Nine Chickens Stolen—T. B. Bolser of 1818 Chicago street reported to the police that nine chickens had been stolen from his barn sometime Sunday night.
Many Recruits Wanted—The Omaha navy recruiting station has received orders to get all recruits possible for the navy electrical school at San Francisco.
Post and Straction to Leave—The Omaha navy recruiting station will lose two of the best officers this summer.
Lieutenant Post and Past Assistant Surgeon Straction will be transferred back to ship duty within the next two months.
Talk on Housekeeping—A talk on "The Profession of Housekeeping" will be given by Mrs. M. D. Cameron, president of the Omaha Woman's club, Sunday, March 31, before the Young Women's Christian association under the auspices of the Domestic Arts and Science department.
Young People Join Church—One hundred and thirty-six young people—eighty-one young women and sixty-five young men—will be confirmed at the Kountze Memorial Lutheran church next Sunday.
Rev. O. D. Baitly, pastor of the church, has been instructing the young people for nearly five months.
Improvers to Meet—The Southwest Improvement club will meet Wednesday evening at the club rooms, Twenty-fourth and Leavenworth streets, when the reporting of Leavenworth street will be discussed.
City Engineer Craig and "Dad" Weaver, candidates for commissioner, will speak.
Troops on Easy Street—Orders have been received at the army headquarters to release the troops at Fort Crook from holding themselves in readiness to go to Mexico on immediate notice.
Conditions on the border have improved to such an extent that it is thought the troops will not be needed.
Will Talk on Illustrations—Charles R. Docherty of the Baker Bros. Engraving company will discuss the use of illustrations in advertising at the regular weekly meeting of the Omaha Ad club at the Paxton today noon.
He has been in the engraving business practically all his life and knows how all kinds of illustrations are made.
Moon is Fined—G. A. Moon, arrested Saturday night by Officer Sunko for insulting a woman, was fined $250 and costs.
He told the court that the young woman was his sweetheart and that he had not insulted her. However, the young woman's appeal to the officer that Moon was bothering her caused the court to think differently.

High School Exams This Week—The mid-semester examinations of the Omaha high school will be held Tuesday and Wednesday during the regular recitation periods, when tests in all subjects will be given under the direction of the head instructors of the various departments. These "exams" will count 25 per cent on the final grades for the first half term.
Masten Returns—J. M. Masten, superintendent of the railway mail service, with headquarters in Omaha, arrived here yesterday from Washington, D. C., where he was called by the government on business. Prior to going to Washington Mr. Masten visited every point of the fourteenth division of the mail service, which covers the states of Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado.
Radio and Radiogram—In conformity with the international usage the word "radio" will hereafter be used to designate "wireless" and "radiogram" to designate "wireless telegram" or "wireless message." This is the order which the government has sent out to all the navy and army recruiting stations in the country and an attempt will be made to have the words "radio" and "radiogram" used all over the country.
Takes Chinaman to St. Louis—United States Marshal Warner left yesterday afternoon for St. Louis with Young Sing, a Chinaman, who will be deported. Sing managed to get into this country without authority and was captured in this city. At St. Louis about thirty more Chinamen will be gathered up and will be taken to San Francisco, where they will be sent back to their home. Marshal John P. Wolfe of Chicago will have charge of the entire squad of Chinamen.

Ure Explains His Consolidated Tax

Thinking that some of the people are under a misapprehension as to what he means by a consolidated tax City Treasurer Ure replied Monday to the statement made in an unsigned letter published yesterday:
"I do not know who your correspondent is, but his complaint that in planning for a consolidated tax I am planning for a single payment is quite without foundation.
If we can arrange a consolidated tax my plan has been all the time that its operation should be by two payments, the payment of the taxes for the first half of the year to automatically delay the payment of the last half until the last half of the year.
My idea is that this would work out along two lines: First, the city and county doesn't need all the money at once. If the first half of the taxes were paid within the first half of the year half the expenses of the year would be met. And the taxes for the last half of the year would pay the expenses of the last half of the year. The payment of taxes in this manner would be easier for most people, who would prefer to make the payments in two parts."

More Indictments to Be In Wednesday

Routine police cases occupied most of the Douglas county grand jury's time Monday, the only other business being examination of three South Omaha saloon keepers in connection with charges against members of the South Omaha Board of Fire and Police Commissioners and the examination of a few witnesses regarding "ugly rumors" in Omaha.
No more indictments will be returned until Wednesday, according to members of the grand jury. Some were voted, but the grand jury decided it might as well hold them until Wednesday and save one trip to Presiding Judge Sutton's court.
In the afternoon the grand jury divided itself into four committees, each to consider the situation regarding certain investigations. The grand jury will come together again this morning and the committees will report on the sufficiency of the evidence and recommend what further steps shall be taken in the investigations.

Teeth Knocked Out Worth Dollar Each

Five teeth which Lewis Toth of Chicago lost Sunday afternoon in an altercation with Henry Kopald, proprietor of a cigar store, near the Union station, were valued at $1 each by Police Judge Foster, when he fined Kopald $250 and costs Monday morning.
Toth said he entered Kopald's place to purchase cigarette papers, and after securing them that Kopald tried to overcharge him. Both men used words and Kopald then struck Toth, knocking five molars loose. Kopald denied having sold the papers to Toth or anyone else.

