. Bachelet came to this country twenty years ago and has been state electrician for the state of Washington.

"This," said he, with a wave of his hand toward the red and yellow model of intricate design which almost filled the little workshop, "is an entirely new discovery in the field of electrical science that is believed to forecast a revolution in the high-speed transmission of mail and express matter and passengers. It is believed to be the most important invention of recent years in the application of electro-magnetic energy."

"It operates, first, by raising and sustaining any desired amount of weight through electro-magnetic repulsion; second, by causing weight so sustained to move laterally, at will, by means of electro-magnetic traction or otherwise. While these two forces of repulsion and attraction are operative, there is no friction except that of the atmosphere."

In his laboratory the inventor has created a little elevated track, breast high and thirty-one feet long. There is a rail above, inverted, like a trolley, as well as the two below which any well regulated track possesses. These rails are not T shaped, but parallelograms, with deep grooves in their upper surfaces. The four resembles in miniature the common garden variety of box-car, without trucks and wheels. Its body is made of steel and its base of aluminum. It weighs forty pounds.

But the most interesting features of the apparatus are the "solinoils" and the "levitating coils." The "solinoils" are little red and yellow tunnels wound around the track like wide horizontal collars. They are really big spools of electrically charged wire which act as magnets attracting the steel car laterally. The "levitating coils" are smaller spools of electrically charged wire set on end between and below the two lower rails. These are the magnets which repel the solinoils from the track. There are supports of steel in the "section." In the model they are placed an inch or two apart. The "levitating coils" suspend the lit-

MRS. M'HUGH'S BROTHER CLAIMS LARGE ESTATE

IDA GROVE, Ia., March 22.—(Special.)—Snell & Randall of Haverdard and Farnsworth & Sammis of Sioux City filed a petition with the clerk of the district court on behalf of their client, James A. Simmons of Independence, Ore., a brother of the late Mrs. Alex. McHugh, asking that the will be set aside and that he be declared the heir. The estate of Mrs. McHugh is worth upward of $500,000. She died a short time ago, leaving the great bulk of this fortune to her banker, D. H. Hedrick of Battle Creek, with whom she had lived ever since the death of Mr. McHugh several years ago. Robert Leroy Hoover, of Cadillac, Mich., a son of Mrs. McHugh by her first husband, is also contesting the will and has through his attorneys asked for the appointment of Henry A. Dassel of Holstein as special administrator. Simmons in his petition sets forth that Robert Leroy Hoover, the son, entered into contract with the estate two years ago by which he was paid $50 a year and $10,000 upon Mrs. McHugh's death in consideration of signing a contract waiving all his rights. In view of this contract Simmons says that he, as brother of Mrs. McHugh, is the rightful heir. He attacks the will in that the decedent was of unsound mind and incapable of comprehending either the nature or extent of her property, or the persons who would or should be considered as proper recipients of her bounty. It is also contended that undue influence was brought to bear upon her.

Census Takers Tell of Padding Records

TACOMA, Wash., March 22.—Testifying today in the trial of Guy E. Kelly, the Tacoma census supervisor in 1910, Roger W. Waite and E. H. Shafer, two special agents, and four enumerators all admitted having placed many names on their records without knowing whether the names were genuine.

Howard W. Cady, an enumerator, explained what was known as "padding" among the enumerators. He said he had been given more than 30 census slips and ordered to transfer the names from them, with fictitious addresses, to his schedules. From there he would pick out an elderly couple, assign them to a vacant lot and give them as many children, servants and roomers as seemed reasonable.

HOW THIS COUNTRY GROWS

Figures from Virginia, Nebraska and Washington Tell the Story.

Three states—Virginia, Nebraska and Washington—the oldest state in the union, a great central state and the newest of Pacific coast commonwealths, in the agricultural returns just issued for the three by the census show how this country grows. Washington in forty years has seen its farms grow 100 fold in value, from $1,200,000 to $120,000,000. In the last ten years they have quadrupled in value. The number of farm owners in the state has almost doubled in the same decade, so that this is not wealth that goes to the few.

Nebraska, with 2,038,516 of farm property, has tripled its value in ten years, quadrupled it in twenty years, grown eight fold in thirty years, seventy fold in forty years and 415 fold in fifty years. The number of farms in the last ten years has changed but little, but the average value per farm has grown two and a half times. Of the adult population, male and female, in the state one in twelve owns a farm against one in twenty in 1890, twenty years ago. As all married women have an interest in their husbands' farms, it is probable that if all the farms were known it would be found that pretty nearly one in six of the adult population of Nebraska have a title in some land. The mortgages are in number two-thirds what they were twenty years ago. Yet the last decade is one in which we are assured that the rich are growing richer and the poor growing poorer.

Virginia is a state which most look on as stationary, but its farm values have doubled in ten years, rising from $22,500,000 to $45,000,000. Its area in farms is just half that of Nebraska and its value is one one-third, so that while the average acre in Nebraska is worth $48.50, in Virginia it is worth only $27.25. But this is the Virginia's fault. There is not an acre in Virginia which is not nearer a market, has not a greater variety of possibilities and could not produce more value per acre than an acre in Nebraska.

The extent to which property is being diffused is also apparent by the fact that one-fourth of the farms owned in Virginia, or 22,338 out of 123,666, are owned by colored men, who were slaves half a century ago. In South Carolina, where there are 64,339 farms owned, 2,572, or almost one-third, are owned by colored holders.

These three states tell their own story of an astounding increase of the value of land owned by the many, of the constant diffusion of the land, while the share owned continues steadily increasing—Philadelphia Press.