Roosevelt May Come to Speak in Omaha

Colonel Roosevelt may make a speech in Omaha on his coming western trip in behalf of his candidacy for a third term, or at least he will if Colonel John O. Yeiser can induce him to come. Colonel Yeiser has been in communication with Mr. Roosevelt, who has indicated his desire to accept the invitation if he can arrange his plans to permit.

PAUL MURRAY HAS NEW WHITE HOPE IN SIGHT

A new "white hope" has sprung up and thinks he can lick Jack Johnson if he has the right kind of training, and to receive this same training he has asked Paul Murray, the local "pug," to teach him the manly art of self-defense. His name is Clyde Newlove and he hails from Portsmouth, Va. He is over six feet in height and weighs 230 pounds and says he is in the pink of condition and could battle with the best of them right now.

WOMAN ROBBED WHILE WATCHING AUTO BURN

While standing at Sixteenth and Douglas streets Monday afternoon watching a electric brougham which had caught fire, Miss Anna Reising, 221 Leavenworth street, was robbed of $250. The car was slightly damaged, the fire being extinguished by the fire department before it had got much headway. The electric belonged to Mrs. Wayne Moore.

C. U. SLATE UNDER HOT FIRE

Discord Within the Union Appears as Result of List.
NO ATTENTION PAID TO VOTE
Result of Referendum Vote Not Given Out—Candidates on the Ticket Expected to Support Each Other.

Announcement of the Citizens' union candidates for commission plan councilmen was evidently only started things. Talk of all kinds of slates are rife, and a movement is said to be on foot among members of the Citizens' union, itself, for a mass meeting of the rank and file to tell what is thought of the executive committee's slate, and to revise it downwards, upwards and crossways.
The first trouble confronting the "slate" candidates is to determine what attitude they will take with respect to one another. One man who was seeking favor with the Citizens' union, will you accept nomination from any other organization? And when he replied he wanted all the votes he could get, he received this report: "Yes, but if we nominate you on the Citizens' union ticket, will you agree to support the other six whom we nominate?"
That is the key to the situation, for all recognize the fact that unless they have other support, prospects of success will be slim. The question is whether they are so tied that they must all go up or down or together, just because they wear the same label.
That slate on its face shows that it is simply the result of wire pulling and trading between the slate-makers," declares a member of the Citizens' union.
They took what was supposed to be a referendum vote of us members to get a consensus of opinion, and then utterly ignored the referendum. Has any one seen the result of that vote I don't believe the returns were ever tabulated, nor even looked at. I dare them to tabulate and announce the vote without juggling or ballot box stuffing. Remember the howl we made about Third ward election frauds last year, and contrast it with this high-handed proceeding."
The next slate that is due is that of the Labor league, which is sure to be most striking because of the difference. It is supposed that Mayor "Jim" will be the star of this combination, and that not more than two, if that many, of the

Bids for Building Medical College to Close April Eighth

Bidding on the general contract for the construction of the medical college laboratory of the University of Nebraska to be erected at Forty-second street and Deaver avenue, Omaha, will close April 8.
Plans for the new building are completed and will be turned over to the bidders for their estimates of cost of construction. The building is to be of pressed brick and stone trimmings. The refrigerator rooms of the structure are somewhat of a departure from the usual university equipment, the plans calling for several rooms to be kept constantly at certain temperatures for fever patients. It is expected that excavation work will begin before spring is over.

Two Grips Found, Others Missing

Frank Lucas was given seventy days in jail by Judge Foster for larceny of two suitcases belonging to Irvin Spencer, a traveling man from Los Angeles, in the Burlington depot Sunday. Both grips were recovered, Lucas having checked one at the depot and the other he was endeavoring to sell when arrested.
The police are doubtful whether they can recover for Miss Helen Jess, a student at the University of Nebraska, her handbag, which was also stolen Sunday. It contained $50, jewelry and her ticket. She had the bag hung over her arm and did not miss the bag until later. The officers are searching for the thieves who stole grips from William Berg of Sioux City, E. A. Tynan, 320 Harney street, and E. A. Lyman, Cody, Wyo.

Negro's Smile Gains Him Release from Jail

The ability of Bob Hamilton, negro, to smile broadly throughout his trial in police court Monday for stealing coal from the Illinois Central railroad won his release. Judge Foster sentenced him to thirty days in jail and then suspended sentence.

Many Men Still Seek Work of Any Kind

Sixty volunteer workers and the office force of the Associated Charities are unable to find employment for a large number of men. The people have been asked to supply all odd jobs they can.
"These men who have applied within the last few days really want work," said Secretary Jontz. "Sometimes a man comes when the ground is covered with two feet of snow and insists that he wants a job mowing lawns. Then in the spring they want to shovel snow when the snow is gone and the grass is green.
"Some men are willing to work and are not ashamed to take any job that will help them to earn a little money for themselves and their families."

MANY BIDS ASKED FOR AT POSTOFFICE THIS WEEK

This is bidders' week at the postoffice. Bids were opened Monday afternoon on the reducing valve to relieve the tank in the strapping for over 300 windows at the postoffice building. Bids will be opened for the contract of taking the cupola off the building and raising the ceiling of the workroom over two feet. Bids for a smokestack will be opened Thursday afternoon. Friday afternoon bids will be opened for the furnishing of cases for the "Nixie" department.
